OHIO

This is Ohio University. A green campus all the year round, splattered occasionally during the winter with sweeping snow. Green and white, the colors of the school. And, almost always, rain, rain, rain. But whether the sun shines or not, the chimes from Cutler Tower always remind you that this is a place of learning where all our yesterdays are taken into account today that there might be a better tomorrow. Then, once a year, the college songs from the Tower give way to the good cheer of Christmas and the evenings are filled with carols sung by hundreds of soft, sweet voices. The chimes are augmented by the song of spring when the flowers bloom, the trees turn green once more and the campus green is filled with students enjoying the warmth of the sun. Finally, the year ends and the graduates depart to take their places in the world.

Lilting Memories . . . . .

Music set the mood on the campus this year: serious, soft, lively, melodious, inspiring. George Shearing, Woody Herman, Fred Waring, the glee clubs, the choirs, the orchestras, the dances. Jazz, symphonies, marches, spirituals, carols, concertos, you name it. And the music of yesterday, today and tomorrow, summed up in the Musical Omnibus, which featured songs from "The Green Adventure," the Civil War times, the Gay Nineties and the two world wars.

THE END OF THE SESQUI

Paying a tribute to the men who founded Ohio University in 1804, the sesquicentennial celebrations drew to a close with the biggest events ever. During Homecoming, there was the final staging of "The Green Adventure," a play written especially for the sesquicentennial by novelist Charles Allen Smart, and a fireworks display. IFC and Pan-Hel sponsored the Woody Herman concert, with the proceeds of the show going to the alumni Sesquicentennial Scholarship Fund. Even Woody Herman himself contributed a part of his takings toward the Fund. Even as early as fall, the Fund itself had more than doubled its original goal of $150,000. The last of the four official observances of the sesquicentennial was the Conference on Higher Education. It was attended by over 200 educators from 130 institutions who discussed problems that will face colleges and universities in Ohio and the U.S. during the next 10 or 15 years. The main feature of the Conference was a convocation with Harold E. Stassen, Foreign Operation Administrative director, speaking on "Education and Freedom." With the sesquicentennial celebrations over, Ohio University entered its 151st year.

FACING YESTERDAY . . . . .

Behind Memorial Auditorium is a sundial, marking the place where the first building stood at Ohio University. It was the Academy Building. The oldest building on the campus, however, is Cutler Hall, built in 1816. Then, with the succeeding years, other buildings were added. McGuffey Hall, Wilson Hall, the Library, Memorial Auditorium. While these buildings still exist, the men who built them are gone. Only their names remain, great men whose ambitions, toil and sweat were for the coming generations who want to learn. Their history is written into what the campus is today, their efforts will serve those who are still to come tomorrow.

The old faces the new. Across the campus Cutler Hall smiles briefly and knows the passing of time and customs. The buildings around Cutler silently serve the ideals of learning. Silent footfalls of the past echo in their halls. These footfalls are not heard in the latest buildings—the Ohio University Center and the new dormitories. For they speak only of the present. They were added to this campus today and will take their place with the others to serve those who come tomorrow.

Voigt Hall was still under construction when the girls moved in

..... FACING TOMORROW

Although Ohio University's long-range building program is still in its infancy, it has already brought to the campus a new, rejuvenated appearance. Typical examples of the Ohio University of tomorrow are Voigt Hall and the recently completed men's dormitories on East Green. The men living on the green will carry away from graduation nostalgic memories of being awakened at seven in the morning by the sound of a bulldozer warming up for the day's activity, demolishing the old temporary housing structures. Gradually, Bush, Biddle, Perkins, Read, and Voigt rose slowly out of the depths of the campus to stand finally as classic symbols of a growing, prosperous university. And more and more building are appearing .....

Yesterday, today or tomorrow, the snow will continue to come, softly, silently, secretly, bringing with it a beautiful white world. Then, slowly, the snows would melt and new life would appear . . . and the warm sun and green grass.

And then there are classes . . . . .

Work! Work! Work! Learn! Learn! Learn! When everything piles up and we have 48 hours work and just 24 hours in which to do it, these words may describe student life. There are class assignments to complete, chapters to be read, drawings to be made, speeches to prepare, words to be learned, themes to be written, papers to be prepared, theses to be completed. And yet the assignments continue to pour in.

Multiply 5000 students by an average of three hours of work per day and you have the time extent of two years encompassed in a single day. Multiply 5000 students by at least one page-written per week and you have 20 average sized books completed. The paper, the ink, the pencils utilized run into thousands of dollars. The effort, the thinking and the learning cannot be measured.

But, and it's a big BUT, there is more to the description than this. Lulls do come (and if they don't come, the students make them!) so that they can enjoy the fun that is so much a part of college life.

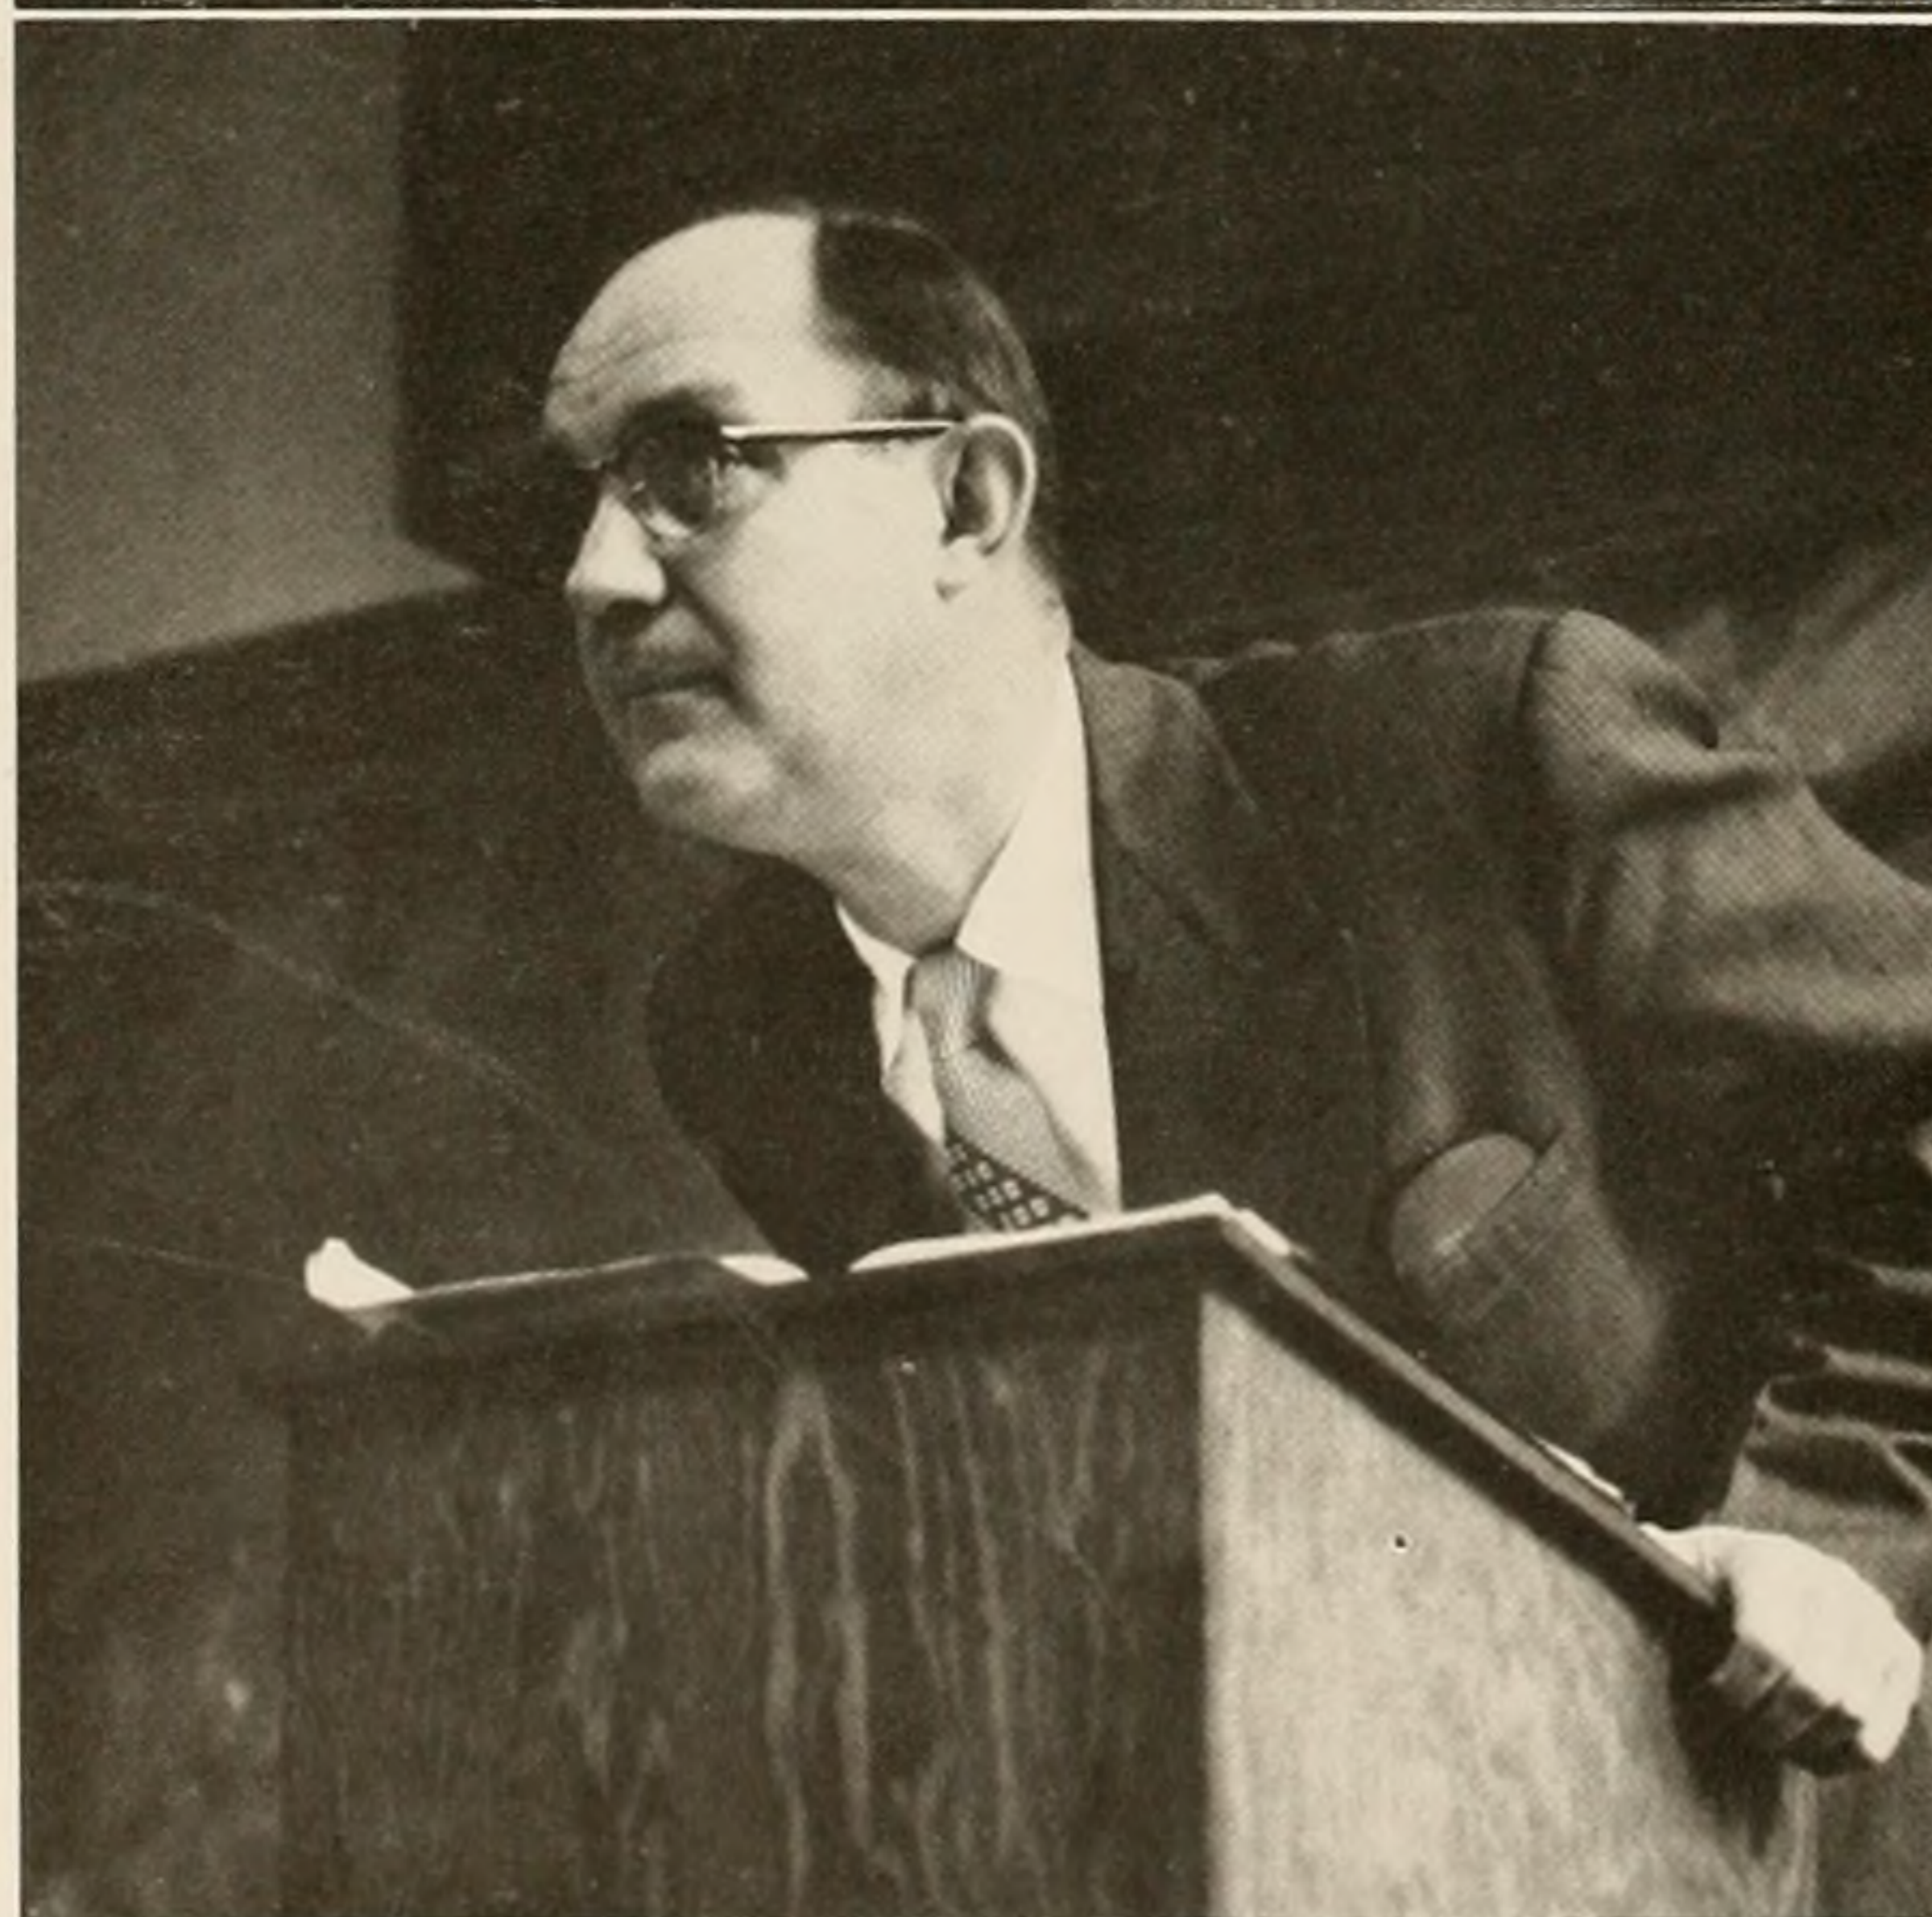

"Just a few words regarding final examination, it will cover pages 222 to 999."

"If you know the material covered on those pages you should have no trouble."

"You mean to say you read that in our text?"

REPEAT:

"From now on I will be taking roll and all I require is that you be here or else . . . ."

"For your next assignment, I want you to write 5000 words on . . . . ."

"A very logical statement Mr. Smith, but . . . . ."

CLASSES

"I can count on my fingers the points covered during the last fifteen lectures. One . . . . ."

"Why didn't I take up plumbing or sell razor blades like I always wanted to."

He serves those who learn . . . . . . . . . . that they may serve mankind

For ten years, John C. Baker has been president of Ohio University. During that time and due to his efforts, the University has risen in prominence, the campus has expanded, the enrollment has increased and more scholarships are available for the students in need. Fifteen new buildings have been added to the campus as a result of the extensive building program which he has promoted during his administration. Yet, he finds time to become acquainted with students and faculty alike. Occasionally, you will find him taking his usual evening walk and he will stop at a dormitory or at the Center to talk with students.

He has contributed to learning in more ways than one. Last summer, he was a delegate to the UNESCO conference in Switzerland. Apart from this, he takes active part in many phases of higher learning.

But close to his heart is Ohio University and its purpose in equipping the citizens of tomorrow. "What interests me most," he said, "are the students and the people who support this University and continually work for its betterment."

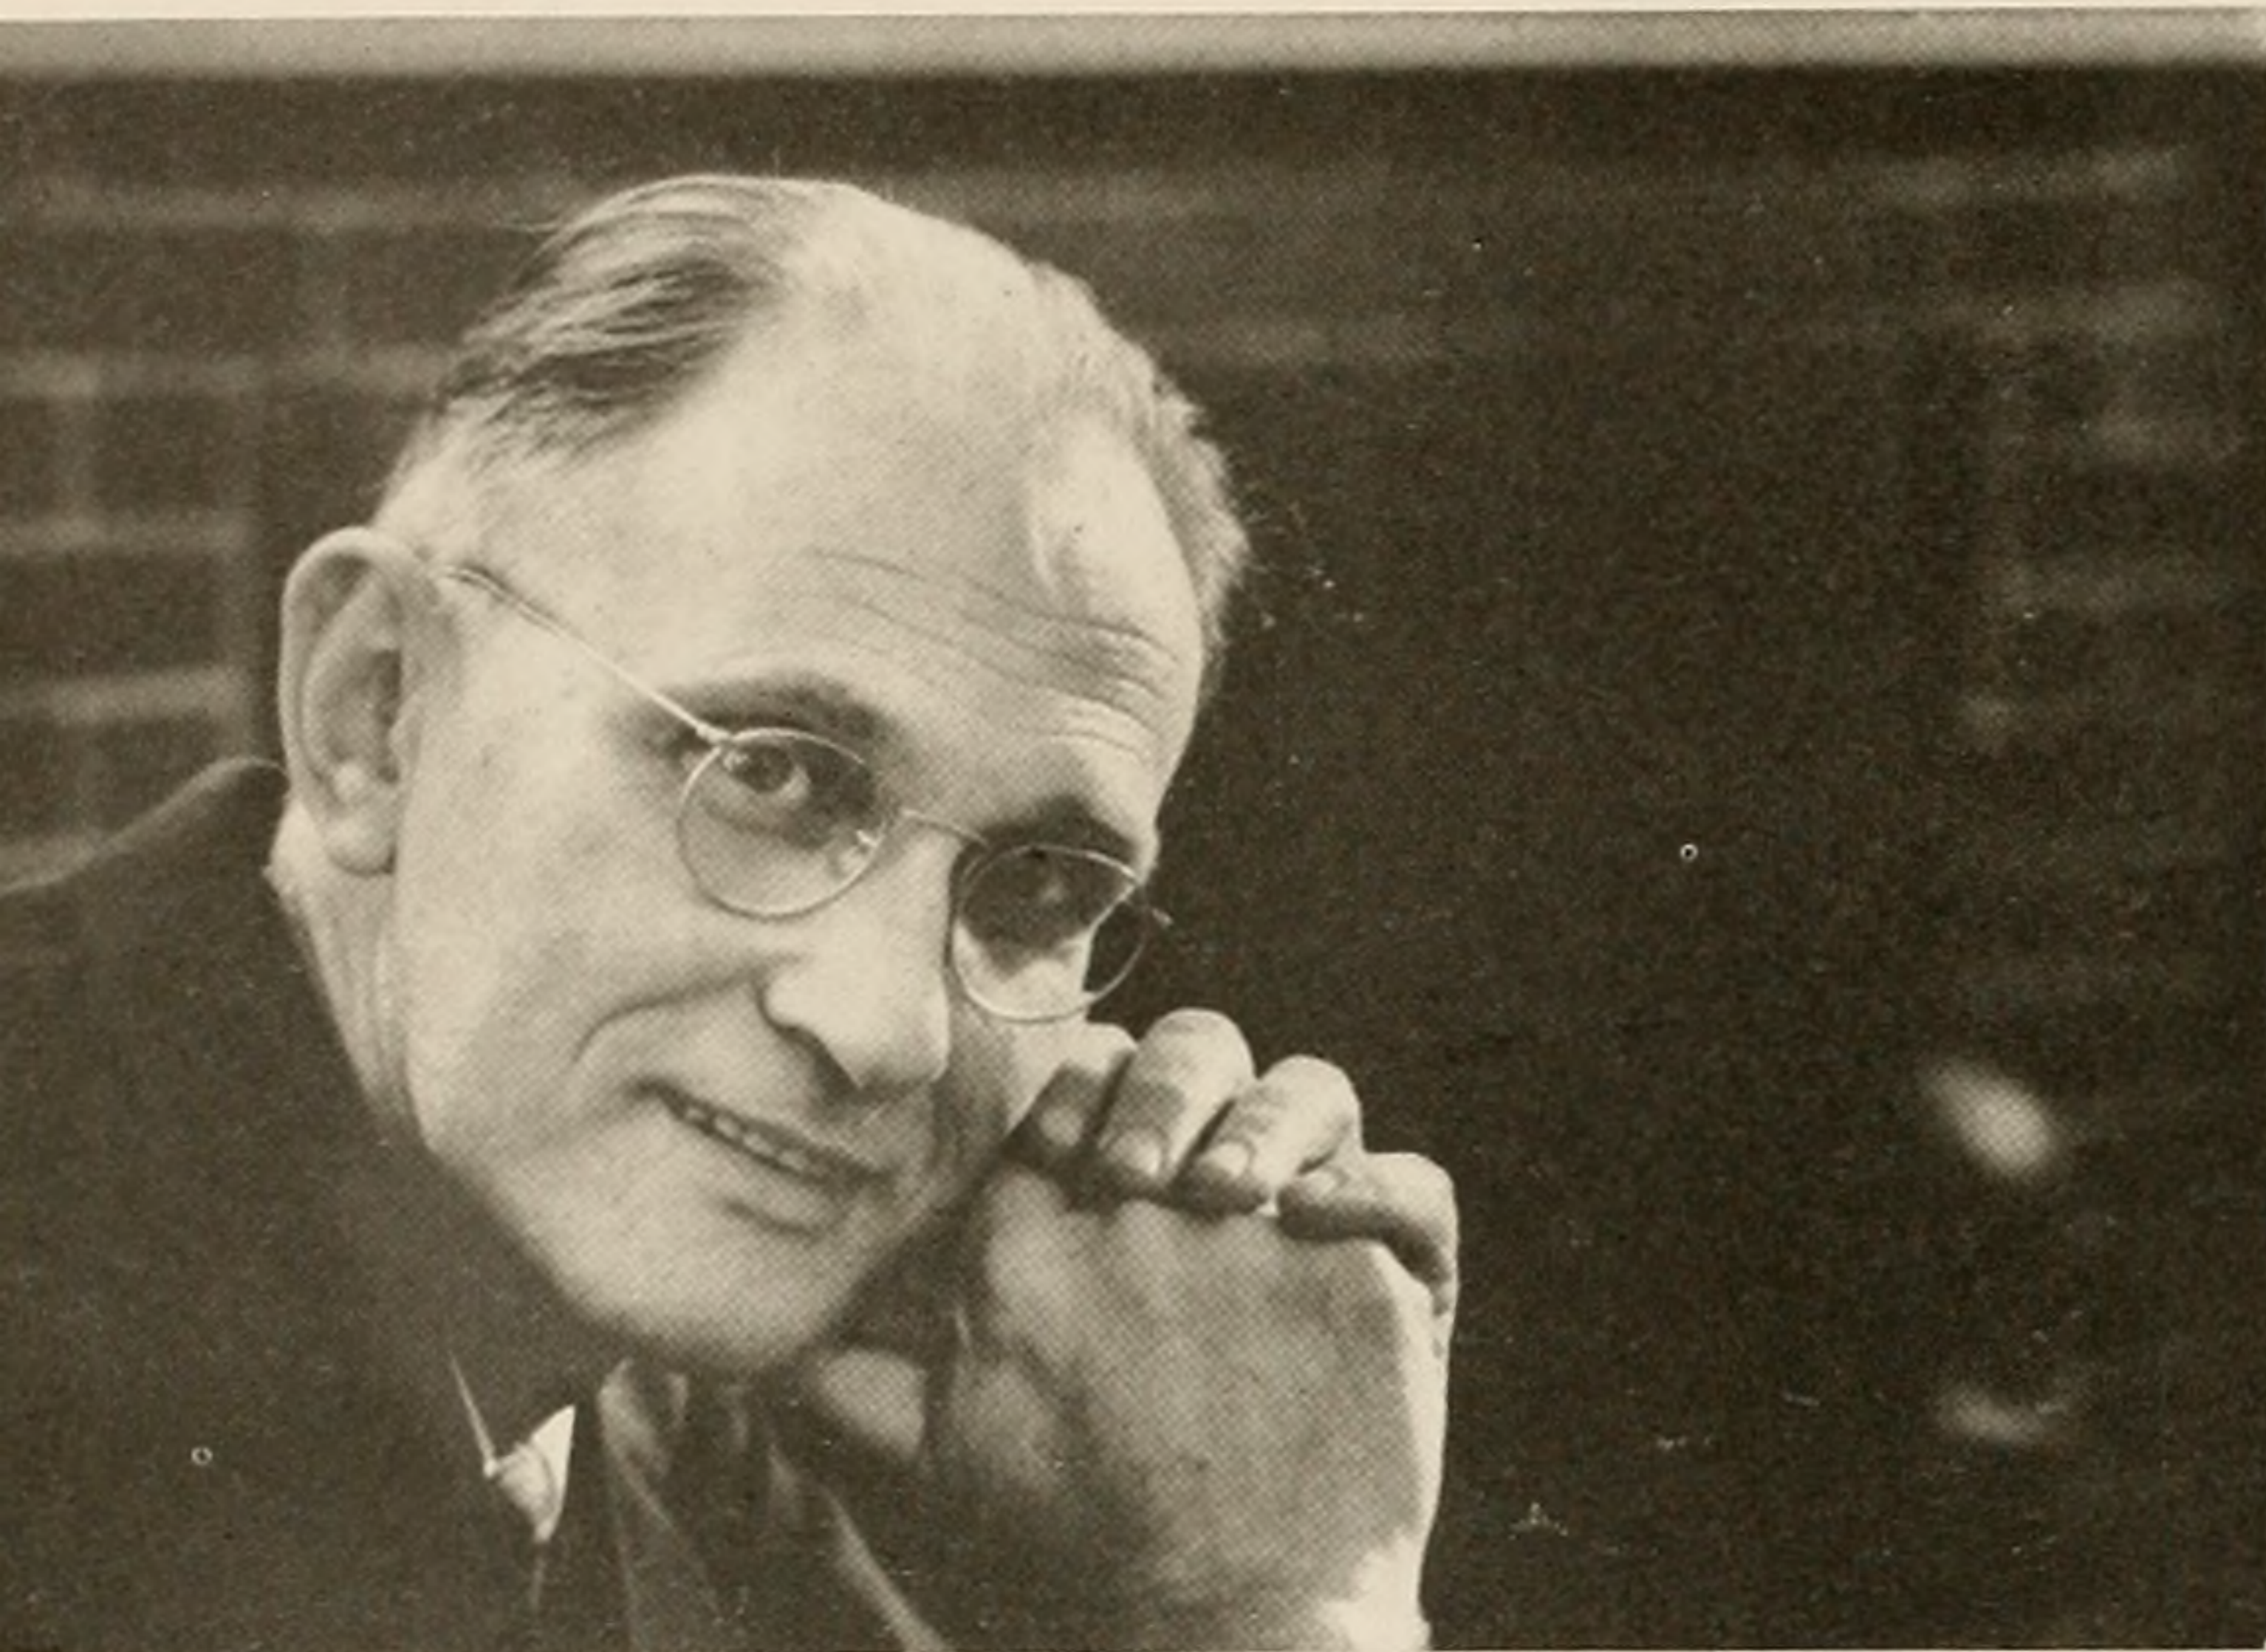

Dr. John C. Baker

MINDS THAT GUIDE

H. E. Benz
Dean of Education

These are the men who guide the students during their stay at Ohio University. With the help of counselors and advisers, they guide the students in preparing their program of studies and assisting them in the academic phase of their college lives.

Rush Elliott
Dean of Arts and Sciences

Clark E. Myers
Dean of Commerce

E. J. Taylor
Dean of Applied Science

Gaige B. Paulsen
Dean of University College

Earl C. Seigfred
Dean of Fine Arts

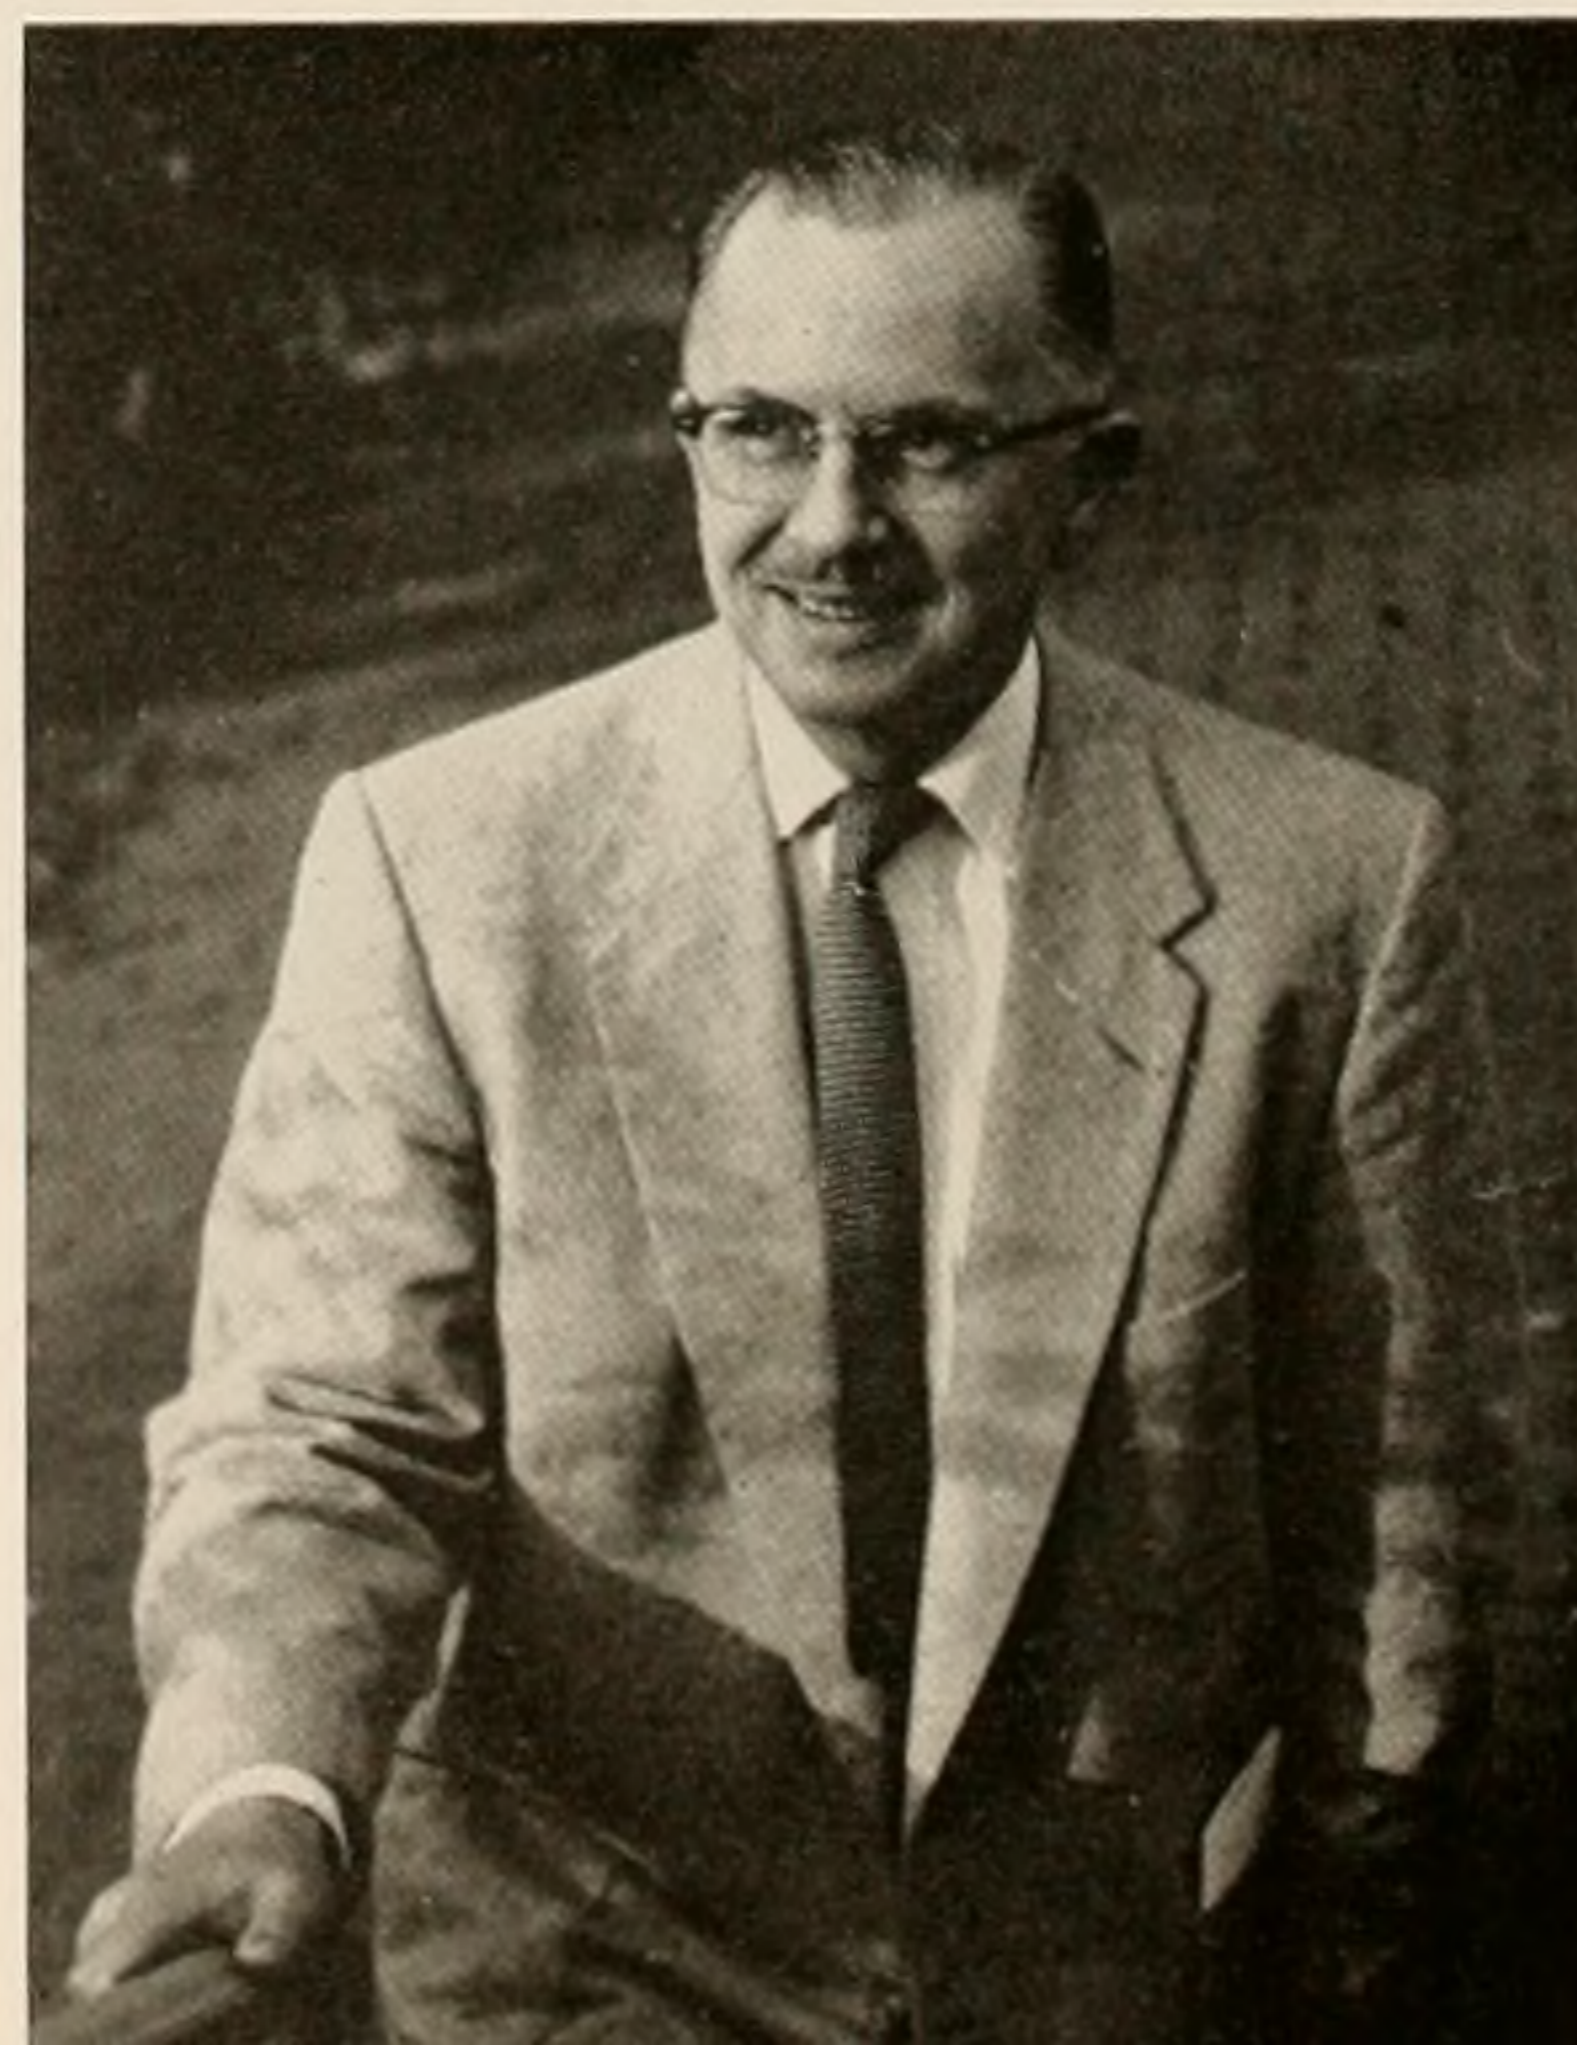

"Hello there," has become the trade mark of Ohio University's Dean of Men. Dean Maurel Hunkins, who is in his eighth year as dean of men, never misses a chance to greet students. His cheery words, pleasing smiles and personal nod of the head often makes a freshman forget his homesickness for a while, ease the worry of a coming exam for a sophomore, erase the problem of a junior or make a senior a little more proud that he is a student at Ohio University.

Few students today know that the Dean, upon his arrival at OU as Dean of Men, also coached the tennis team and won several summer tennis tournaments. He was also member of the violin section of the symphony orchestra.

MINDS THAT HELP

Joseph H. Dando
Assistant Dean of Men

Greeting with a warm smile all who visit her office on the second floor of McGuffey Hall, Dean Margaret Deppen characterizes the friendliness of the Ohio University administration. Despite her full schedule of business and social activities, Miss Deppen welcomes any opportunity to become acquainted with the students, whether it be at Women's League functions, dinner in the girls' dorms, or a casual visit in her office. In Miss Deppen may be found a sympathetic friend to whom students can bring their problems.

Naturally, Miss Deppen's primary interests center around the college and its students. But she also enjoys golf on the new OU course, as well as reading or playing bridge.

AND PLAYTIME . . .

Dying-summer hot, early-autumn days when the streets and walks are boiling over with flailing limbs of many persons, and school begins again to rush along the hurdled path to June.

Freshman Week takes a tentative, apprehensive step and crescendos toward the Registration Hop when the dancers meet each other for the first time.

Couples wade hand-in-hand through puddles of fallen, pastel leaves, smiling. The whole world shouts at the parade of flowered floats. The parties and then the next day . . . oh, well.

Concerts, shows, sesquicentennial celebrations; and then it is Thanksgiving, and thanks are given.

The season slips into an ermine jerkin, and the Green is decorated as if it were a large Christmas tree. Christmas, New Year's Eve.

Back to the books with memories of cherry-sparkled yule logs. Exams . . . books are bought and sold because another semester is here.

A torch flaming against a grey weather and Greek Week livens things up again.

Nature yawns and wakes with a luxuriant gesture. And so does the J-Prom spirit.

The lake becomes popular again. Studying and strolling on the green, down at the field and across the river. Sure, Spring.

It is more difficult to cram for exams this time, but it must be done. There is a lot of rain now. Violets among the Hocking are drowned.

June announces heated approach of summer, bringing with it graduation among other things . . . and the Seniors stroll into the sunrise.

The beginning of a number of contributions by the latest class

FROSH WEEK: THE BEGINNING

Rushing at the sororities

A fashion show for the women

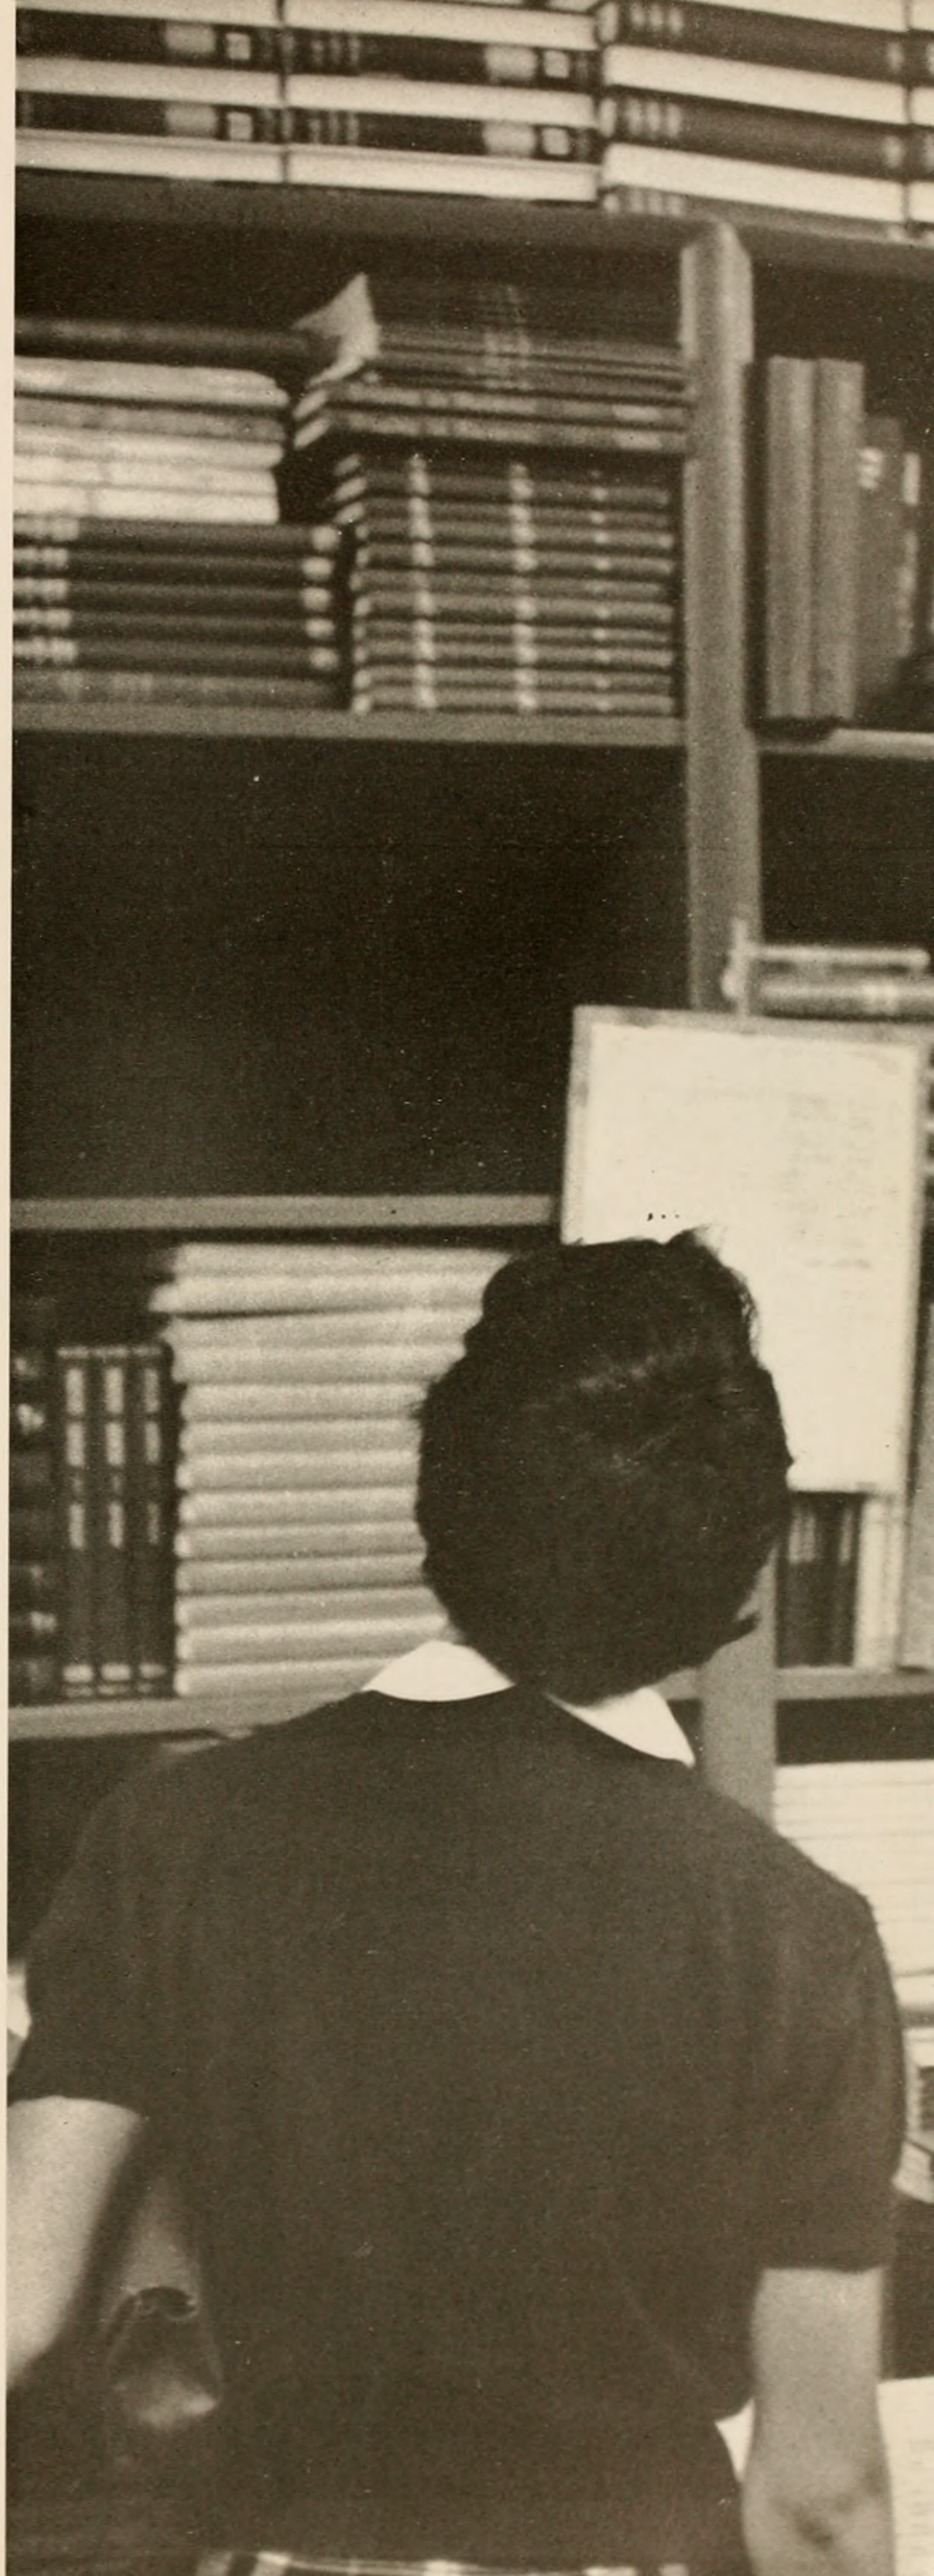

Freshman Week . . . tingling excitement kin to stage-fright . . . that first night in the dorm when everyone wonders, with pangs of homesickness punctuated by laughters and joking . . . the innumerable mimeographed sheets filled with garbled orders: shots to be taken, meetings to attend, awe-inspiring counseling appointments . . . sorority rushing, rushing in the truest sense of the word . . . registration, when no one knows exactly what to do . . . book-buying expeditions . . . the Freshman Mixer, the big once-over . . . the first nervous college date . . . and, most of all, the wonderful feeling of becoming a "we."

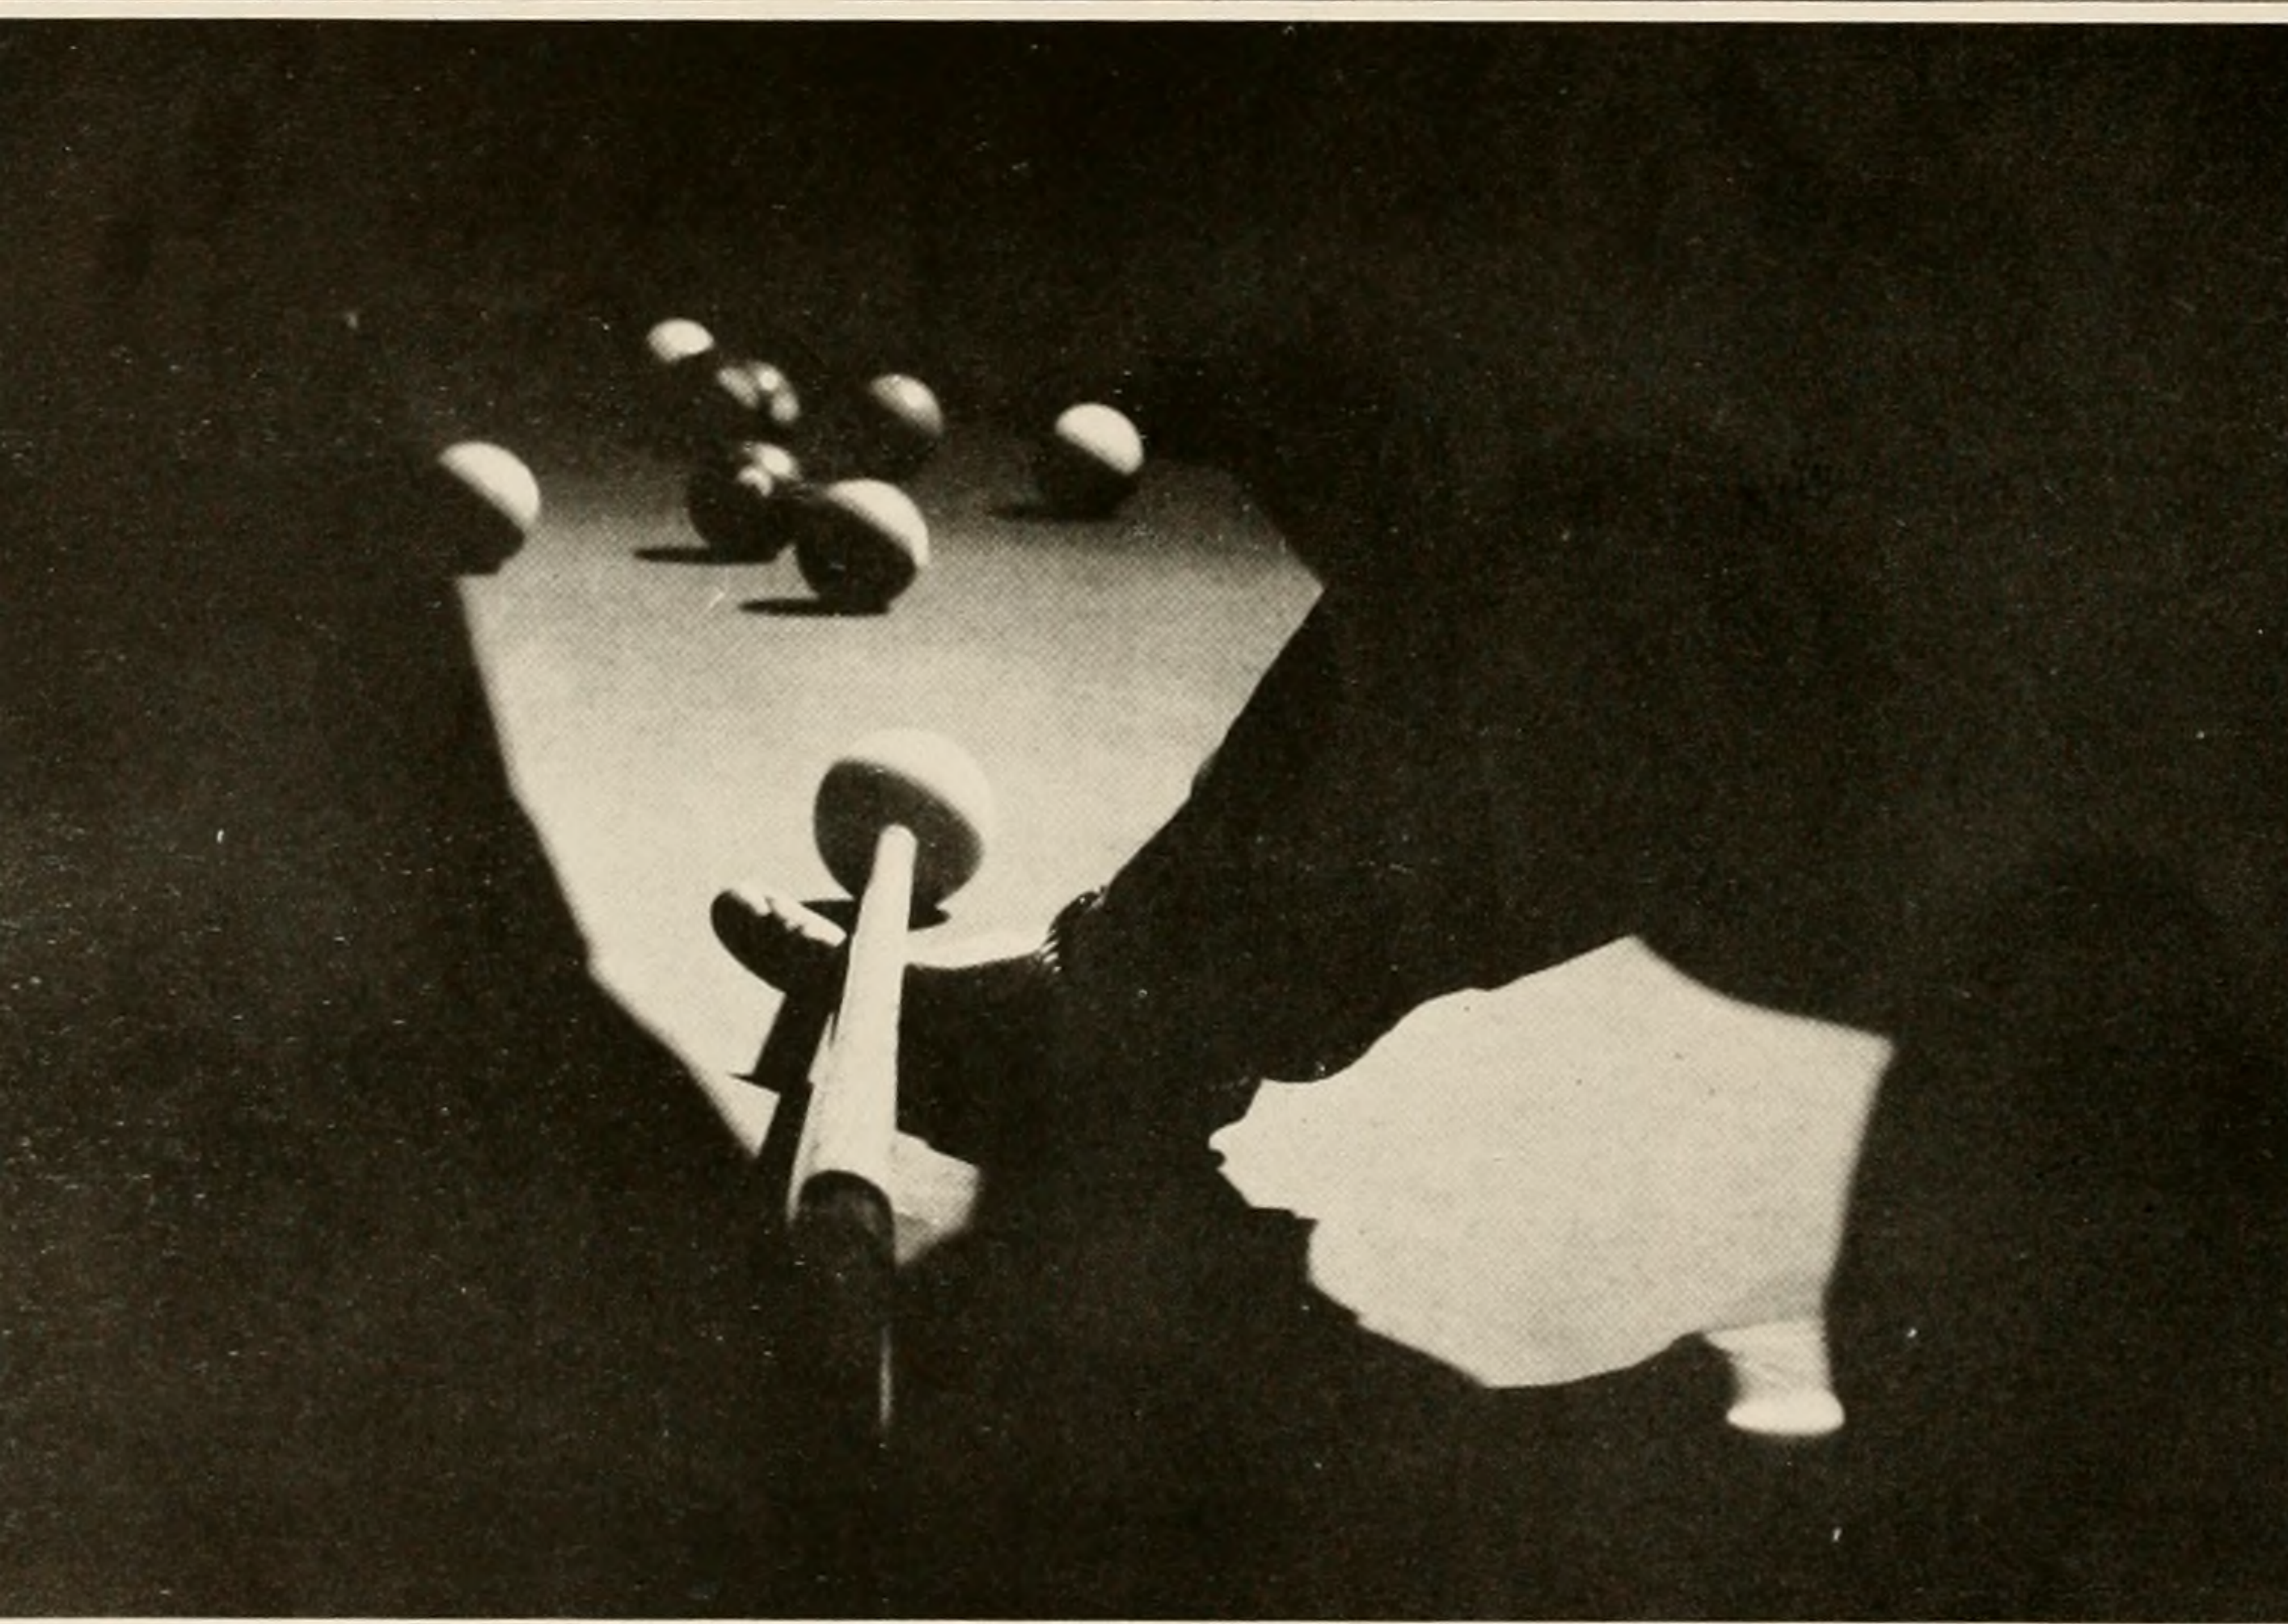

Registration-time problems

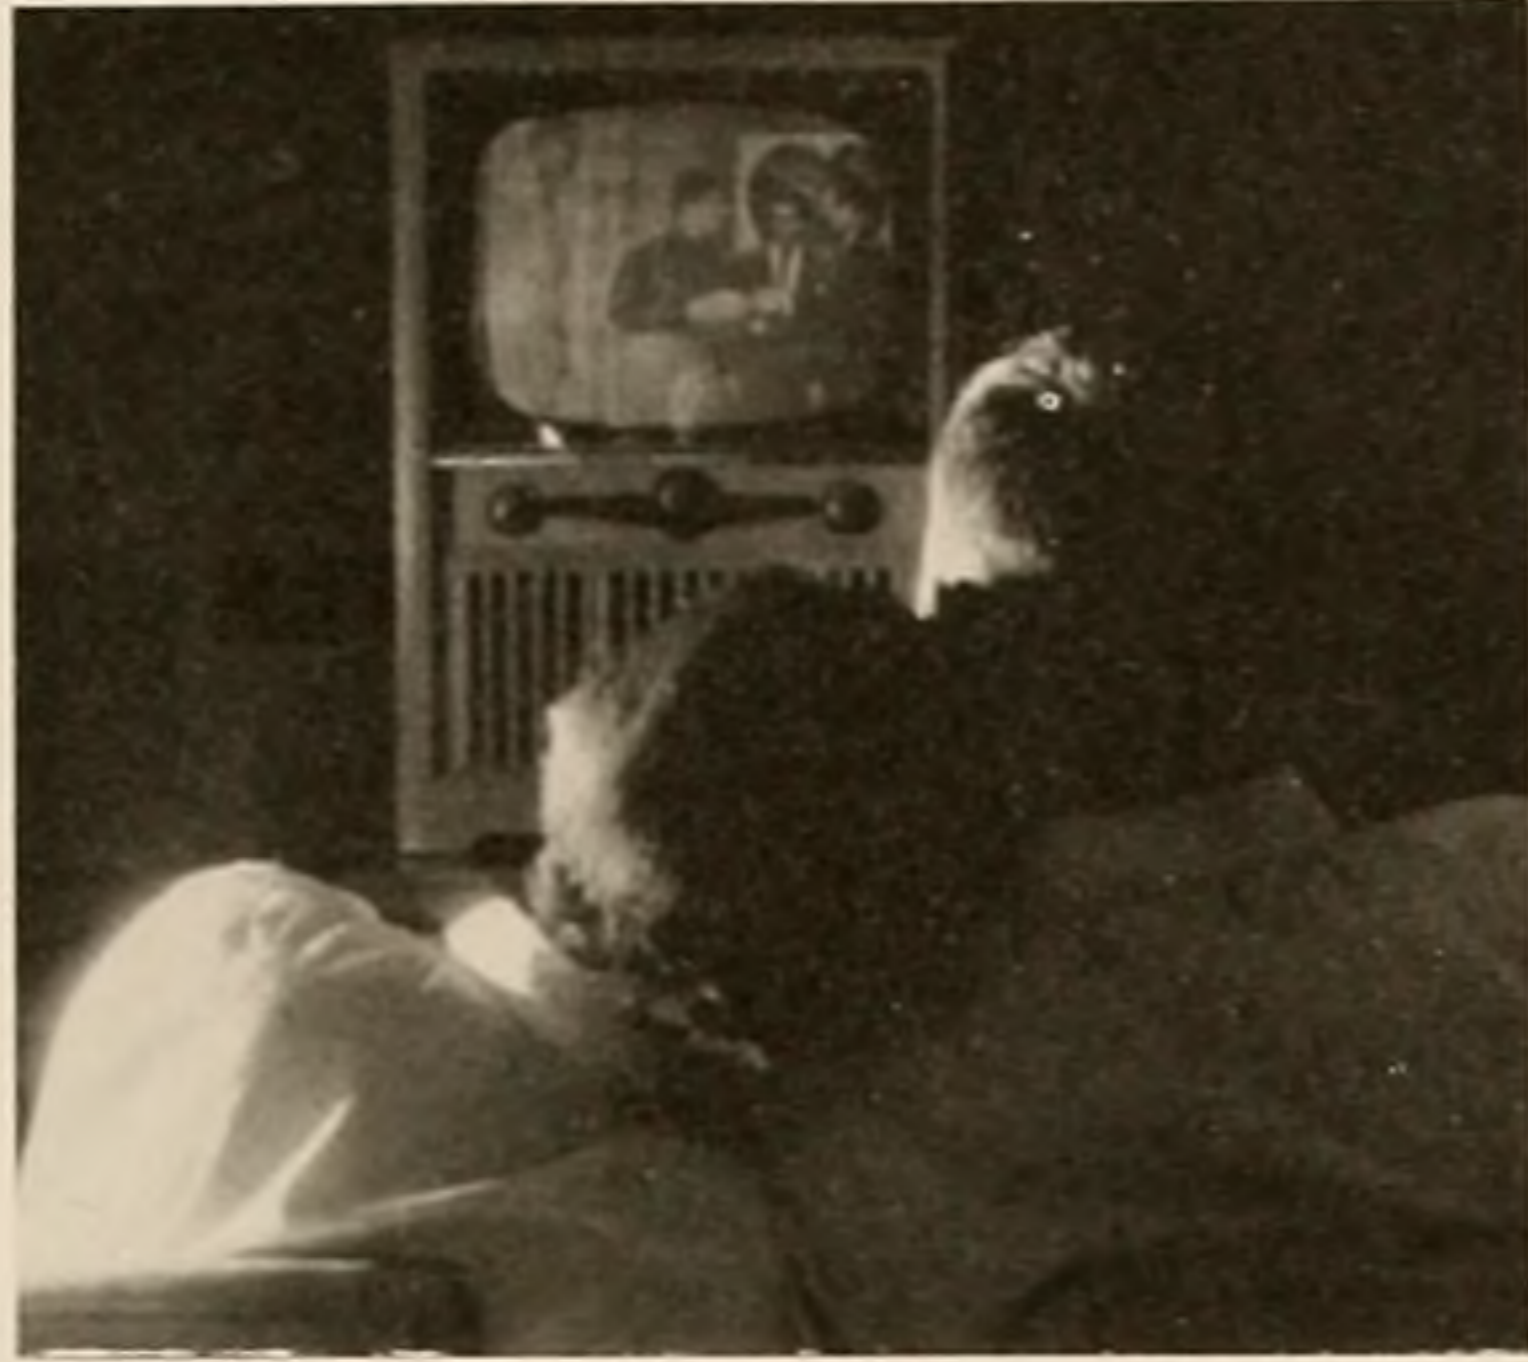

Class-schedule problems

From the 1954 Lounge, a place of casual sophistication, to the ping-pong and billiard tables and bowling alley, the Center is the hub of campus life. The piano in the 1804 Lounge appropriately responds to a soft minuet or breaks into a strident jazz that forces those who sit nearby to unwillingly tap their feet in time to the music. Students pause to glance into the deserted ballroom during the day and picture mentally how it appeared on the night of the big dance. With its candles and checkered table-cloths, the Cavern is a wonderful spot for a chat with your date.

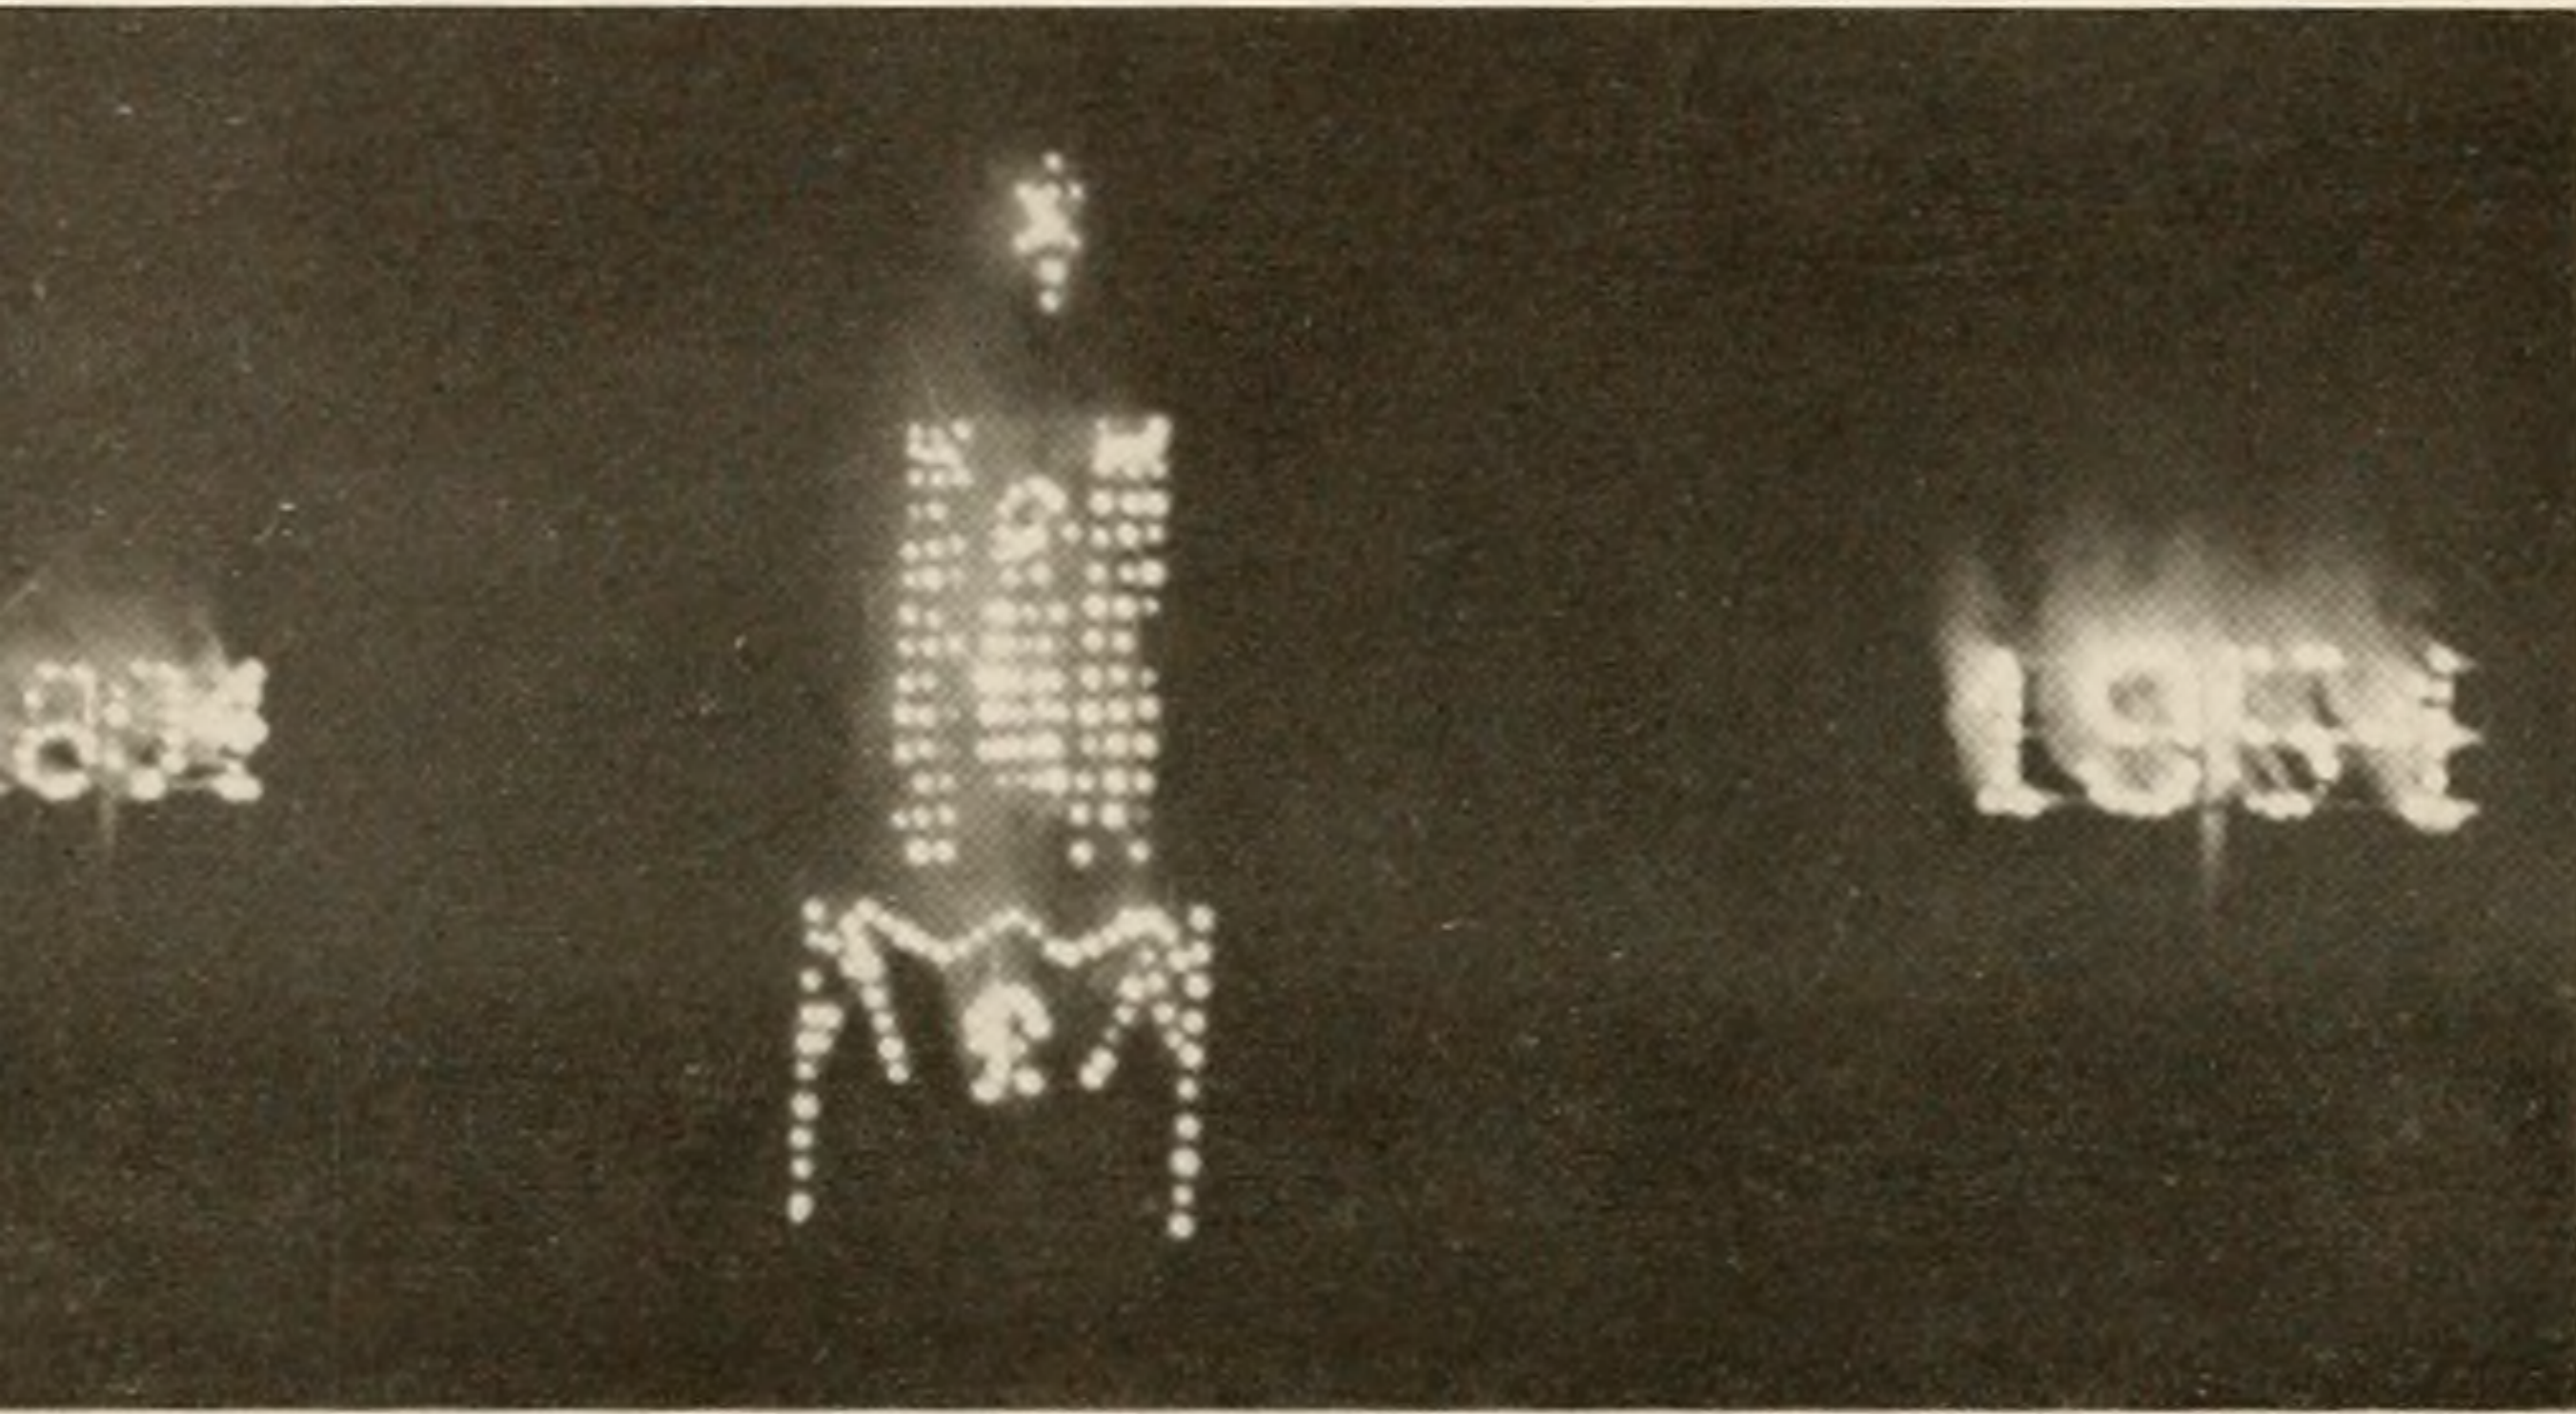

The music blaring from the juke-box, the clink of coffee cups between classes and the laughter is the Frontier Room—a good place to forget classes and humanly complain about everything to your friends.

TIME OUT FROM STUDYING...FOR RELAXATION

A SESQUICENTENNIAL HOMECOMING

This year it was a Sesquicentennial Homecoming, with a record alumni attendance and added attractions. Fireworks blazed the dark sky with outlines of Cutler Tower, founders Putnam and Cutler, an interlocking OU, a block 150 with elm leaves, and a football with images of the Ohio Bobcats and Miami Redskins. The Redskins won the football game. But then there were other events to liven up the spirits. This year there were two Homecoming dances: one at the Center and the other at the Men's Gym. The fireworks, the floats (two parades, one in the morning and the other at the stadium), the awards, the queens and the alumni (friends and strangers) made this a Homecoming that will not be forgotten for a very, very long time to come.

The Floats, the Queen & the Dances

Barbara Janke, Boyd, and Sandy Baron, AEPi.

SPECIAL EDITION! EXTRA! EXTRA!

The newsboys' cries echoed in the form of music at the annual Newspaper Ball, the first big dance of Ohio University's social year. Sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional men's journalism fraternity, the Ball introduced a new campus band, "The Ohioans." The music was good, the night warm but the ballroom air-conditioned and the special edition become a special night in the lives of many of the couples to be long remembered, thanks to the efforts of Ralph Brem who made the dance a success.

MIGRATION DAY

More than 500 OU students sat in the stadium at Clarke Field, Western Reserve, on October 9, beating off the chilling gusts of wind as they cheered their team to a 37-0 win over the Red Cats.

As the final gun ended the battle, Bobcats dashed from the field, victorious smiles on their faces for the faithful five hundred who had migrated from Athens for the annual trek after the team. Some held up three fingers, signifying the Bobcats' third straight win while others shouted, "One more week over Kent!"

Coach Widdoes, however, stood by his guns, reminding the team, "Let's play 'em one at a time."

POWDER BOWL

"We won! We won!" This was the cry at the Alpha Xi Delta house after the Powder Bowl game as the Fuzzies achieved a long standing goal and sent the Pi Beta Phi team down to defeat, 7-0. The game, which received national coverage by a newsreel and Sports Illustrated, netted $700 for the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund. A record crowd of 1650 saw senior halfback Barbi Watson dash 35 yards around left end for the Alpha Xi touchdown. A pass by Dietz Dengler was complete for the extra point. This year's game saw the first Powder Bowl score since 1951. The record now stands at two wins for the Pi Phis and one for the Alpha Xis. Five games have ended in a tie.

The pains of defeat.

What price glory!

Go, gal, go!

Reigning over the whole affair was Don Carew of Sigma Chi, this year's Powder Bowl king. On the court were Lou Bartlett of Phi Kappa Tau and Jim Green of Beta Theta Pi.

CHRISTMAS, A SILENT, HOLY NIGHT

Christmas at college . . . candlelight softens the faces of coeds and collegians as they sing the age-old songs of the season to their fellow students . . . the campus glows with a special glow created by the lights of the trees decorated with care, and a feeling of warmth and happiness prevails . . .

Christmas is a giving time. Organizations, fraternities, and sororities annually sponsor parties for the underprivileged and help to make others happy through their efforts . . .

And there is always snow at Christmas, providing just the right atmosphere for the Yuletide activities at OU . . .

There was snow for Christmas season, 1955. There was also a special program for the student body, provided by Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians, who entertained a capacity audience in Memorial Auditorium.

MILITARY BALL

This is the Military Ball:

Underneath an arch of shining sabres, Miss Barbara Lanphear, honorary colonel for Military Ball, is presented at intermission of the annual affair.

Miss Lanphear and her attendants are escorted to the bandstand by the commanding officers of the four sponsoring organizations, Arnold Air Society, Pershing Rifles, Scabbard and Blade, and Air Command Squadron.

Exhibits representing the Army and Air Force are on display in the Center in connection with the event, and honor guards are stationed at the front door.

Honorary Colonel Barbara Lanphear, her court and their escorts. John Clifford; Jane Wisby, Alpha Gam; Tom Baker; Colonel Lanphear, ADPi; Sydney Overman, Chi O; and Fred Hoskins.

PREP FOLLIES

After weeks of rehearsal, the pledges of campus sororities brought to life centuries of dance as they presented the annual production of Prep Follies. Everything from the minuet to the jazz age was portrayed by the girls as they proved their worth as true hoofers in an evening's entertainment.

On an evening, a torch is lit and carried by the traditional marathon run from Logan to Athens, a total of 26 miles. Greek Week has begun. There are open houses, exchange dinners, panel discussions, and the Comic Field Day, with its numerous—and humorous—contests, where competition is keen, but all in fun.

Then there is the Greek Week Dance, featuring Count Basie and his orchestra, the big parade, the Queen carried on shoulders in traditional Greek style, and the Carnival, a week of entertainment and fun, with a practical side, too, for the proceeds go to the Sesqui Scholarship Fund.

Reigning as Queen of Greek Week, '55, was Miss Barbara Jones of Phi Mu, a modern-day Venus for OU.

THE PRESIDENT'S BALL

The first annual President's Ball was held this year, and its introduction to campus activities meant an added institution at OU.

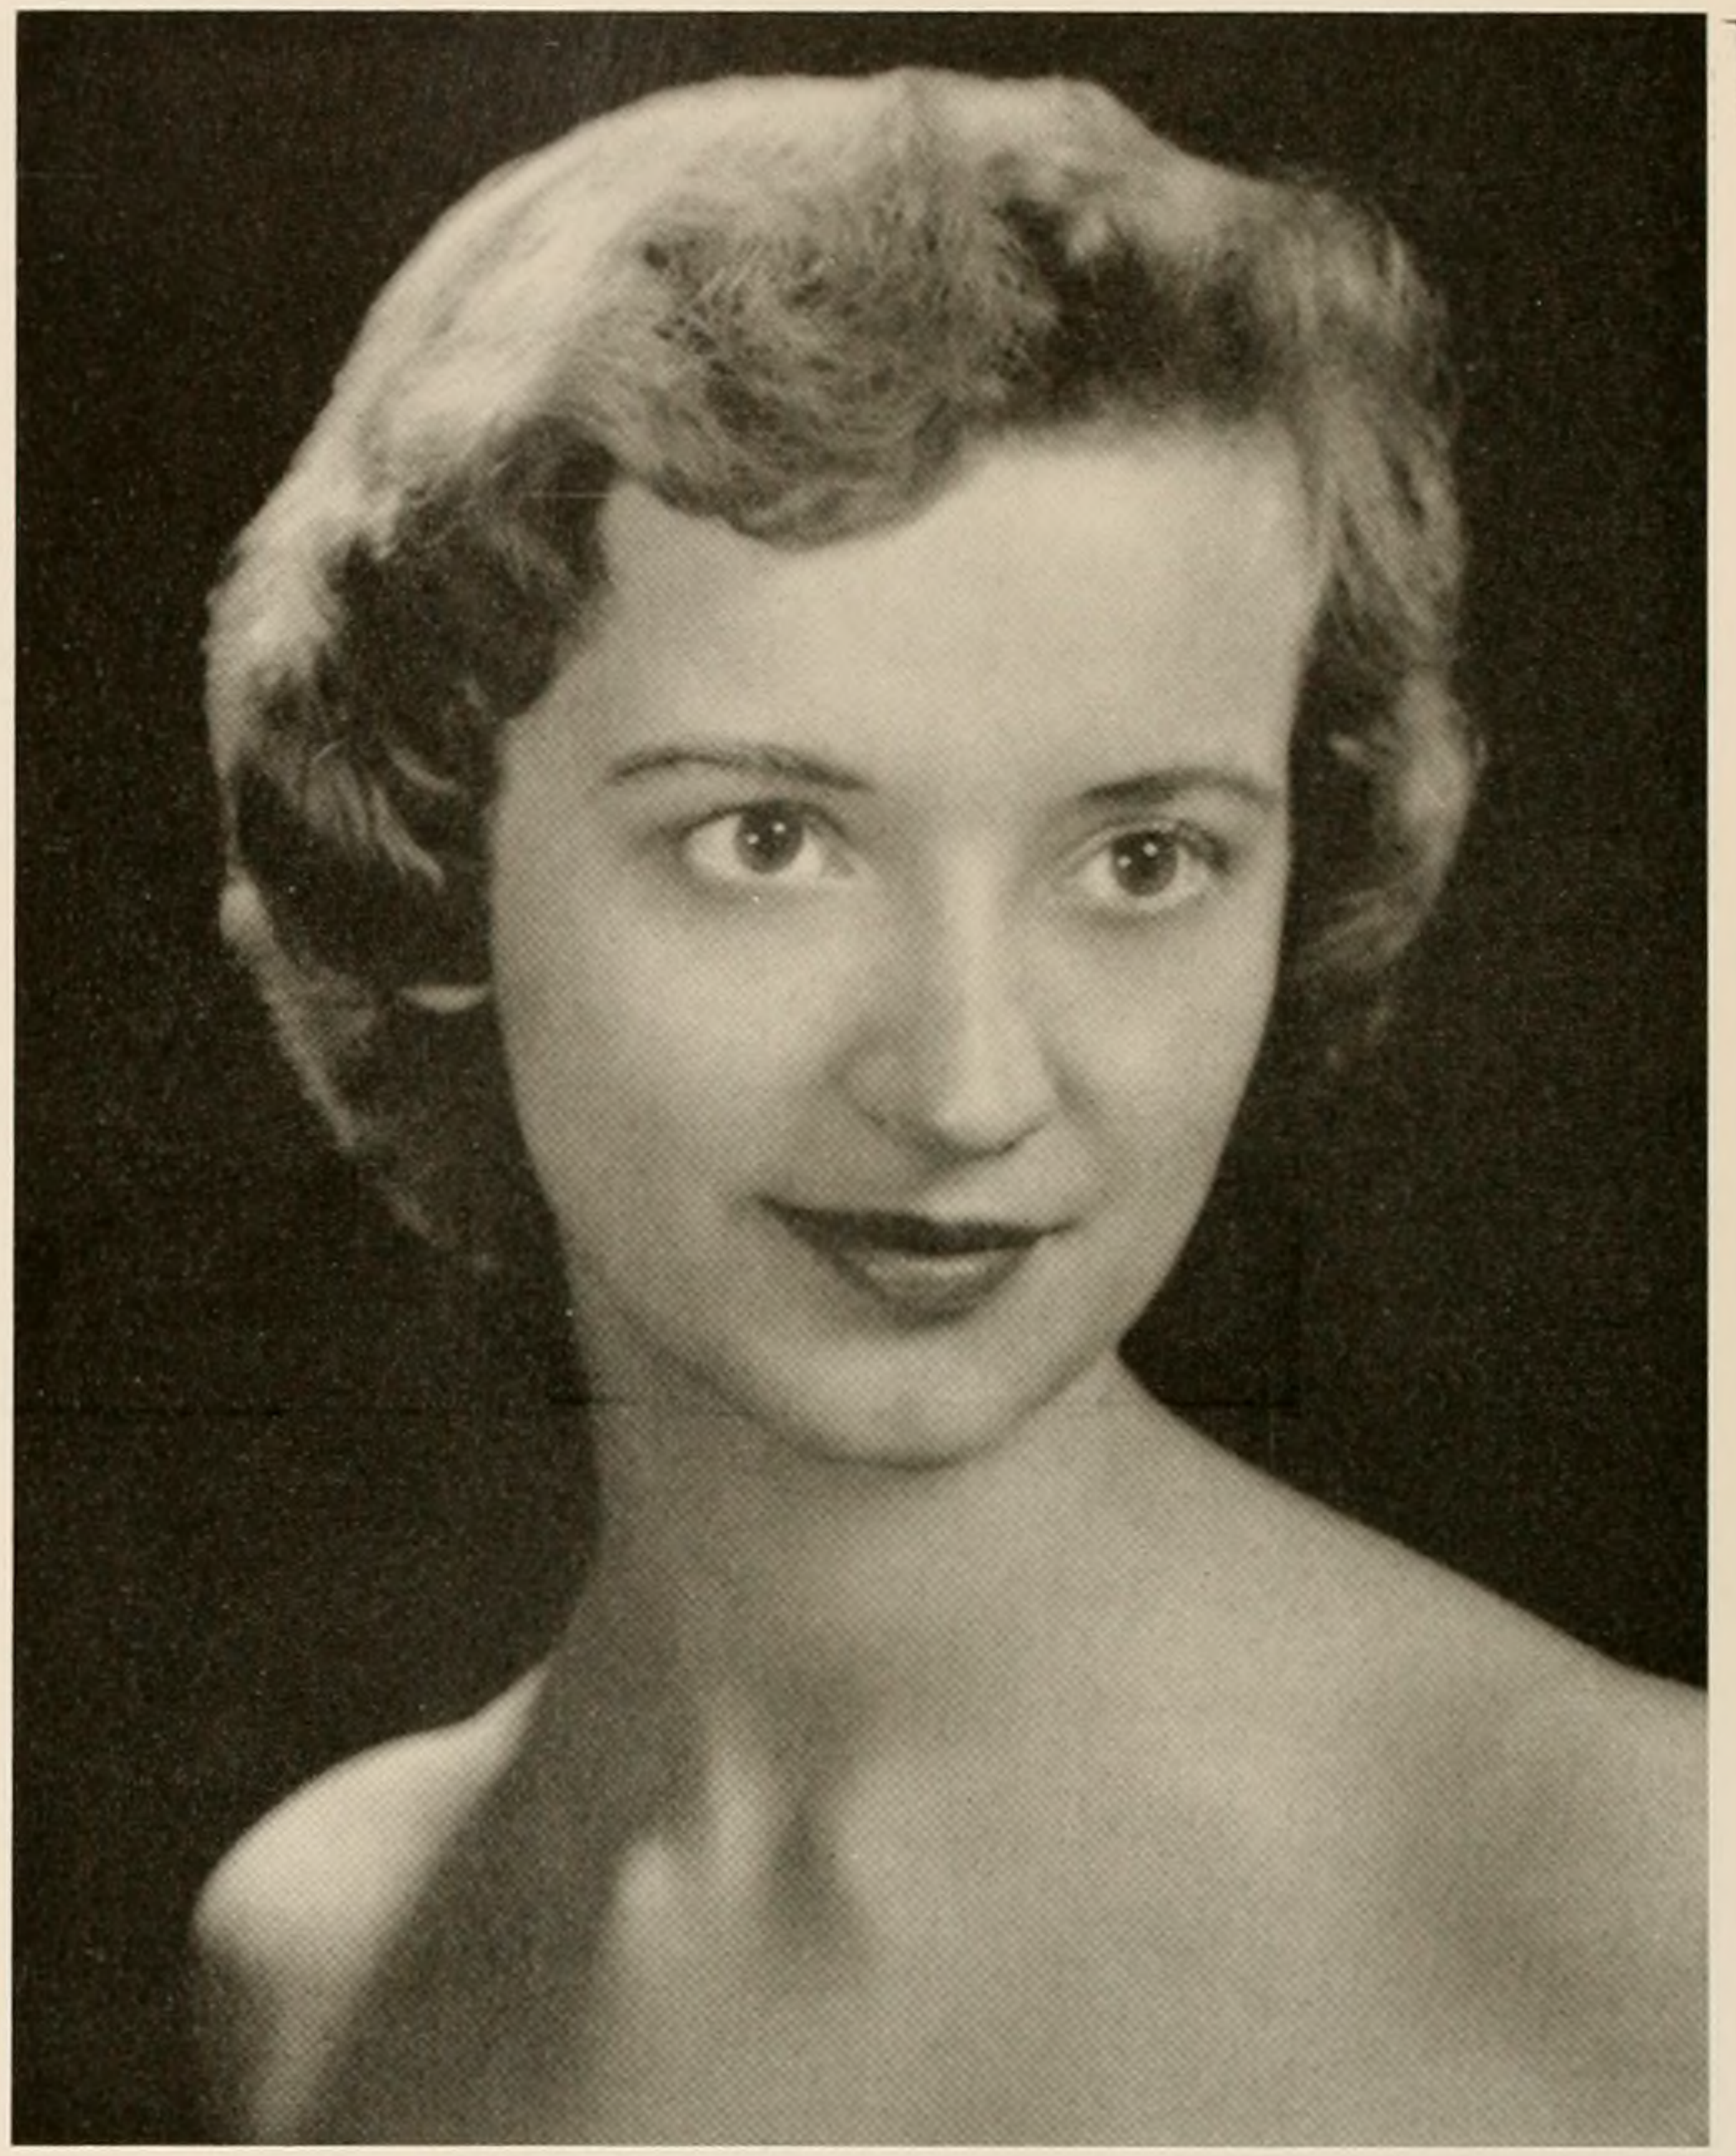

Sponsored by the four presidents of the academic classes, the dance featured unique decorations of the Center, which was open to those attending the dance, with all facilities in use. Gay costumes and two bands added to the attraction of the dance, and prizes were awarded to two couples for original attire (pictured here).

Miss Sidney Overman was selected by a special committee to rule over the ball and was presented at intermission.

Proceeds from sales of tickets were donated to the Campus Chest Fund.

J Prom '55

Fran Growhosky, Queen
Voigt Hall

The biggest J-Prom ever held on the campus! There were the skits, with Alpha Xi and Sigma Chi winning first place, followed by the parade, with outstanding performances being given by ADPi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. A vast crowd was entertained with music on the campus green at the Pre-Prom session, when the awards were made.

There were two dances this year: at the OU Center Ballroom with Eddie Grady and the Commanders providing the music and starring Lu Ann Simms. The Ohioans and the Four Lads were featured at the Men's Gym.

PRESIDENT'S BALL QUEEN

Miss Sydney Overman of Chi Omega was selected by a special committee of judges to rule over the first annual Presidents' Ball which was held in March. The sparkling brunette is a Sophomore from Marion, Indiana.

HOMEcomings QUEEN

Freshman Sally Snyder of Howard Hall reigned as the 1955 Homecoming Queen in October.

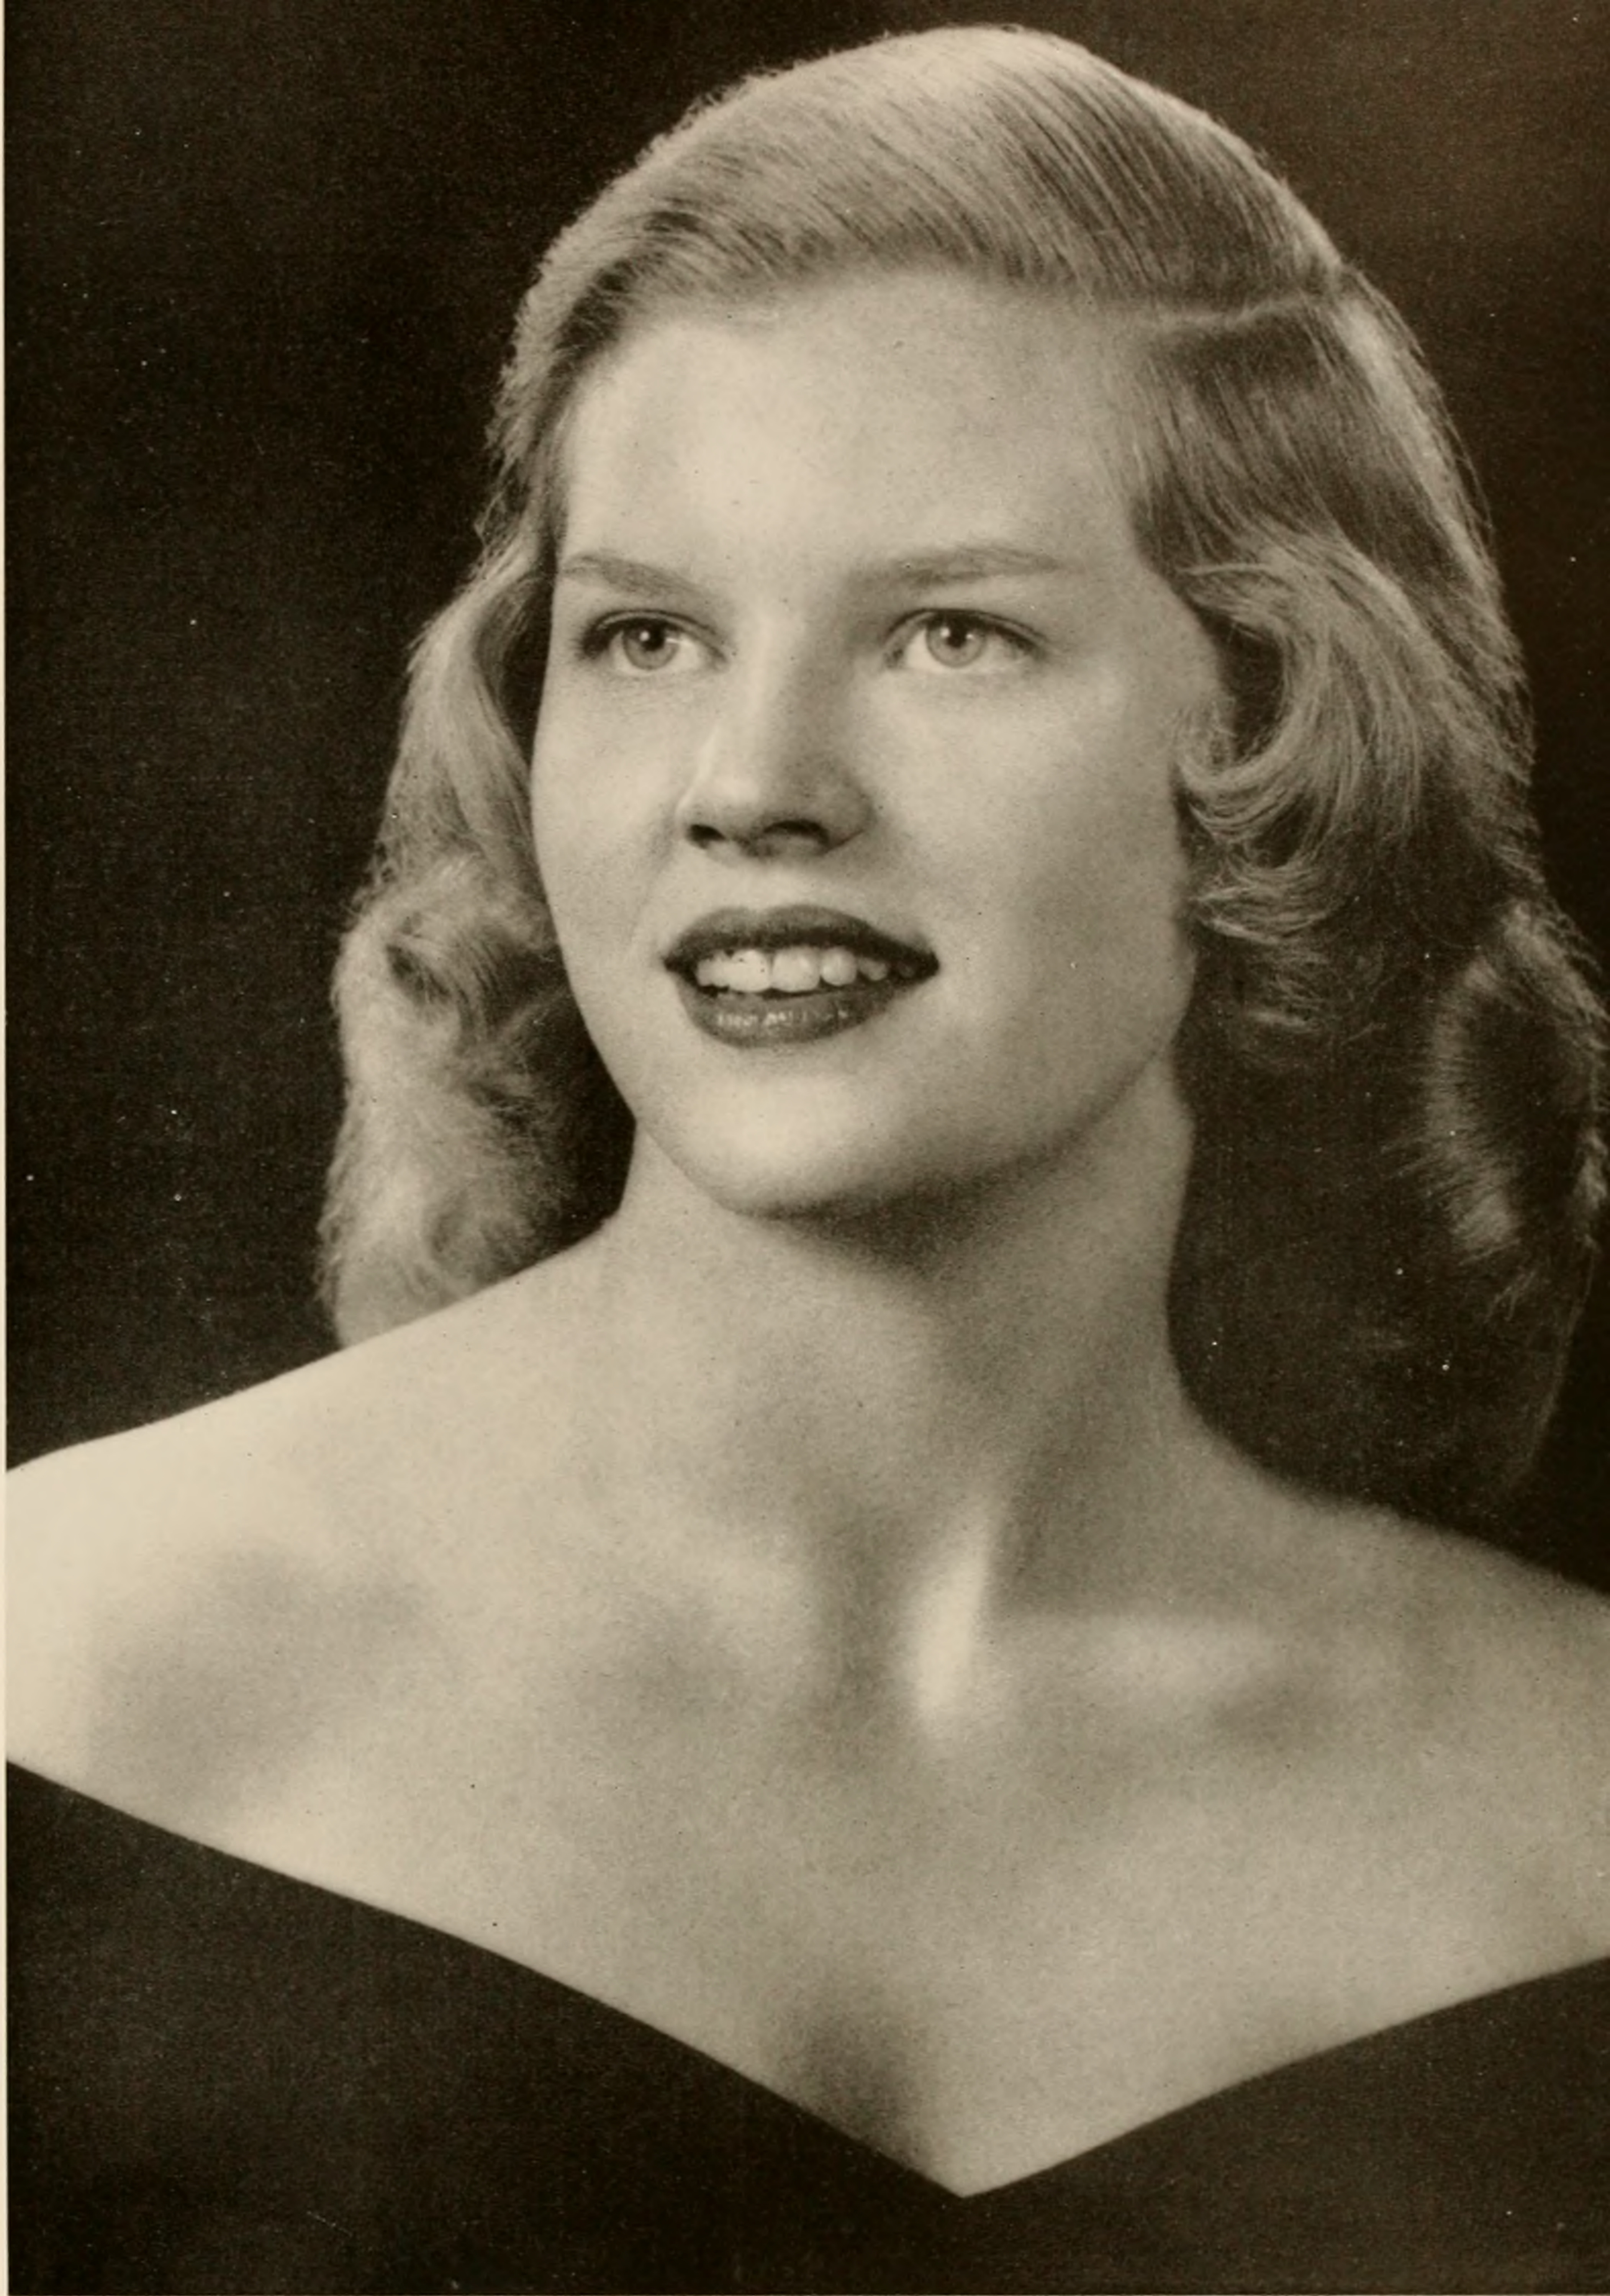

Sally is a pledge of Alpha Gamma Delta and her hometown is Cleveland Heights.

MILITARY BALL HONORARY COLONEL

Blonds are still in preference as a majority of these queens prove. Barbara Lanphear, chosen Honorary Colonel at the Military Ball, is also a blond. She is a senior in elementary education and is from Cleveland Heights.

ATHENA QUEEN

Nineteen-year-old, blond Pamela Doner was chosen Athena Queen by Milton Caniff, creator of "Terry and the Pirates," and "Steve Canyon" widely syndicated comic strips.

Wide-eyed and with a winning smile, Pam is a sophomore majoring in physics. She is from Chillicothe, Ohio.

OHIO UNIVERSITY THEATRE

Producing both comedy and tragedy, the OU Theatre offered a well-balanced selection of plays this year.

Beginning on a light note with F. Hugh Herbert's comedy hit, "The Moon Is Blue," the season progressed into "I Remember Mama," which brought Broadway star Blanche Yurka to Athens for the lead role. An all-encompassing pall of tragedy descended on the theatre with Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" and "Joan of Lorraine," written by the highly regarded Maxwell Anderson.

Performance of "Death of a Salesman" this year brought to OU theatre-goers an excellent example of modern tragedy.

The plot packed an emotional impact heightened by outstanding performances by collegiate players.

Memorable performances by Agnes Thornton and Ray Bedwell were matched by those of Lou Spiegel and Bob Bush.

Unique sets by Cosmo Catalano contributed much to the overall effect of the drama.

Mama and Papa listen as Nels tells of Katrin's sacrifice.

A rare treat was in store for theatre goers when the University Theatre brought Broadway star Blanche Yurka here to play the lead role in "I Remember Mama." She made Mama come alive. The rest of the cast gave her excellent support with Pat Linker, Dan Chichester, Don Christensen, Alice Carpenter, and Jim Sullivan giving stand-out performances.

Comedy at its best was brought to the campus with the production of "The Moon Is Blue." Freshman Pat Coleman made a very successful bid for stardom in the role of Patty O'Neill. Plaudits were also due Bill Brady and Bill Renn. Sparkling dialogue rather than an intricate plot kept the audience interest.

Patty gets some "fatherly" advice from David Slater.

The one night of the year when fellas are escorted by their girls is the night of Coed Prom, sponsored by Women's League.

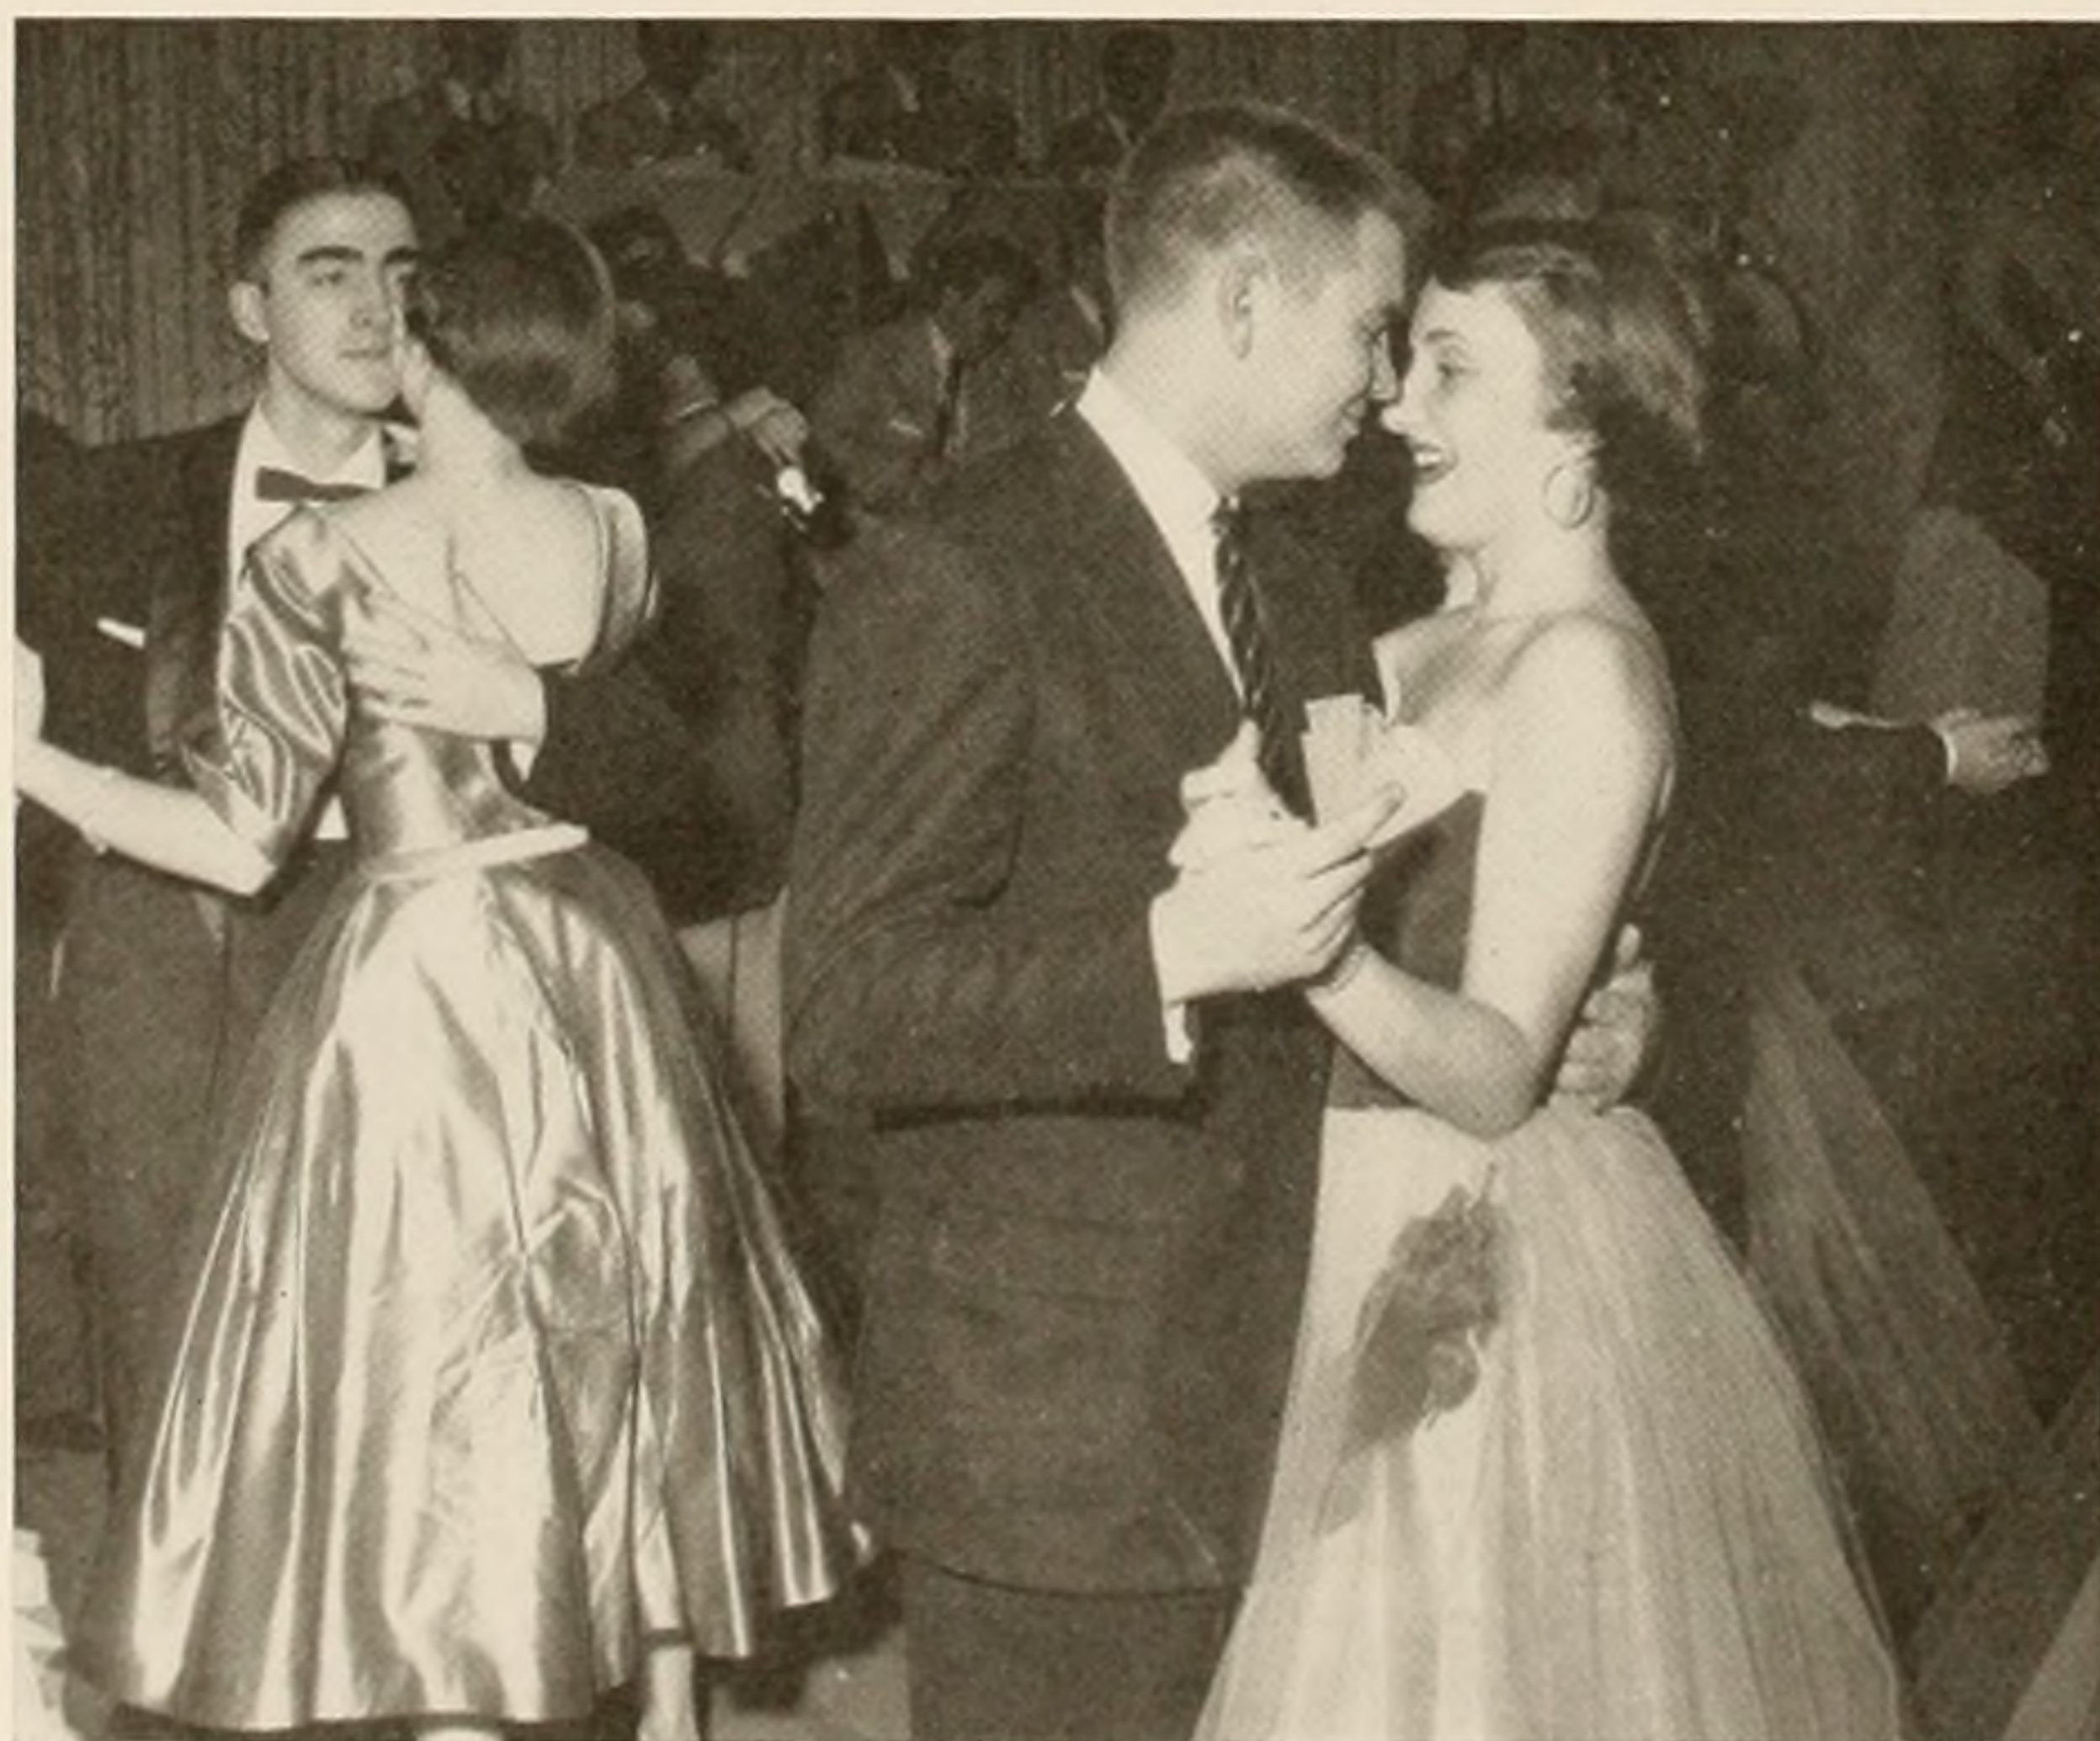

This year's dance, featuring a theme of "Keys to the Kingdom," introduced a new highlight: the crowning of a king, elected from a number of candidates by the girls attending the affair.

Prizes were awarded for the best "corsages" created by the girls for their dates.

Gentlemen resumed their duties as escorts at the hour of midnight.

"Penny-a-minute" was another event of the evening, when those who wished to stay out until after the curfew paid one cent for each sixty seconds over the time limit.

Nee (Continuity Director), David Mocklar, Alice Carpenter (Continuity Director, 2nd sem.), Bill Hiltz, Mary Jane Pitcher (Traffic Director, 2nd sem.).

Campus radio station WOUI literally puts the OU student to bed and gets him up in the morning!

The music of disc jockey Becky Brooks, patterned along the lines of World War II Tokyo Rose show (minus propaganda) lulls listeners to sleep. Bright and early in the morning "Yawn Patrol" jars the weary student from his sleep.

A host of other features make the station even more valuable to the campus. Besides broadcasting panel shows, music, news, and drama throughout the day, the station provides valuable on-the-job experience for radio and radio-news majors.

Many amusing incidents are created when signals are confused, bewildering the audience in the process.

Founded in 1942, the station is now using its third combination of call letters.

"Oh, my gosh! We've got another notice from CAC!"

Another minor crisis is in the air at the Post. There's always something in the air: wads of copy paper as a sweating news reporter attempts to write up the latest meeting of Student Council, a student directory which was taken from the sports desk by mistake and is now tossed back . . . almost anything not nailed down.

The electric atmosphere of a newspaper office affects people, especially on the nights before each issue comes out, when editors and hardy writers stay up all hours until the last bit of copy has left the typewriters.

Cooperation is perhaps the most important requirement for any student interested in working on the Post. For it is only through cooperation that a full coverage of news, sports, and organizational beats can be achieved.

Other working parts of the semi-weekly publication are the advertising, business and circulation staffs.

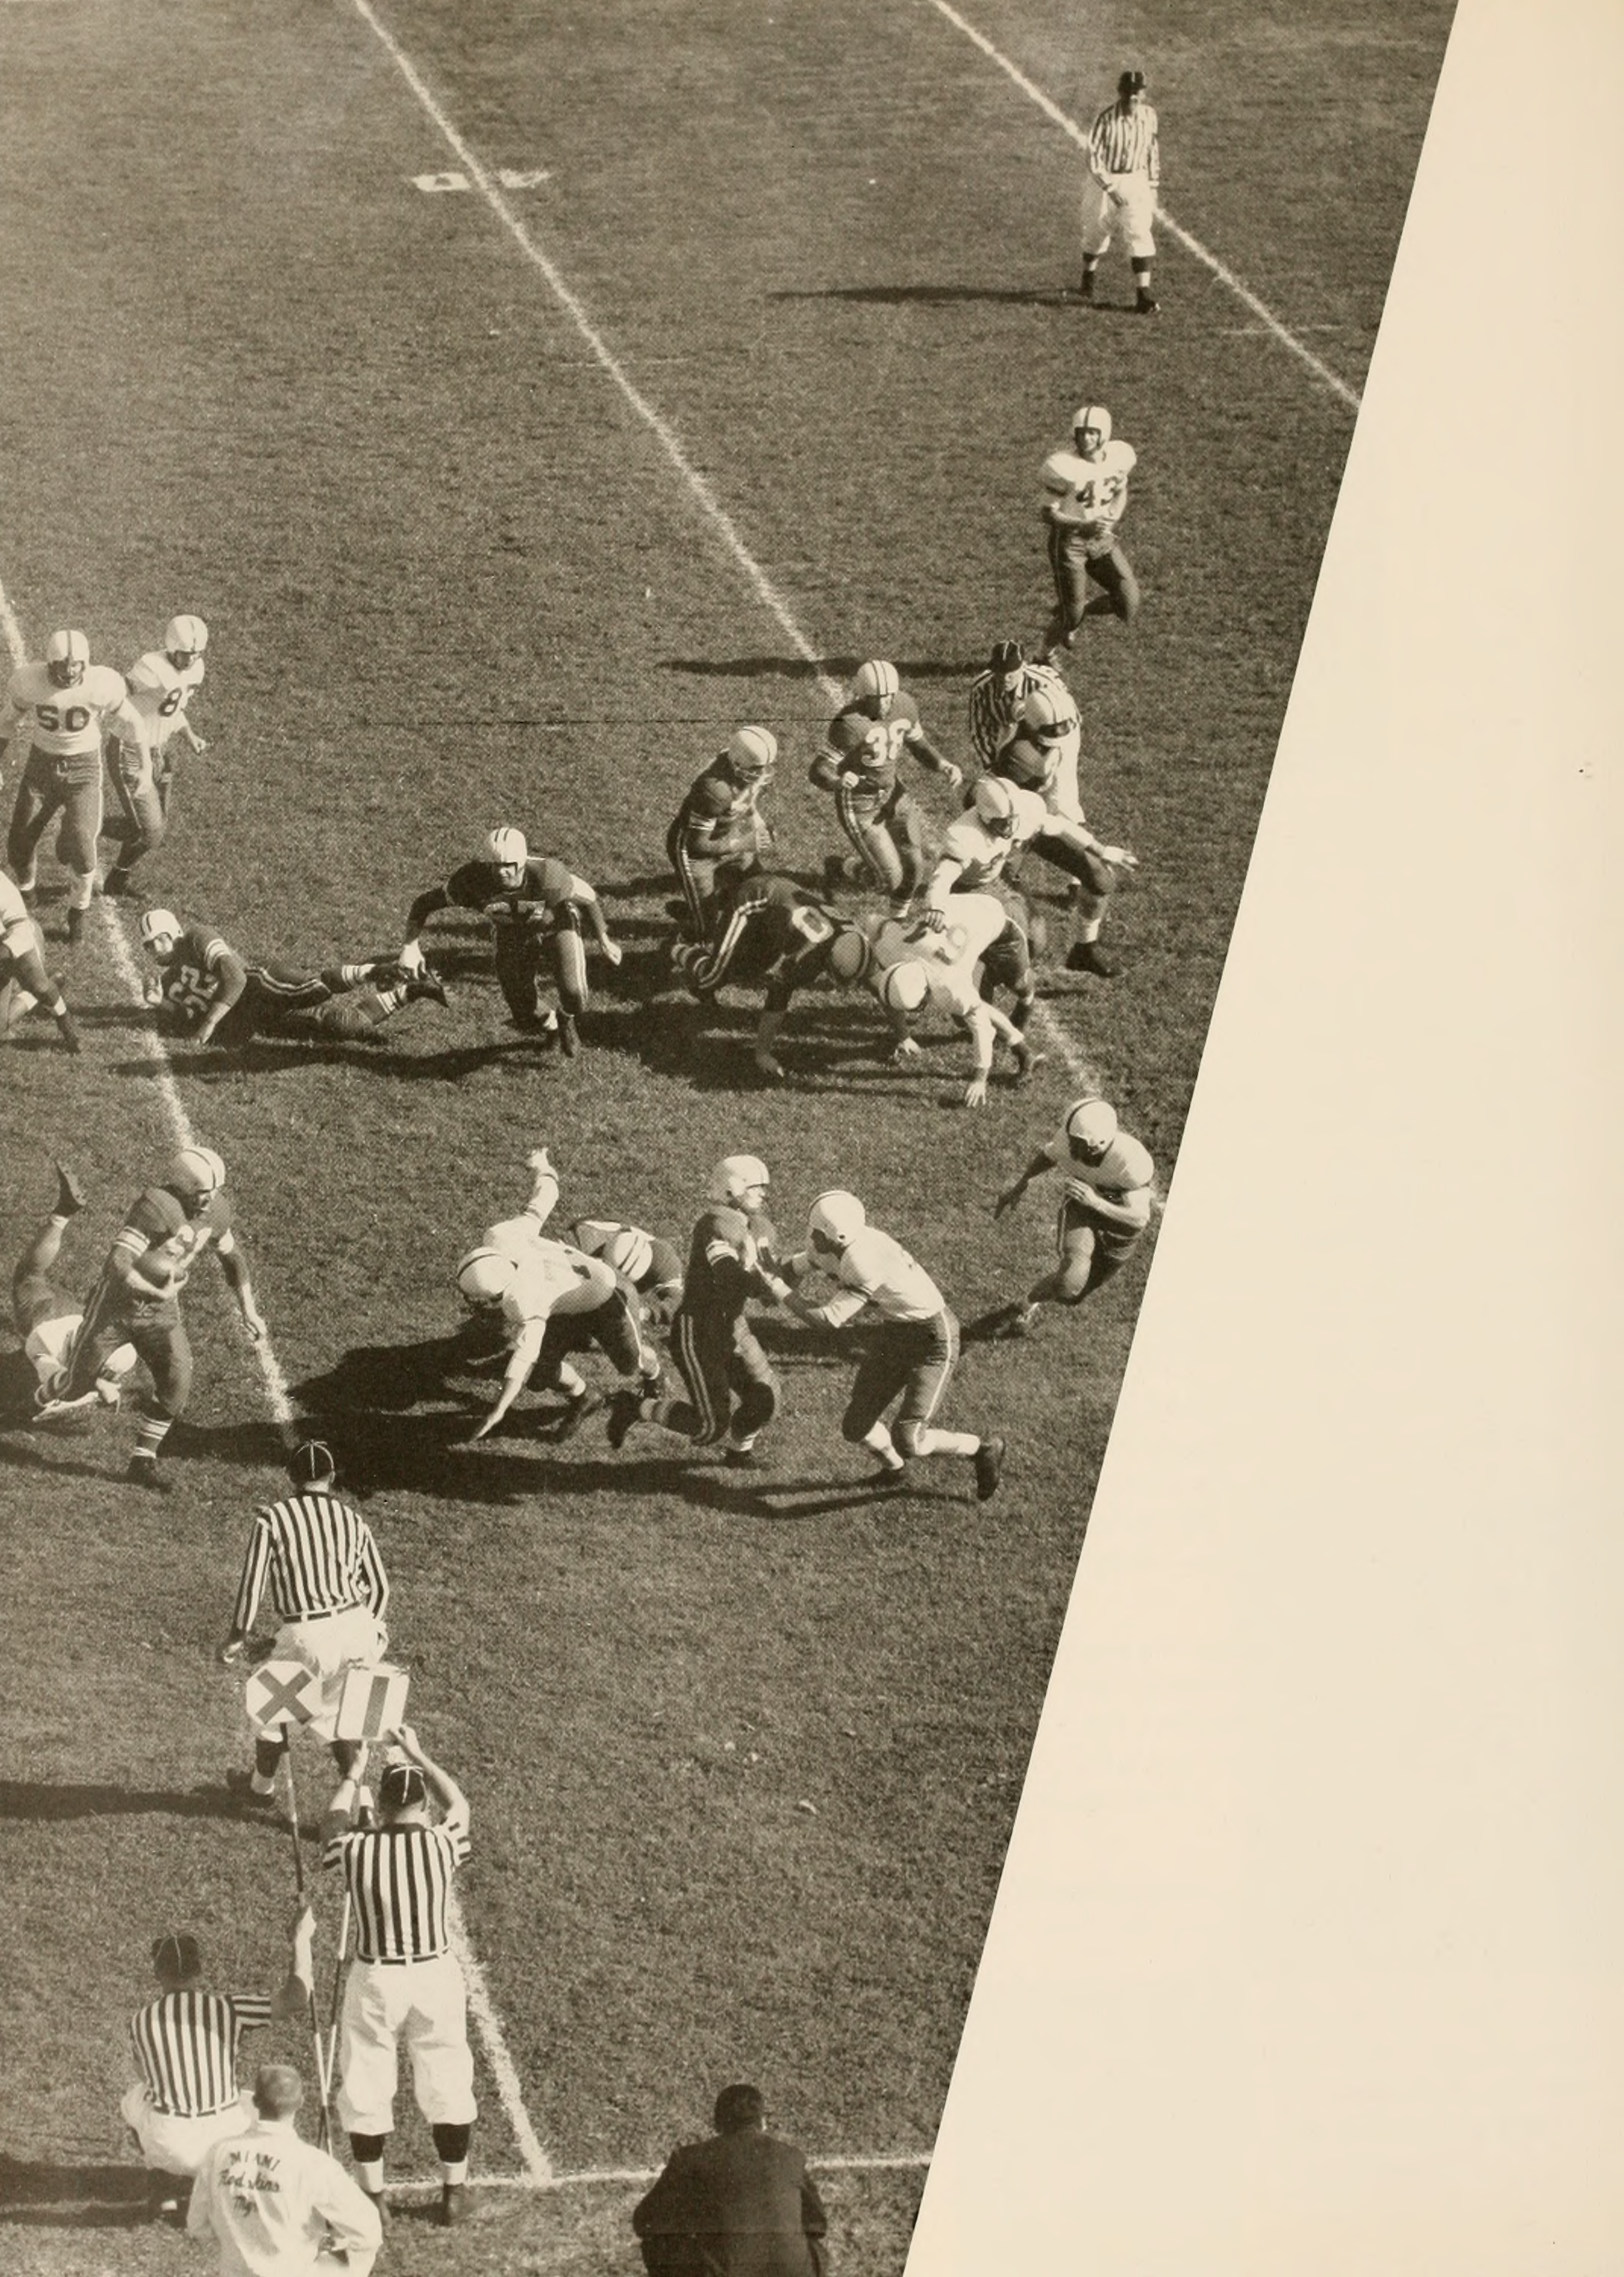

Teased this year for their "all girl newspaper," the Post managed to unite the talents of all concerned to produce the campus town-crier of 1955.

THE GREAT GREEN WAY

THIS IS SPORTS: The white helmets bobbing above the blue-grass gridiron, the cleats digging and twisting, spitting an angry venom of mud, and the agonized rattle of the gear as bodies collide chasing a slippery pigskin.

Then the multi-hued leaf carpet is suffocated in a pillow of snow while the walls close in to reverbrate the rapid-fire dribbling and loud-silent swish of the net and the screech of floor burns.

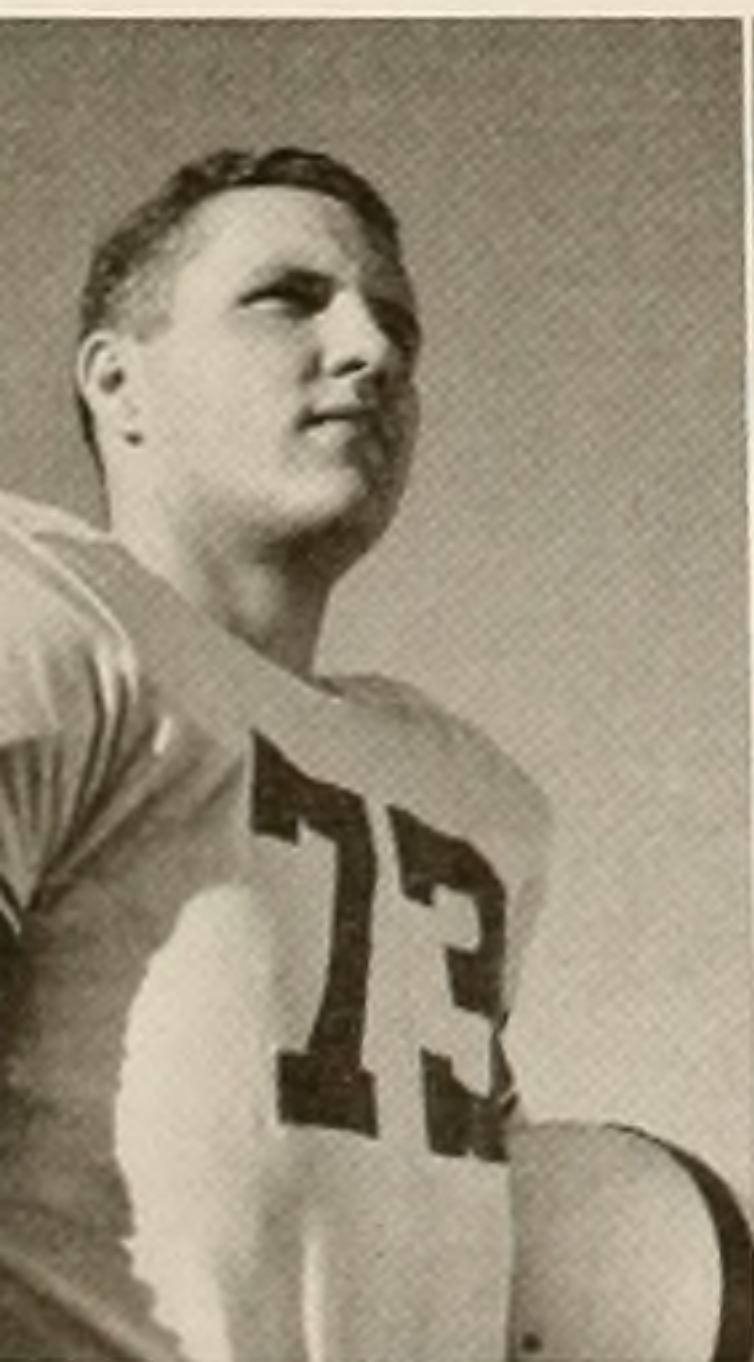

The crowd thins and mats are spread to accommodate the rolling, grappling, and sweating bodies. Across the Great Green Way the waters divide and show the path to the promised land called championship.

Then winter melts into the Hocking. Through the moist air are heard the sharp crack of wood on horsehide, the faint twing of gut-string, and the pounding of spiked shoes.

A rough schedule, plus the loss of some of last year's valuable players, were two obstacles facing Coach Carroll C. Through the use of team spirit, cooperation, and guts, the win-minded group pulled down the curtain on another successful campaign with an overall mark of 6 wins and 3 losses. They landed in third place in the Conference with a 5 and 2 record.

Halfback Erland Ahlberg, who led the Conference in touchdowns, 10, received first team berths on both the All Mid-American and All Ohio teams. Captain John Schwab was placed on the second teams of these two squads, and Quarterback Bill Frederick received honorable mention on the All Mid-American Team.

Get him . . . get him . . . get him . . . and get him they did

Donning their green and white uniforms on September 25, the Bobcat gridders upset highly-favored Xavier University in a 12-0 home opener. After displaying a vigorous defensive game for three quarters, the O.U. charges tallied twice in the fourth quarter with Speedy Erland Ahlberg and End Jim Krager crossing the final stripe . . .

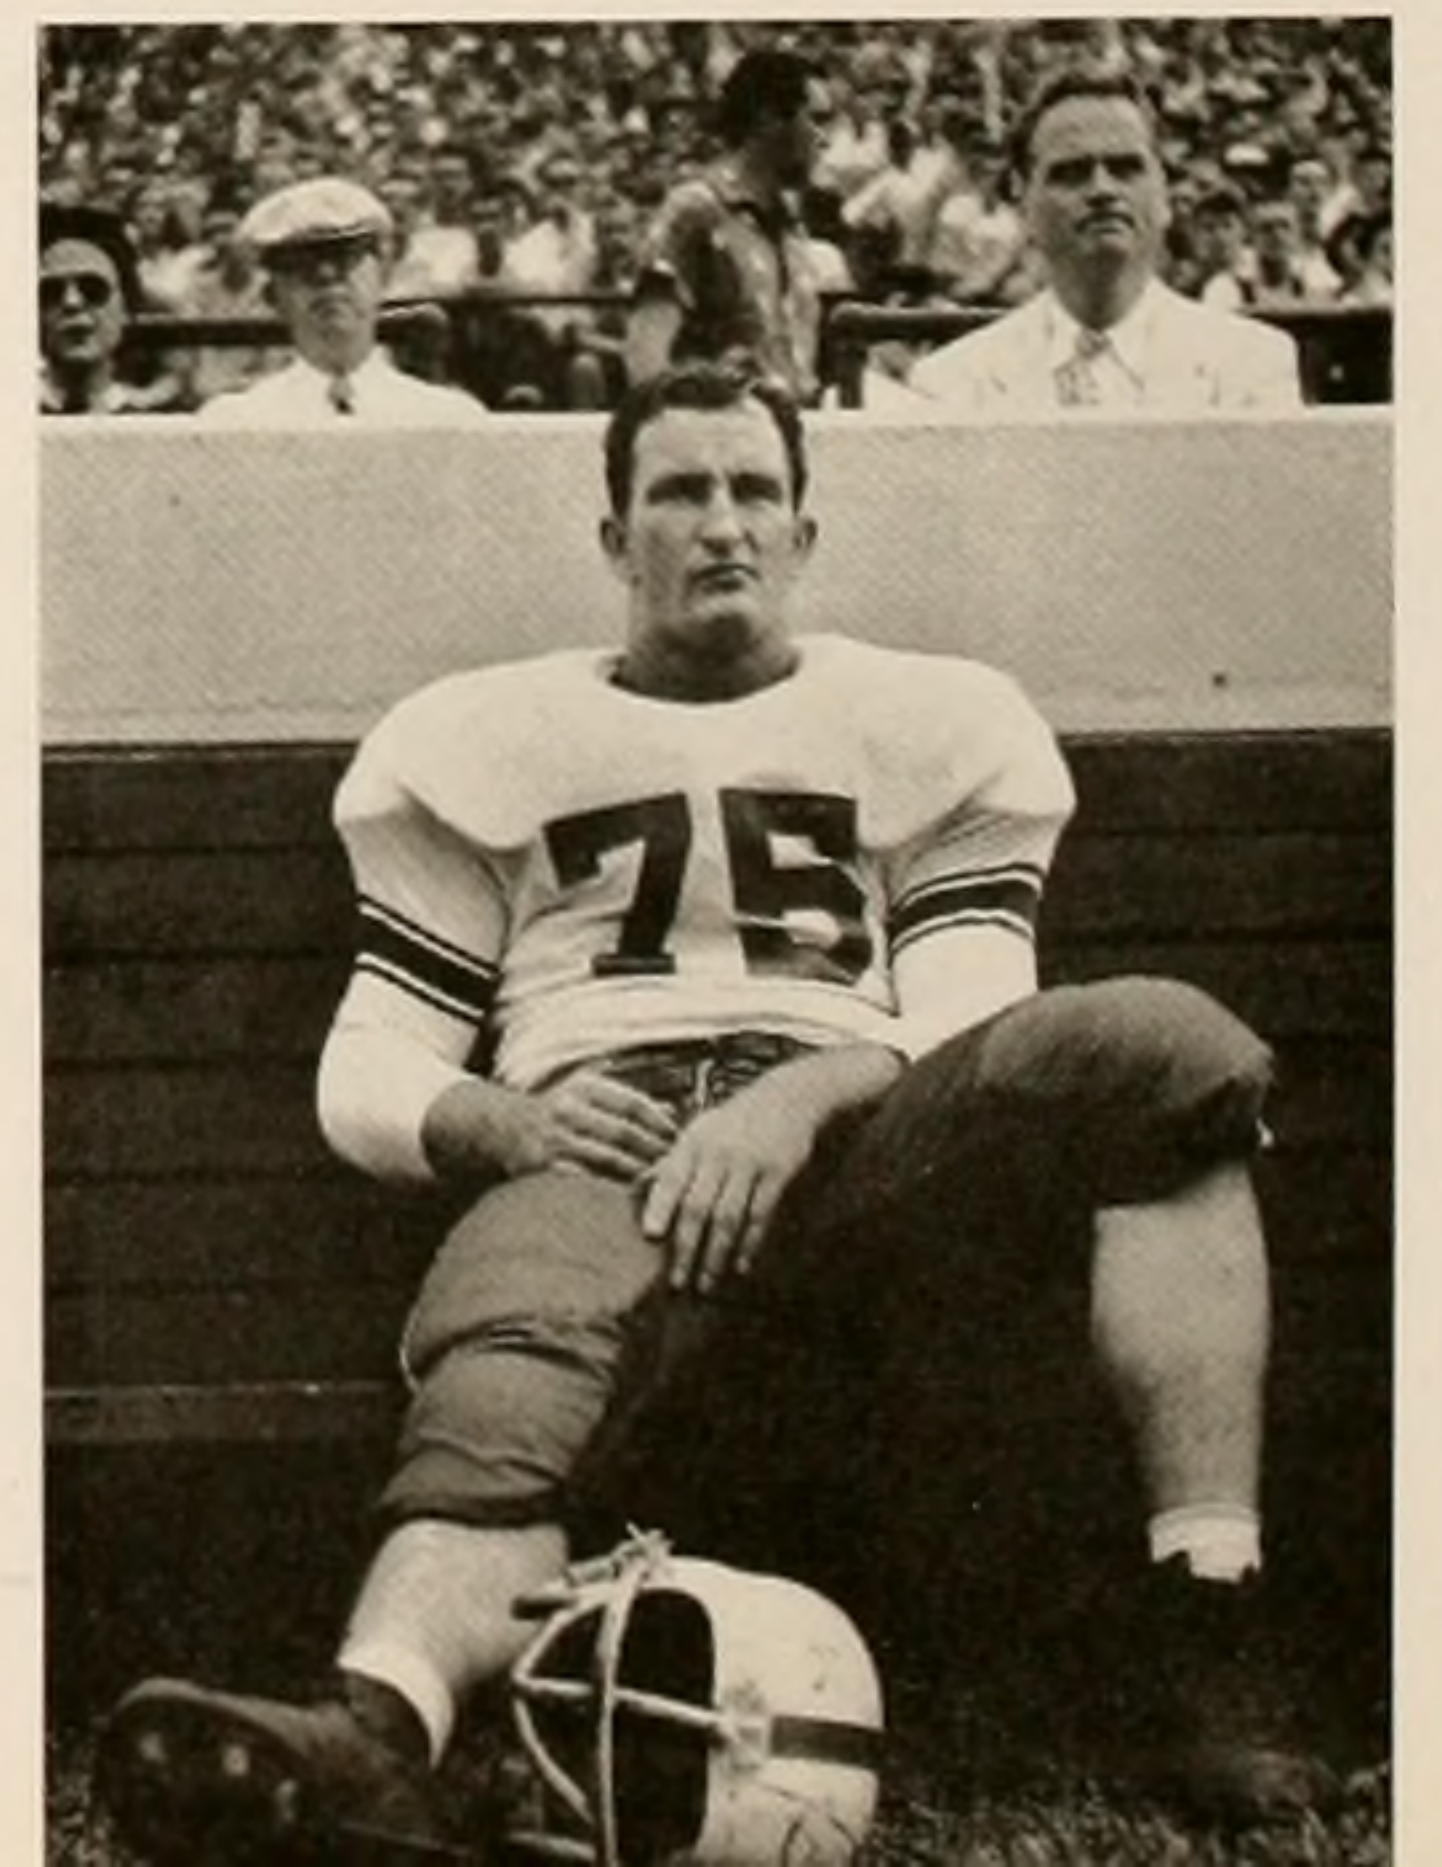

Moving along in fine style, the Bobcat machine plowed under their first Mid American foe, Toledo University, by a 28-20 margin. This time Ahlberg galloped 88 yards on a touchdown run . . .

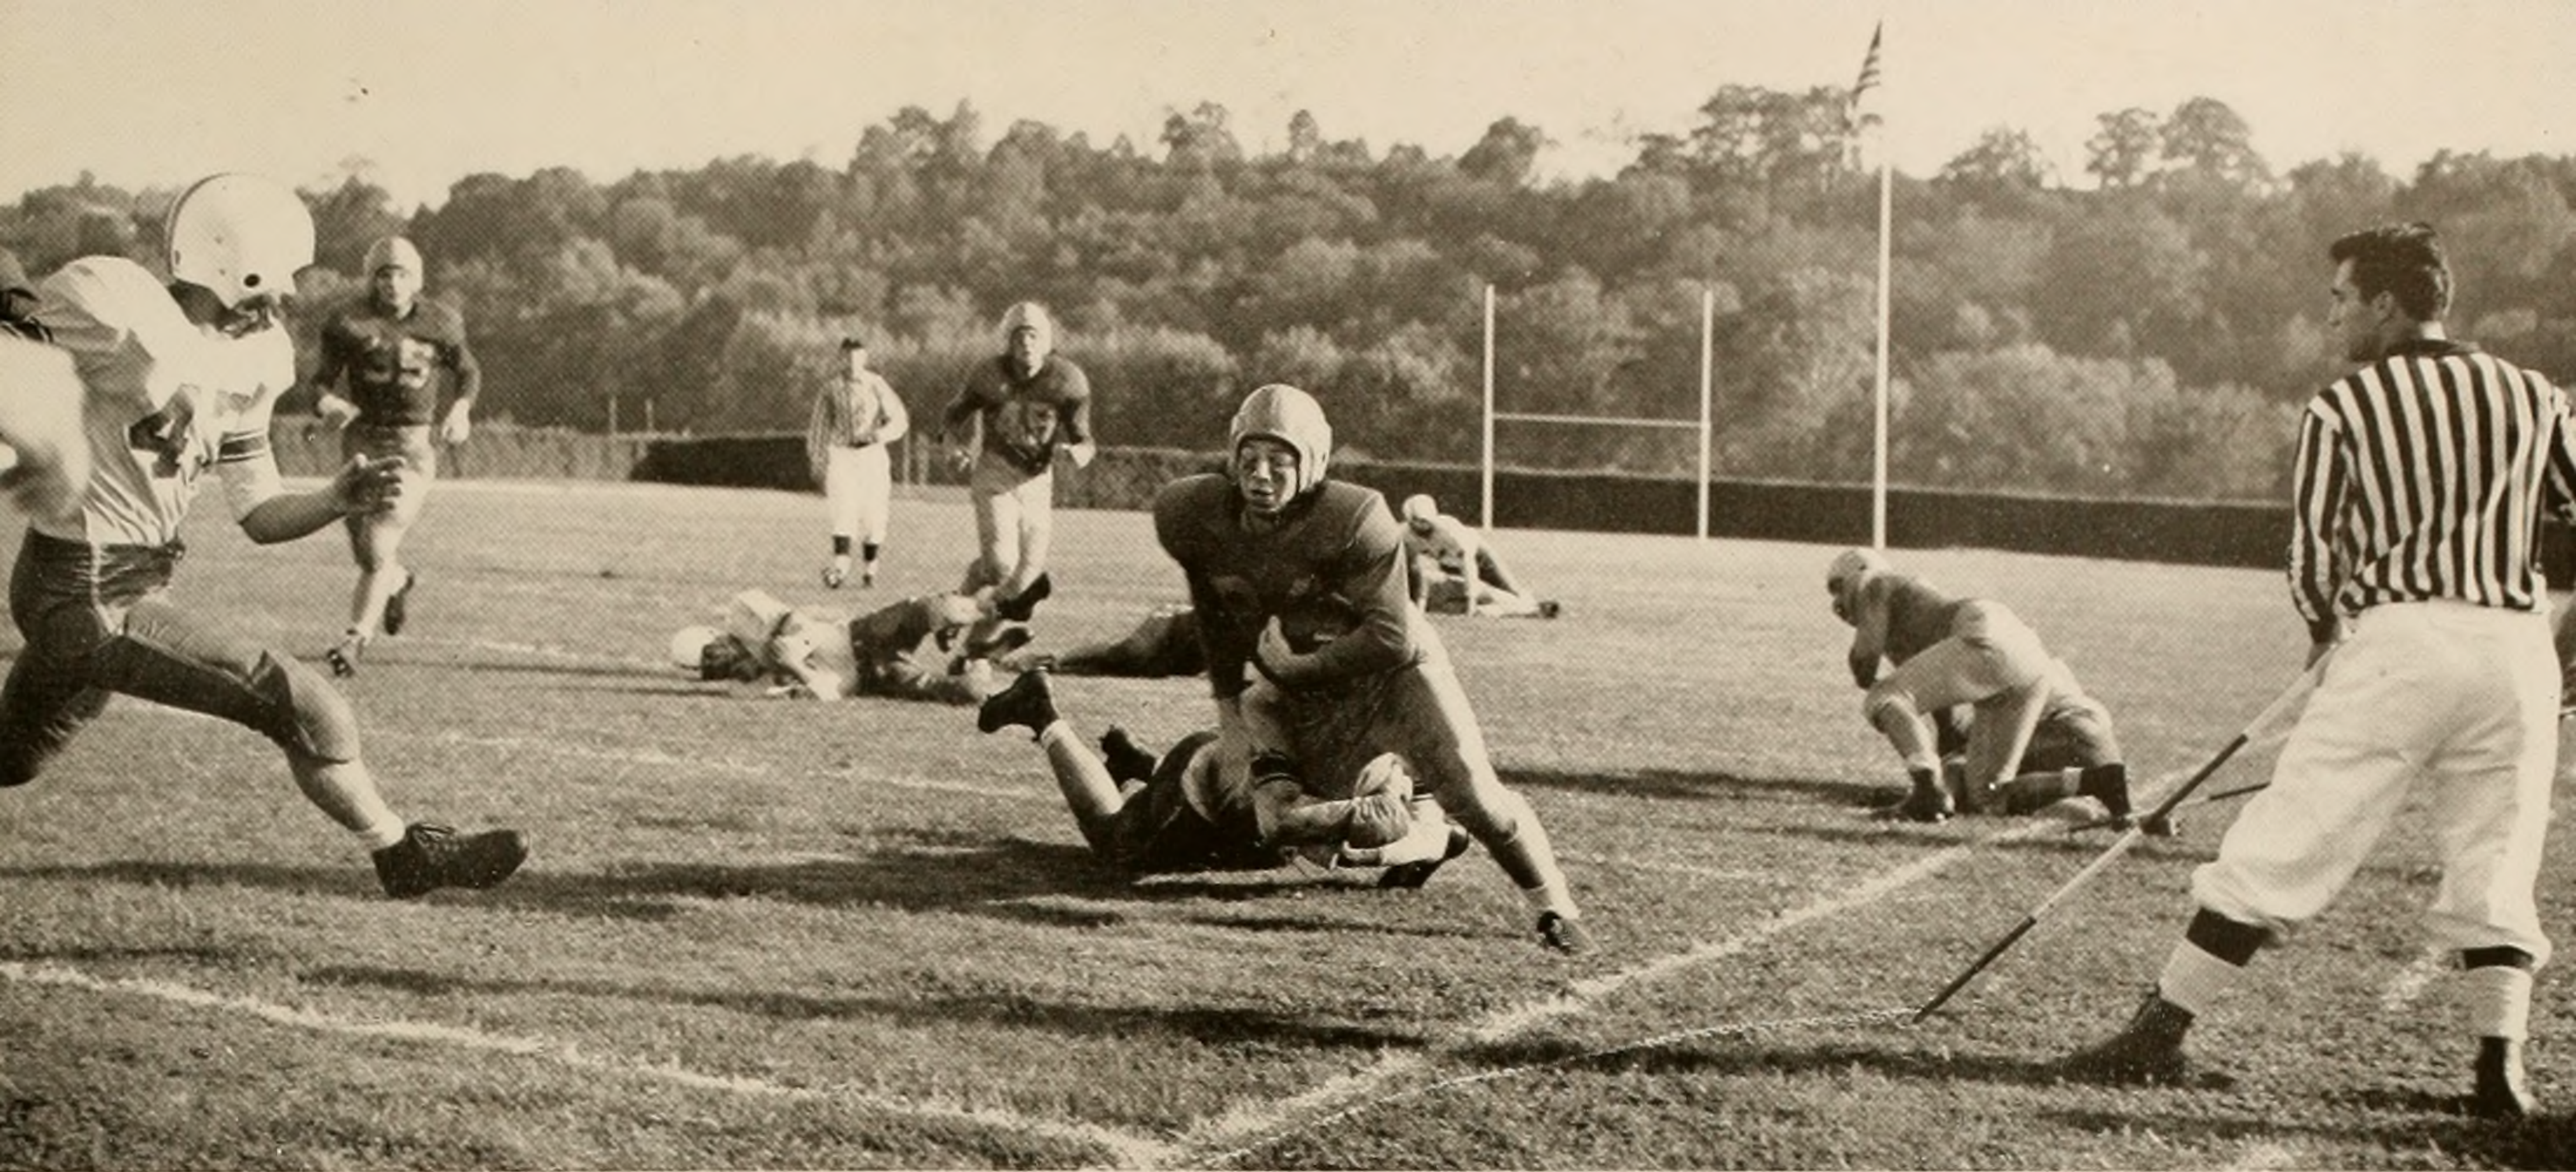

This fighting Bobcat went a little higher for an OU pass

Western Reserve was also caught in the Bobcat web as the Widdoesmen spun out a 37-0 triumph over the Red Cats. Twenty points in the final period assured the O.U. Migration Day fans of a victory. Al Christopher booted a 31 yard field goal, one of the few longer kicks witnessed by local fans in the last few years . . .

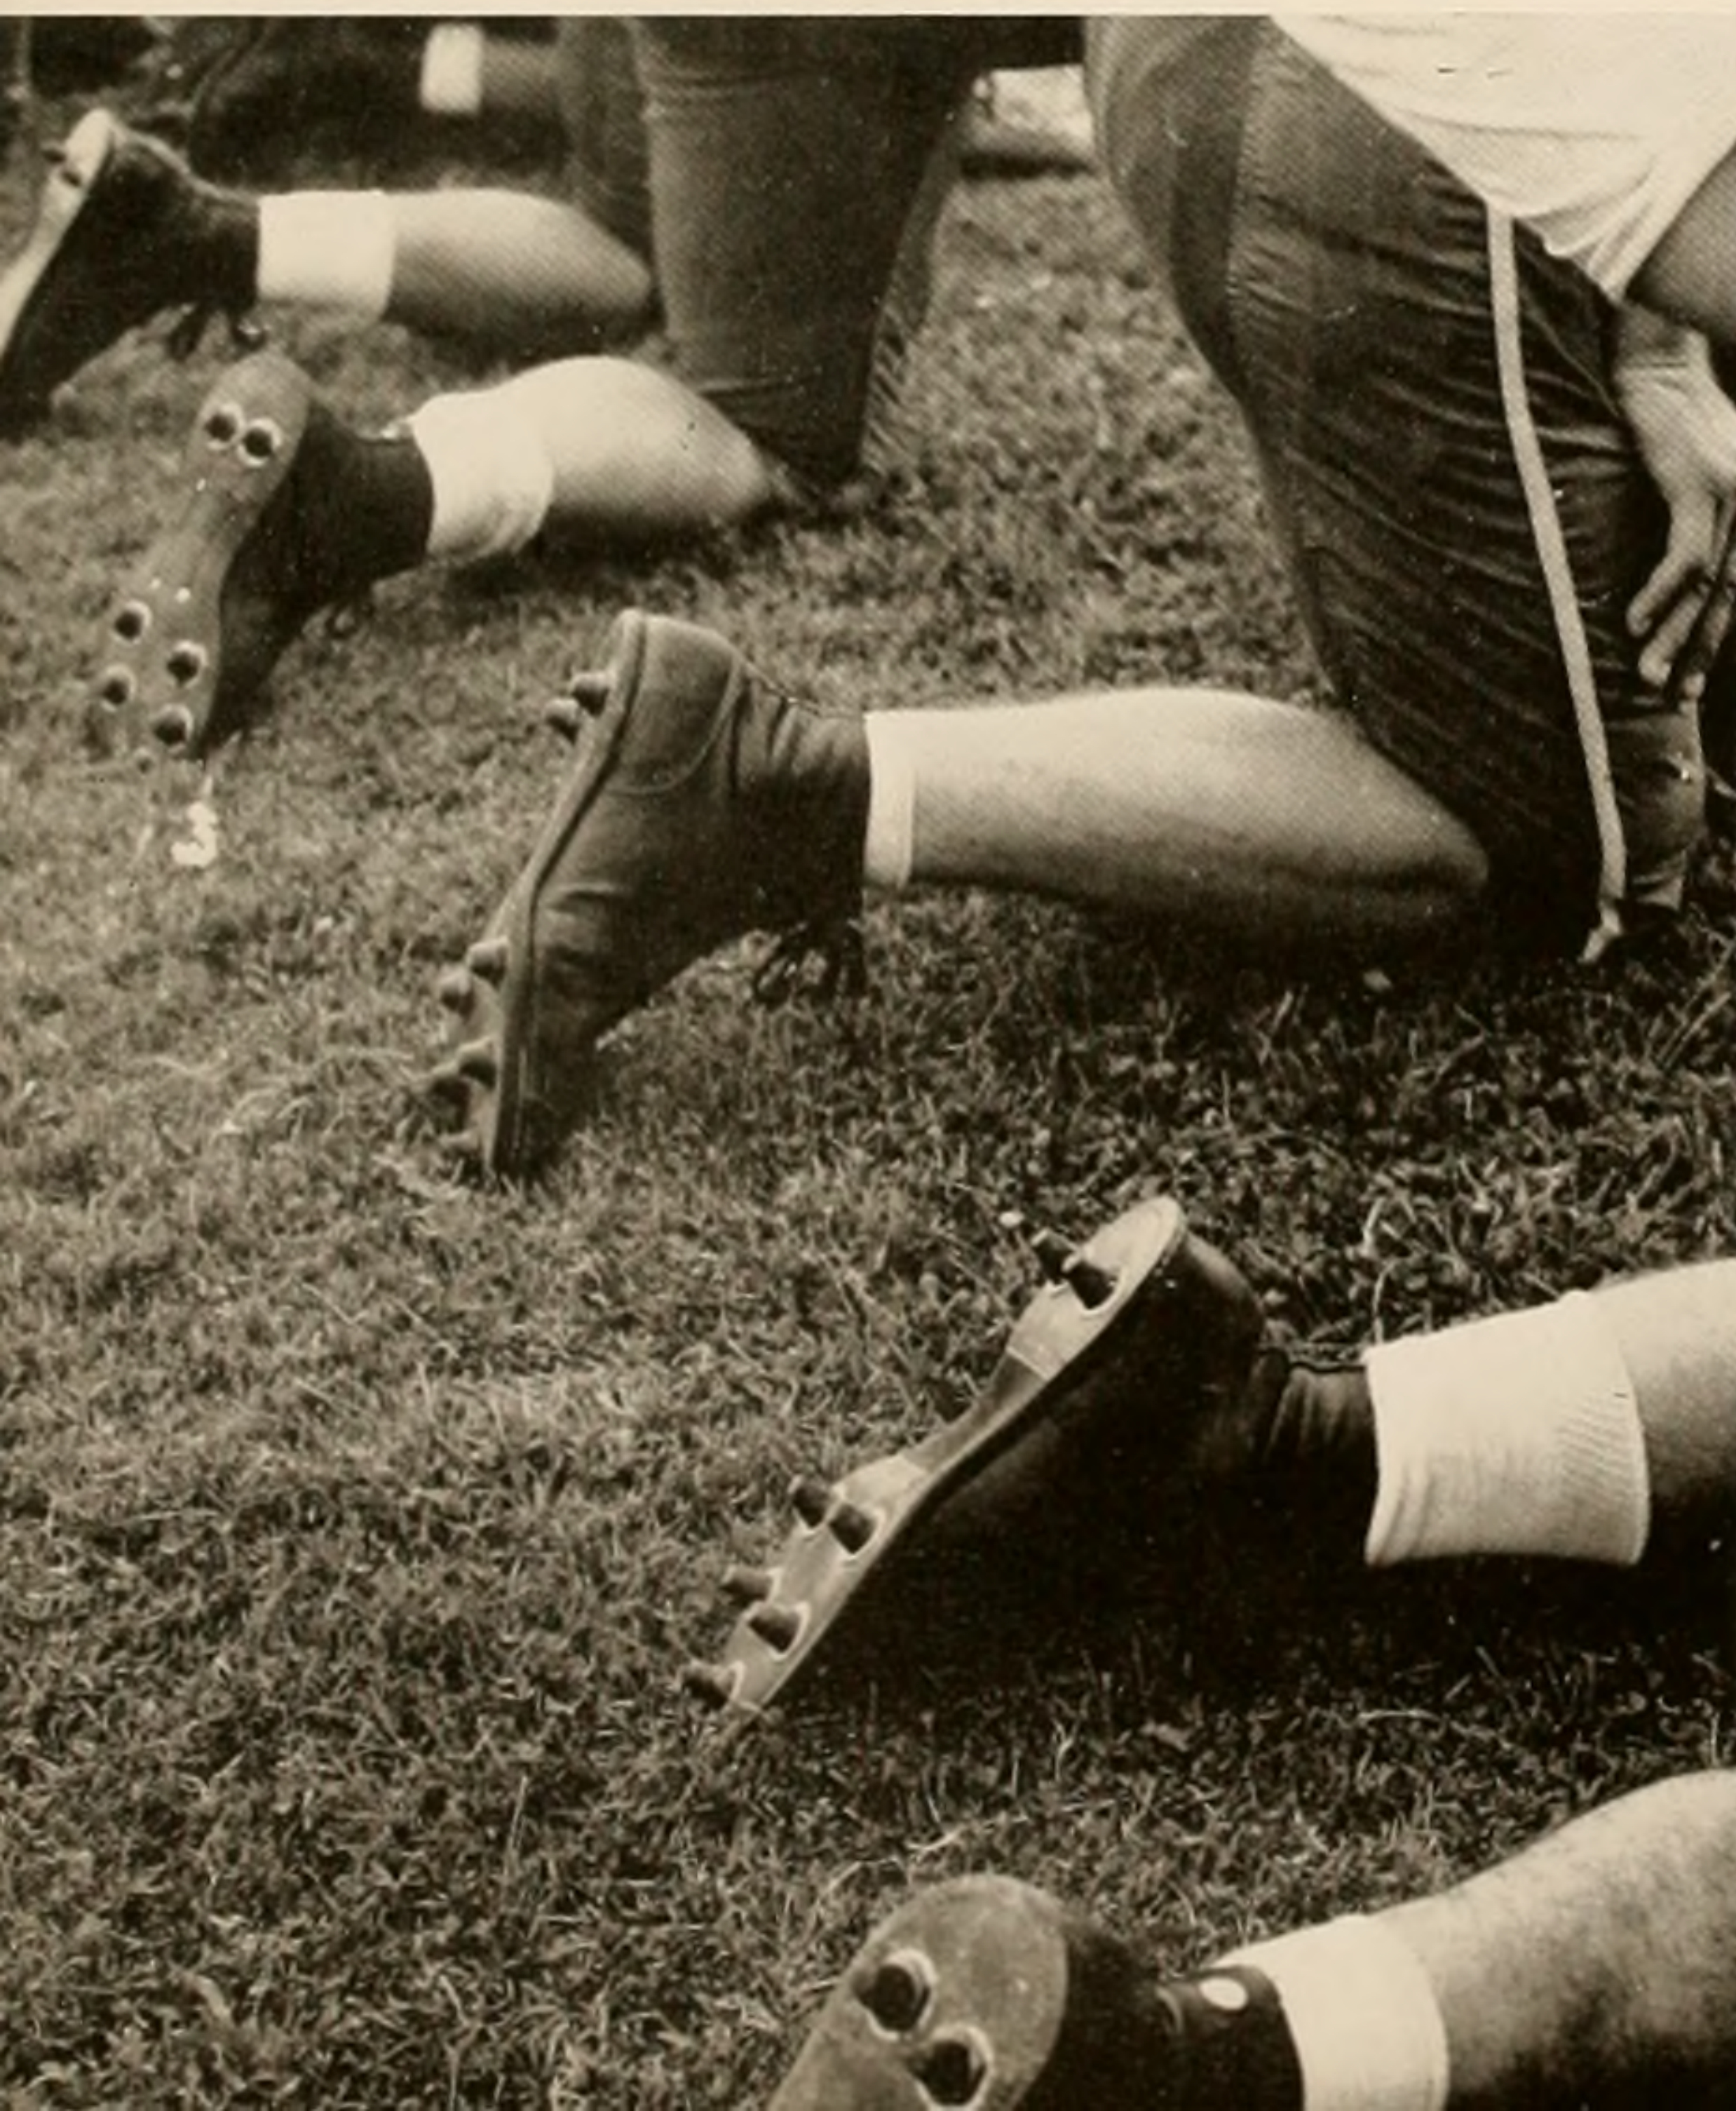

Another OU gridiron enemy prepares to bite the dust

Defenders of the Field

Just like "Ole Man River," the Green and White bearers kept rolling along. This time it was a 14-7 upset over Kent University, undefeated up to this tilt. With this fourth victory, dreams of another Conference crown appeared. These dreams faded away as a sprag was thrown into the Ohioan's revolving wheel when Miami shoved over a 46-13 score. This was the worst Homecoming Day defeat that Ohio University has ever suffered . . .

Everybody's pushing, but who has the ball?

Halfback Ahlberg netted 156 yards on the wet Harvard University field, but the Crimson overpowered OU, 27-13. The Bobcats sank deeper in their rut now as Western Michigan sneaked in a 19-6 lashing, making it three losses in a row for the Bobcat gridders, Sophomore Roger Thomas ran the pigskin 63 yards for the only tally . . .

It takes more than one to down a Bobcat

The losing streak was snapped as Bowling Green fell pray to the Bobcats, 26-14. The men from Athens garnered 431 net yards, of which 170 were accredited to Ahlberg. Coming to life late in the game, Coach Widdoes' charges pushed over two winning touchdowns in the last period . . .

DAD'S DAY

King Football jumped down from its throne as the Bobcats "got that one for Pop" in the Dad's Day fray. The gridmen from O.U. provided their breadwinners with many exciting moments in their 26-25 win over Marshall. Ahlberg scored three six-pointers, one a 85 yard dash, in this nip and tuck contest. This was the last time that seniors Don Anderson, Joel Deckman, Bill Frederick, Ron Weaver, Ted Jackson, Chuck Karikas, John Schwab, Dick Spellmeyer, and Stan Maschino would take the field for Ohio U.

OU's secondary defense clamps down on this ball carrier

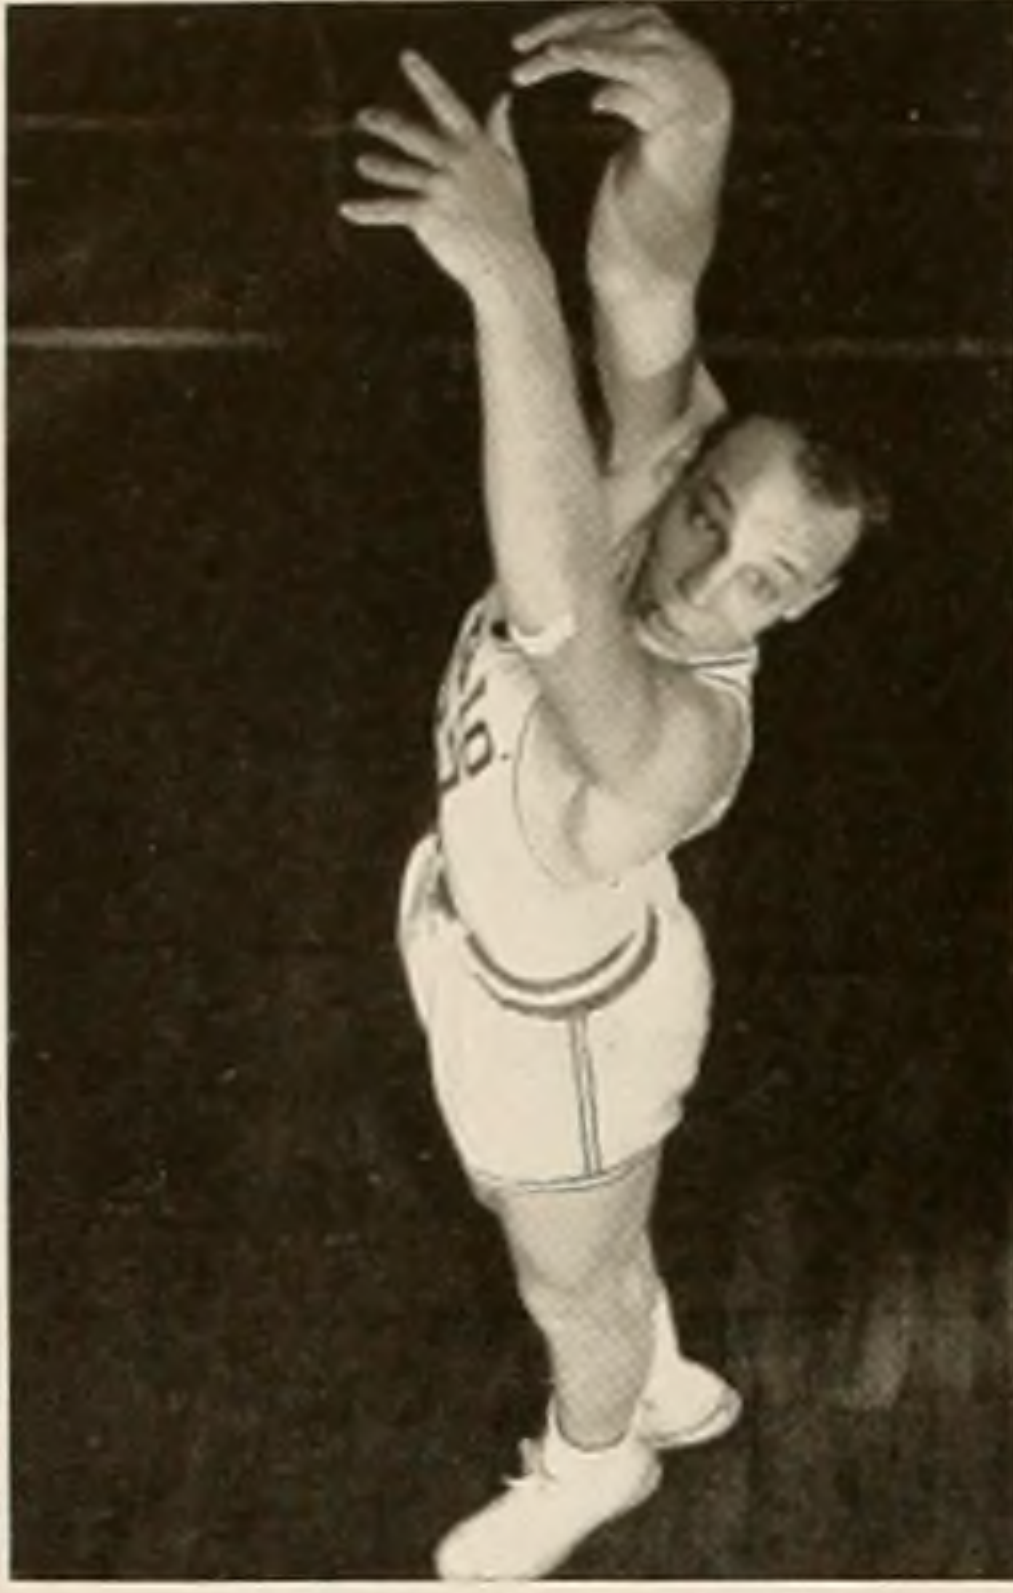

"The Team Named Desire"—that's what the 1954-55 OU cagers were called. With each of the first ten men carrying the team to victory on "his night," the Bobcats rolled to a 16 won, five lost record, the best since 1941 and good for third place in the Mid-Am Conference. From the season opener, when the basketeers stunned a Marietta team that had won 21 consecutive games, to the finale, when the cagers surprisingly proved that their first win over the Pioneers wasn't a fluke, the "Gee Whiz Kids" did the unprobable and the unpredictable. Despite a lack of height, the Bobcats scored in the clutch, copping ten wins by margins of eight or less points. And it was a crowd-pleasing team with its urgent, fast-breaking style of play.

Starting the season off with wins over Marietta, 81-75, Morris Harvey, 88-81, and Ohio Wesleyan, 95-78, the Bobcats fell before Marshall in their fourth game, 105-85. A five-game win streak, with victories over Western Reserve, 75-72 and 88-74, Loyola of Chicago, 72-70, Western Michigan, 97-84, and Kent State, 80-65, was snapped by a 79-69 loss to Toledo. The locals dropped a second game, to Bowling Green, 77-69, before they took games from Miami, 75-71, and Case Tech, 77-69.

Marshall again took the measure of the OU five midway through the season, 84-73. Then the Bobcats ripped Western Reserve 86-68, and Miami avenged its earlier loss, 91-79. In the final five tilts, the local cagers racked up five wins, upending Bowling Green 81-70, stopping Moorhead 90-82, whipping Toledo 67-59, sliding Western Michigan 95-87, and again upsetting Marietta, this time 93-90.

Moore and Weinbrecht wonder what little men can do when a guy starts flying.

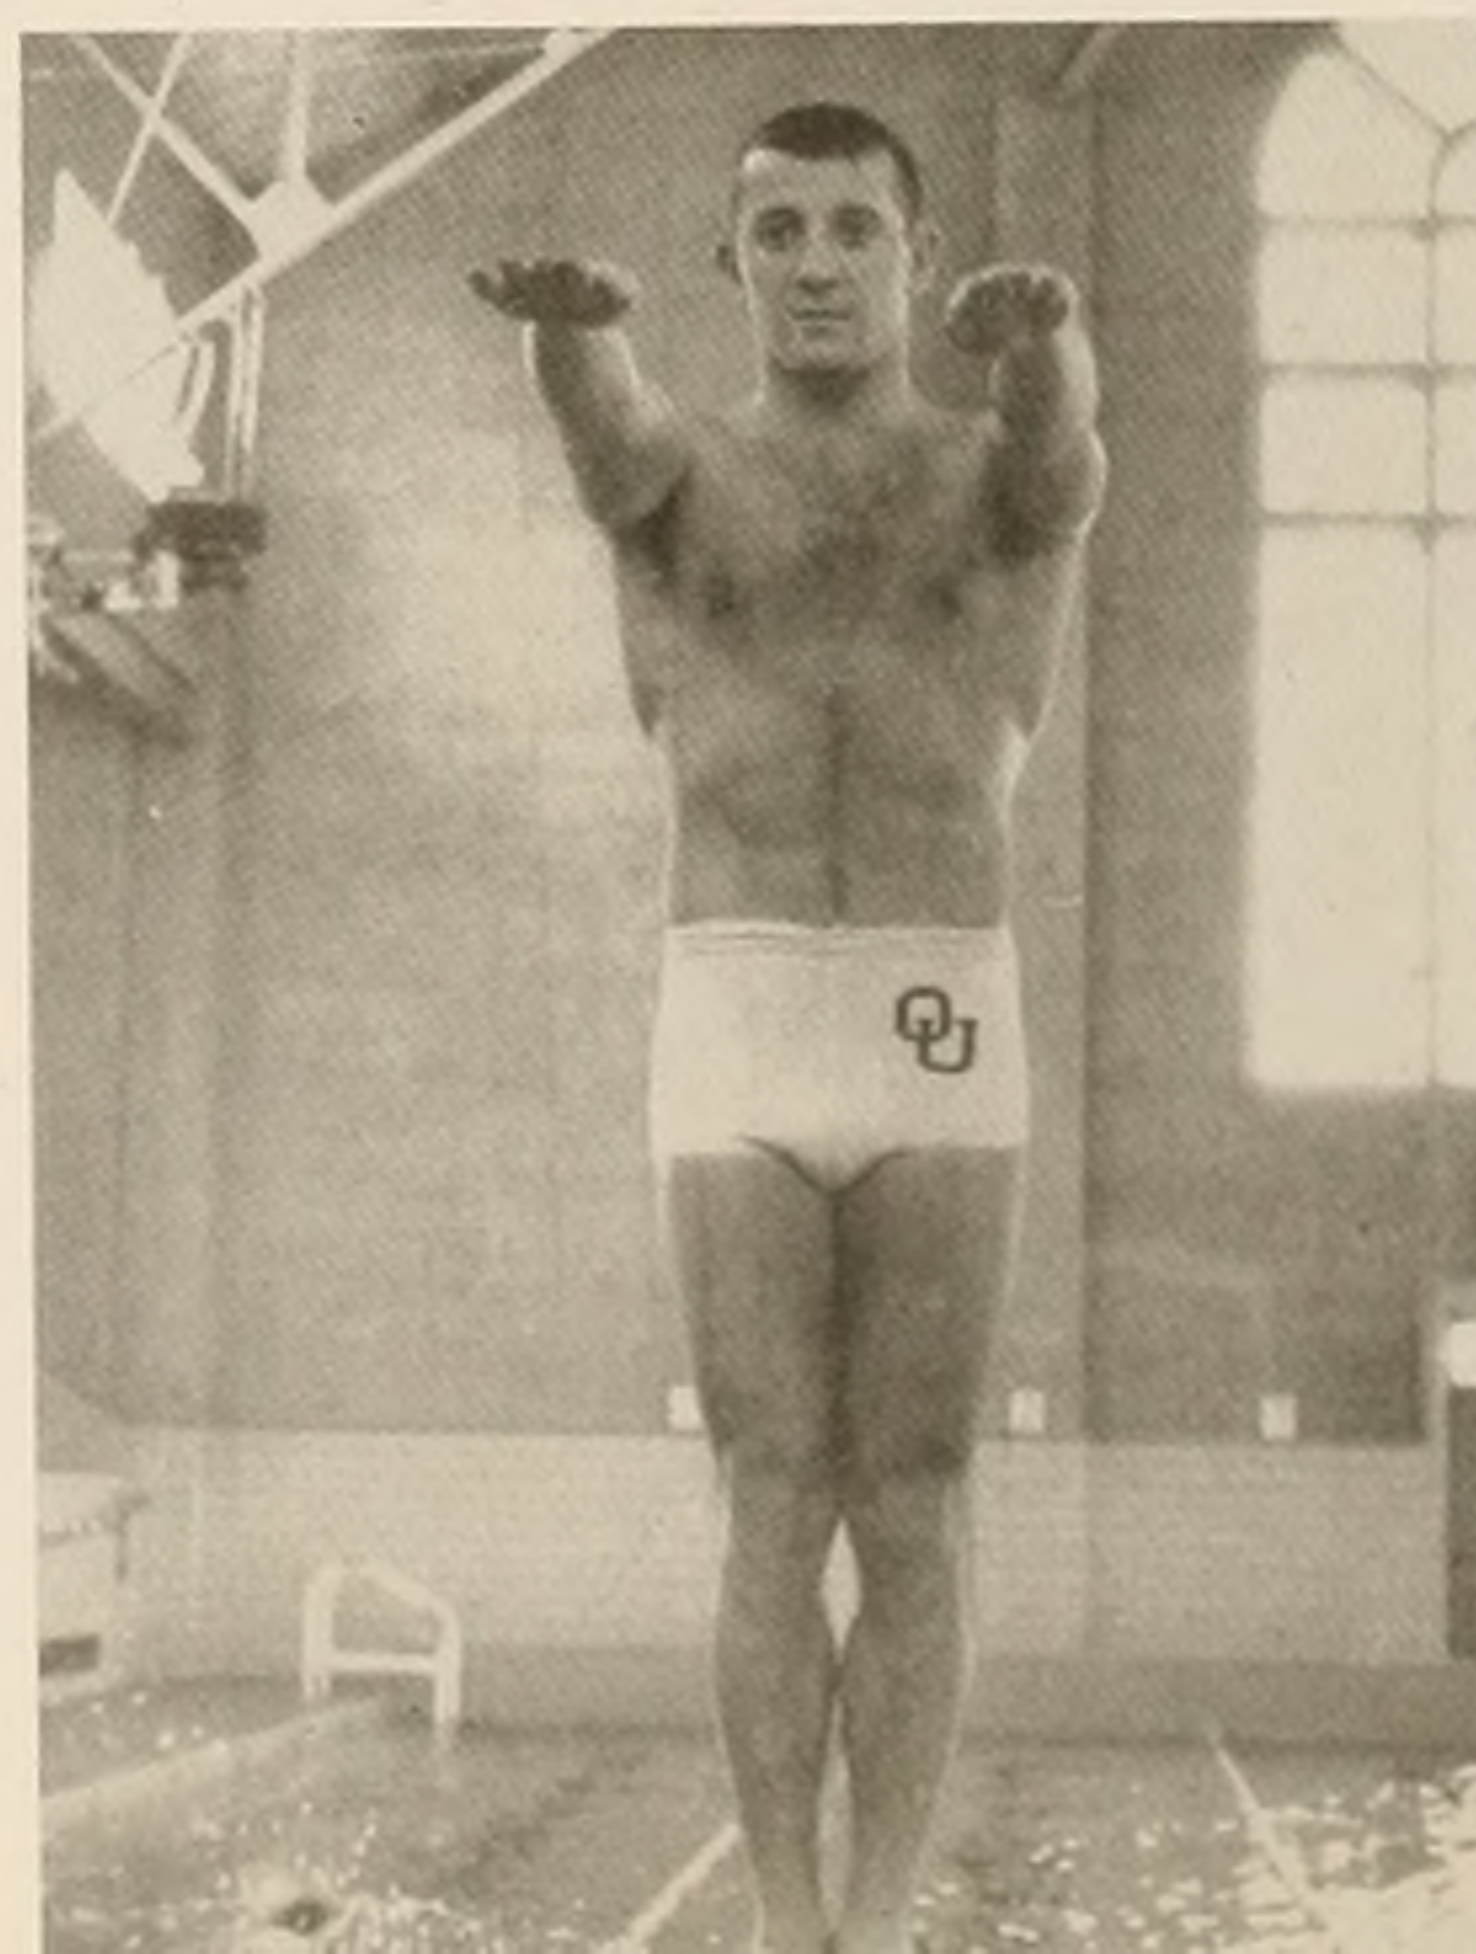

Guided by new coach Bob Bartels, the Ohio swimmers placed second to Bowling Green in the Mid-American Conference relays in their first competitive match. After dunking Ball State Teachers College, 49-35, the tankmen suffered their only dual meet loss, a 46-38 trouncing by Pittsburgh. Drenching Bowling Green 45-39, the mermen then broke a 15-meet winning streak in outstroking Kenyon 45-39. Before turning back Kent 52-32 in the season final, the local pool dwellers out-statisticked Miami, 45½-38½, and Ohio Wesleyan, 48-36, in succession. The Bobcats placed second in the conference championship meet, trailing champion Miami's 110 total by 10 points. Two OU swimmers, Potter and Botuchis, placed high in the NCAA tourney.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

From the record number of freshmen at OU last fall came the most sparkling array of basketball talent that has competed for OU in recent years. In racking up 11 wins and dropping four, the frosh lost only to powerful Lockbourne (twice), Marshall, and the Bliss varsity.

Joann Stonerock

TENNIS

If the old competitive principle, "you play better when you play with the best," rates the backing it has, tennis should rise from the ranks of the little-known varsity sports at OU. The team opened a tough schedule with Wisconsin, then went on to more opposition of the same caliber. Besides the schedule, this year's squad had a fulltime coach for the first time in Bob Bartels, boasted five seasoned veterans, and hosted the Mid-Am tourney.

Kneeling: Carl Hutchison, Al Ludlum, Paul Cowen; standing: Dick Nellis, Bill Lagonegro, Roger Fenneman, Joe Saggio.

GOLF

Going into the spring campaign as Mid-American Champs, the Bobcat golfers blanked Marietta 27-0 in the opener and then dropped two of three matches in the South. Despite the two defeats, prospects were good for another Mid-Am trophy. 1954's first five was back, bolstered by a promising group of undergraduates.

Like the golf team, the baseballers copped the Mid-American crown last spring. Handicapped by heavy spring rains in early spring practice, the Bobcats couldn't get hitting and pitching coordinated in the early part of the southern tour. However, veterans and rookies alike started blasting away as conference play opened.

BASEBALL

WRESTLING

Contrary to the unwritten coaching code, Coach Fred Schleicher predicted his "team to be reckoned with" as far back as 1953. And he was right. After grappling with three Big Ten teams, some of the country's most powerful squads, and the Mid-Am's toughest competition to date, the Bobcats proudly claimed a nine won, two lost record, the Mid-Am championship, and third rank in the international 40-team Four-I tourney. And the wrestlers will go into the 1955-56 season with a six-match win skein.

CHEERLEADERS

Who can gauge how much higher a cager jumps, how much harder a gridder runs, because of the organized clamor from the friendly crowd? Neither the fan, nor the coach, nor the player can determine that extra, intangible spark. But it is there, and it ranks high in the list of home team advantages. To the player it is a continuous, living source of faith and confidence. To the spectator it is a part of the carefree, relaxing color of sports.

The cheerleaders create the spark and fan it into a vociferous, emotional flame. At its height, it engulfs the cheerleaders and the crowd, and even the scene, and yet it is a part of every person there. Somehow it gives the crowd unity and sets it apart from the rest of the world.

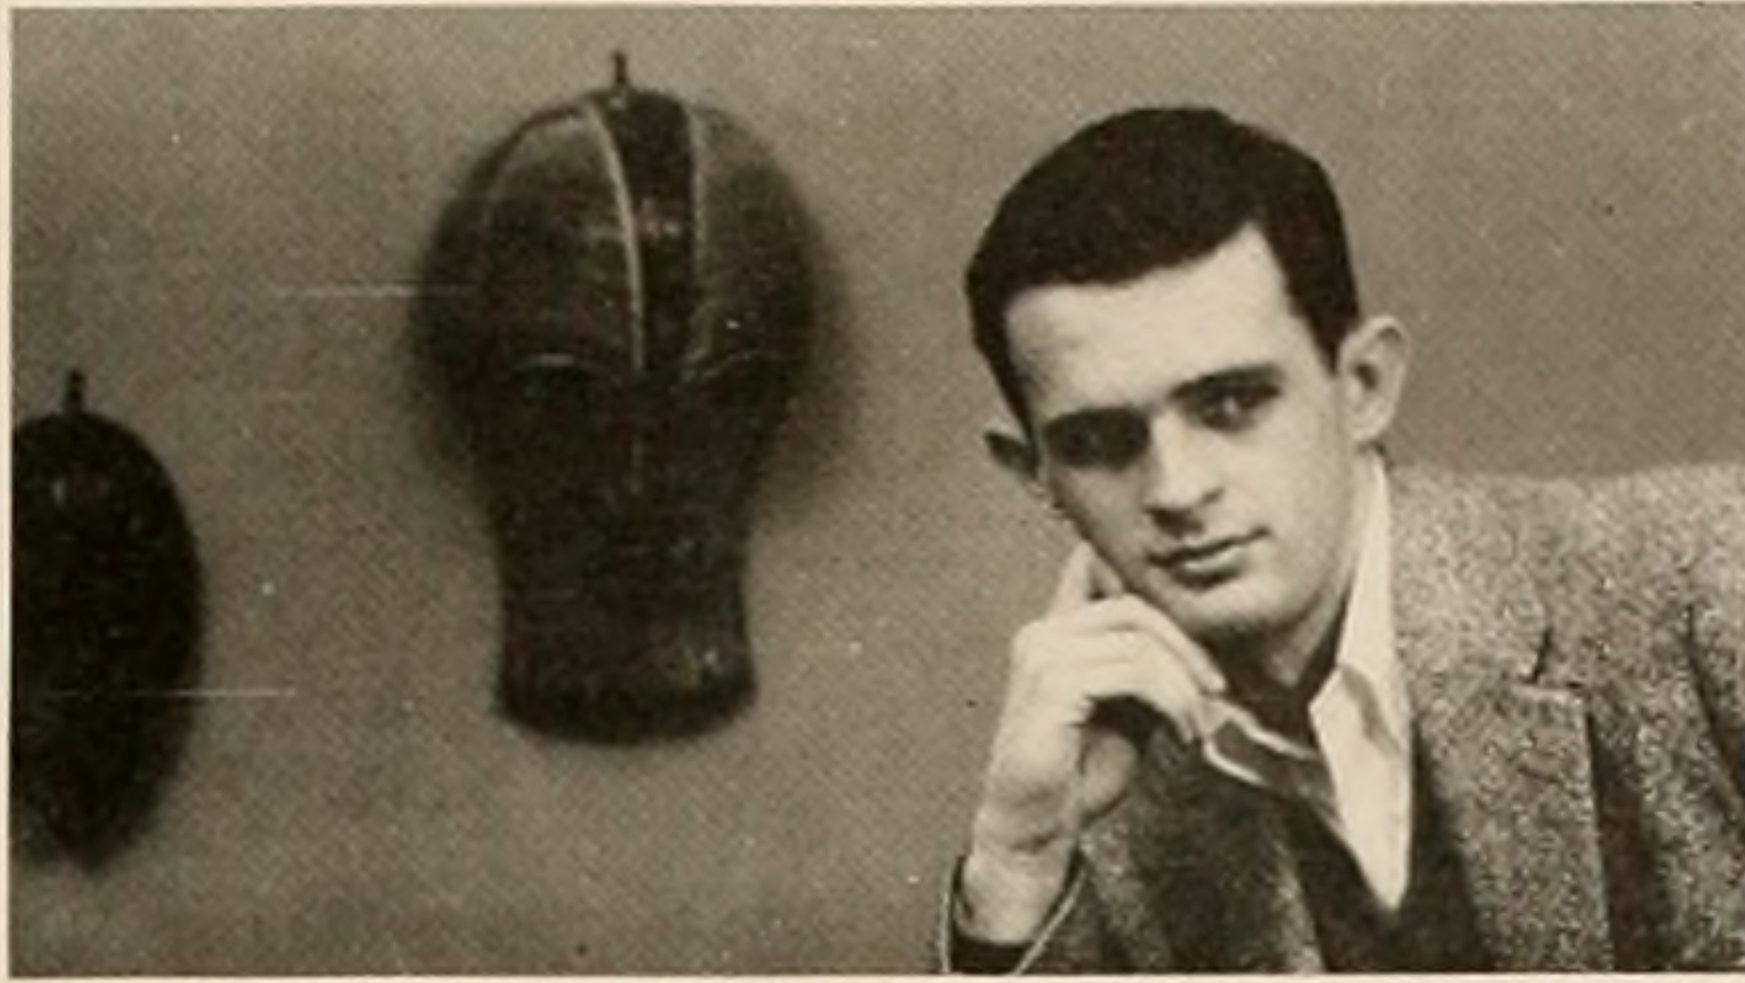

And even after the cheerleaders and the crowd have gone, their echoes linger on in the empty stands.

Four years is a long time. There are a great many memories involved: some that will soon be forgotten, others that will linger on and on. A great deal of work went into those four years and now it is the end of that pursuit of knowledge and a beginning of a career.

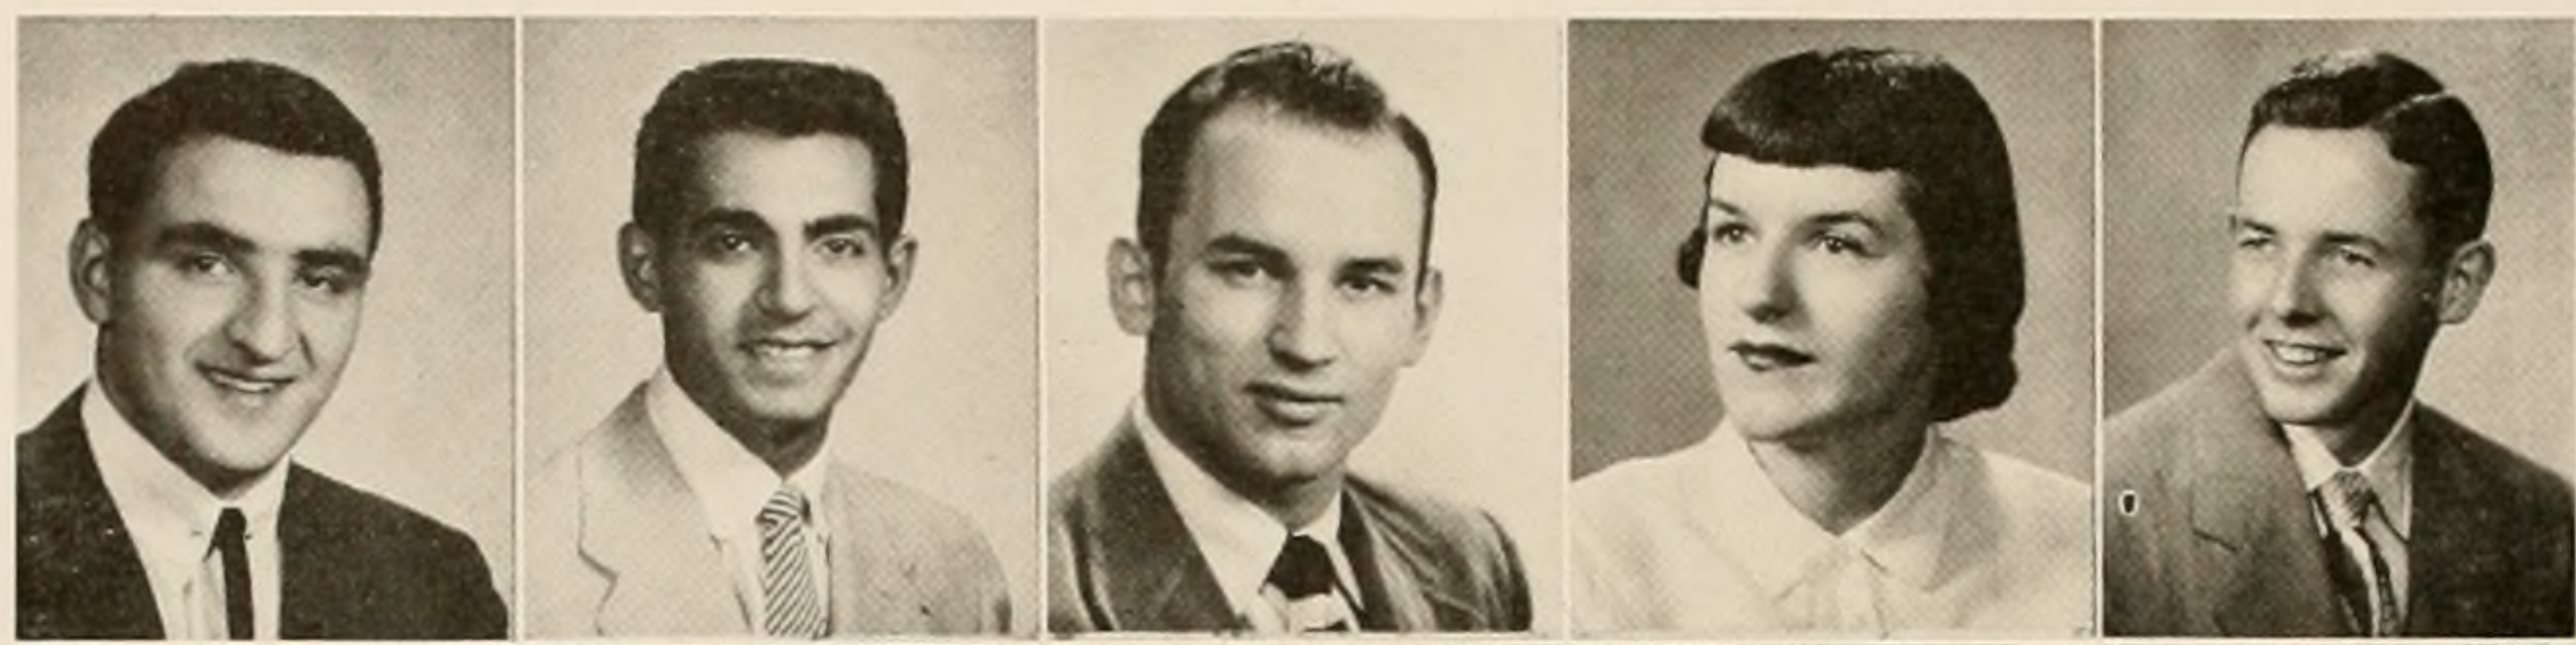

One by one the friends begin to fade away as the long line decreases and each of them goes his own way. They go to take their places in the nation: places for which the University has equipped them. And who knows, some day their paths will cross.

PAUSE IN A LIFETIME

For students, their childhood behind them and a long life ahead, college is a sojourn and for this pause in a lifetime is the home on the campus. For them the housing units promise an integration of differences and each day is the turning of a kaleidoscope, in many ways a new design of personalities, but always within the same frame.

There is the multitude seen during the day, but is gone at night, absorbed within shadowy recesses. Only an occasional light shines, in the lounges where there is no one or perhaps a group at a game of cards, the studious student sitting silently by and possibly some tired person who has gone to sleep while reading.

Some of the buildings are old and stand proudly in an aura of traditions. Others have been recently born and the after-birth of mud and wood scraps and bolts is strewn about. Many are large and resemble an anthill or a beehive of socialism. Others are small and, while less active, enjoy a certain intimacy.

But large or small, old or new, housing units are ultimately mere mirrors or picture frames, the reflection or showcase of their occupants.

EAST GREEN

The boys from down under are coming up in the world!

East Green, often called by a number of aliases, finds brick dormitories replacing barracks, grass replacing mud and paved walks replacing paths in a $7,900,000 change.

Five new dorms, including Bush, Biddle, Read, Johnson, and Perkins Halls, were in use this year and three more, plus a cafeteria, were under construction.

The Green has not spent all its time in building, for all five housing units joined in an actual social program.

Although the Green has rapidly changed its appearance, the "over the hill" men still face the 111 steps up Union Street.

INTERDORM COUNCIL

In any diverse cross-section of people, problems and disagreements are bound to arise.

Interdormitory Council provides an ear for these problems—and most often, solutions.

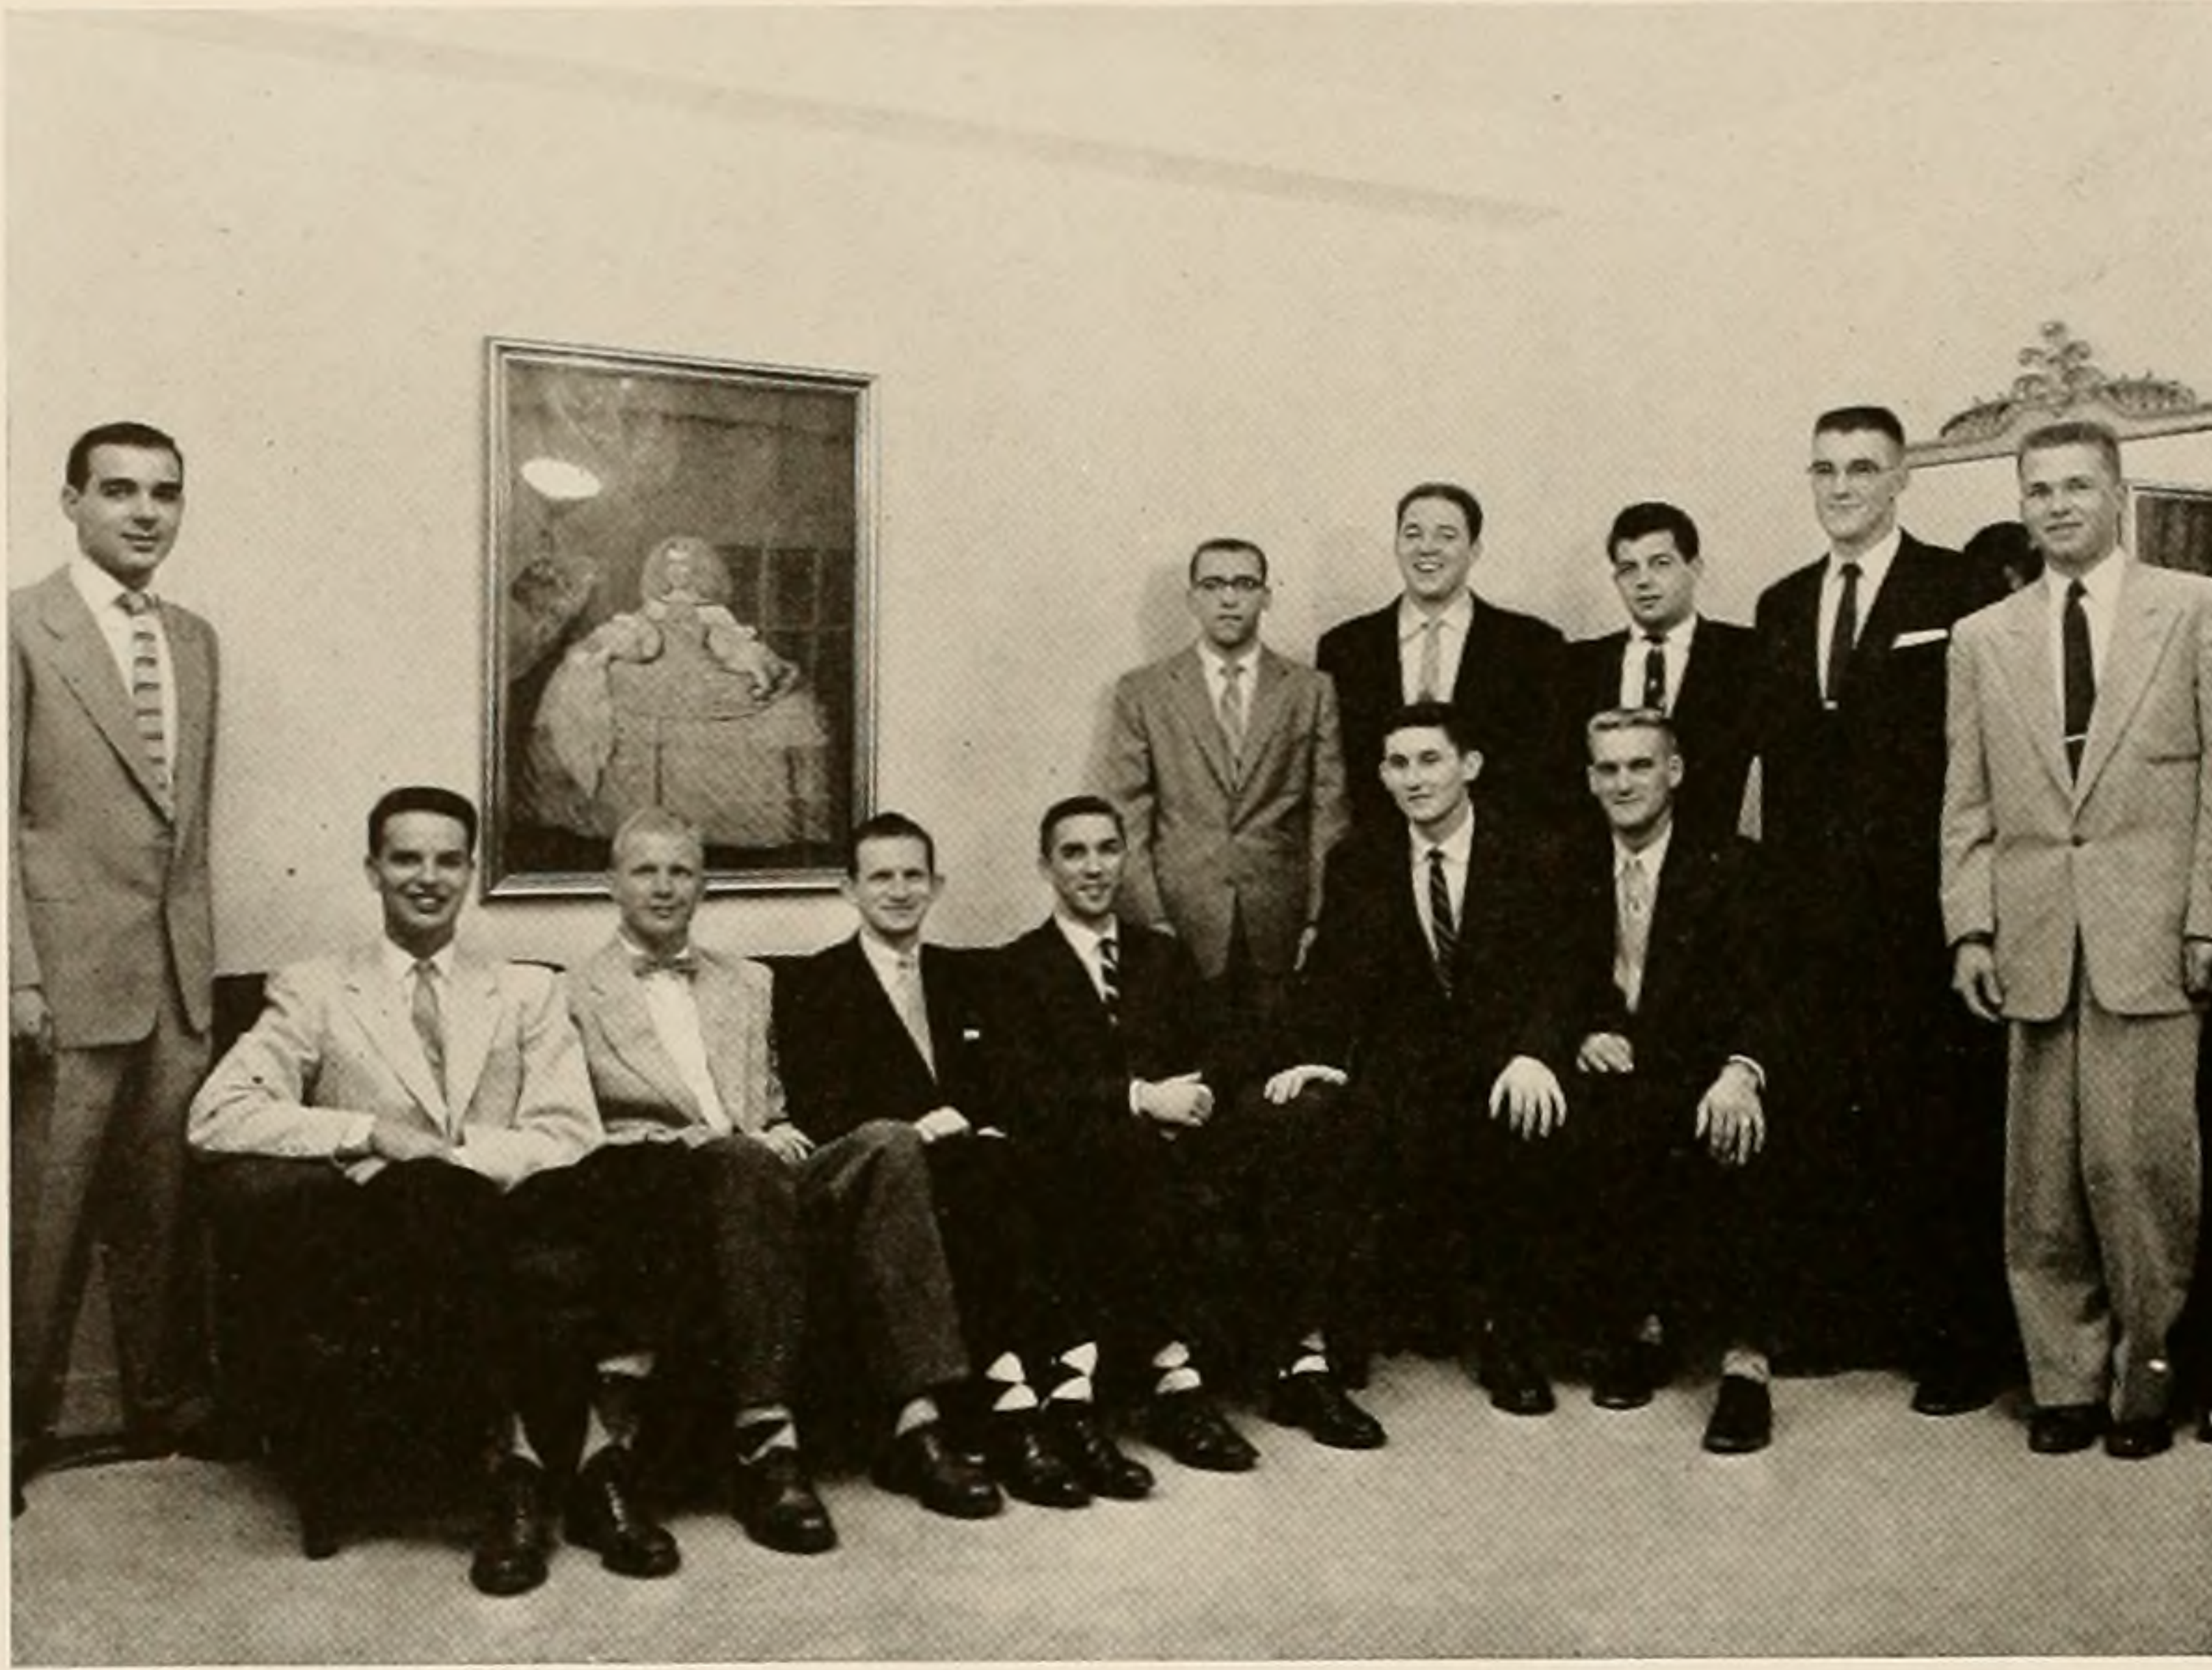

Representatives to Council are officers of each women's dormitory on campus, officers who return to their units to include all residents in the plans and activities of the group.

Members of Council are also members of other important campus groups, and these organizations can contact dorm residents through this channel.

All is not business with the important core, for the annual Interdorm Formal is a large social function on the schedule.

BRYAN

HALL

It was early this year and the girl told her date, a freshman from Bryan Hall, that she had lived at Bryan the previous year. He saw that she was serious and he was stupefied. What he failed to realize was that the Bryan Hall men became the first group of male students ever to reside in a girl's dormitory. These students were lucky that they didn't have to climb the hill from East Green, that they had an elevator in the building and bath tubs. The mirrors in the hallways served no purpose whatsoever, except to see what was going behind you or, as has often happened, to find that the guy that was approaching you was your own reflection.

With frequent parties, a fall and a spring formal, and a float entry in the Homecoming Parade, among other activities, these men were quite active socially.

SCOTT QUADRANGLE

Girls have taken over Scott Quad!

Showing the faculty and administration just what the feminine touch had done to the massive housing unit used formerly by males, the residents held a tea last November, giving 350 guests an opportunity to inspect the dorm.

Christmas, 1954, will be long remembered by the girls of Scott—the caroling, a formal dance, and a Christmas banquet by candlelight.

The theme of Scott Quad has been "You for Unity," and residents have worked together on projects and activities with this in mind.

One particular project is especially important—the Pat Kelly Scholarship, in memory of the late resident counselor.

HOWARD HALL

"Sally's Homecoming Queen!"

The feminine scream announcing the results of the contest filled the halls of Howard Hall, expressing the enthusiasm of the residents of this housing unit as one of their girls "hit the top."

Enthusiasm is perhaps a key word at Howard. The social undertakings—a Halloween party, the Tavern Dance, "Little Sister Weekend"—all reflect the mood of the lighthearted girls housed in the brick building on the corner of College and Union.

LINDLEY HALL

Lindley is more than a worn hat rack to the girls who live in the "miniature palace of Court Street."

There are marks on the floor where others before them have walked, and the dorm's many traditions make life in such a unit more worthwhile. Marble Hall with its goodnight kisses, the winter formal, and the Cherry Pie Dance are just a few of the memorable and memory-evoking parts of dorm life, where girls of all races and creeds learn to live together in harmony.

Among the projects of the girls at Lindley this year was a fall banquet honoring Rev. Jacob Lindley, Ohio University's first president, for whom the dormitory was named. Lindley resident Betsy Ross presented a flag in memory of him.

BOYD HALL

The smallest dorm on campus is also the oldest dorm on campus, and claims to have the best-fed girls on campus!

Housing approximately 100 women, Boyd takes part in some large-scale social activities. Occuring during the first heavy snowfall of winter, the formal dance following a theme of "Snowflake Fantasy" was appropriately named. Earlier in the year, residents had enjoyed a Lake Hope outing, Maggie Boyd Day, a carnival, and the Pink Elephant Night Club, a first semester open house.

OHIO UNIVERSITY CENTER DORM

Above the maze of rec rooms, lounges, offices, and the never-ceasing buzz of student activity, is the Center Dorm. Here there are no regulated quiet hours. And it isn't because of the blaring TV, the playing of the piano in the lounge downstairs. The girls are aware of the need for quiet when studying.

The dorm has a home-like atmosphere. Everyone knows everyone else, the girls at the desk never ask the regular callers who they want.

In more ways than one, these girls are on the top. They belong to the top classes, the highest combined point average of the women's dormitories and they live on an upper story of the campus, it seems.

VOIGT HALL

Amid the roar of construction, girls moved into Ohio University's newest dorm in September. The construction of Voigt, which is named in honor of Irma Elizabeth Voigt, Dean of Women at Ohio University for almost 40 years, was begun less than a year after the dean's death in May 1953.

The colonial design of the building adds an air of grandeur to the already spacious campus. The 195 girls who live there find relaxation and enjoyment in the lounges which have been the final touch of beauty.

Activities of the dorm included Angel-Pixie Week, Dean Voigt Service Project Day, and the Winter Formal with the theme, "Rhapsody in Blue."

Seated left to right: Margaret Catanzaro, Beverly Pennay (secretary), Rita Freiler (treasurer), Doris Platt (president), Mrs. Forman (resident counselor), Shirley Babitt (vice-president), Janet Gray (assistant art chairman), Doris Goldman (art chairman), Gladys Leshko (music chairman), Nancy Philp, Yvonne Spotsman, Vicky Czuba; Standing: Phyllis Edelman, Della Greco, Roberta Boyd, Lee Stauffer, Gerry Godby, Dot Burns, Marigene Pelouze, Nancy Pearce, Ann Noffsinger, Evelyn Doctors, Julie Shannon, Nancy Lee Smith, Betty Durivage, Charlotte Pastor, Carolyn Horn, Shirley Potter, Kay Latham, Terry Argie.

COLLEGE STREET COTTAGE

These are the little housing units, where the house is a home. There are either fourteen girls in one large room, or eighteen girls in a number of rooms. It is an experiment in community living in its truest form.

"Who's resident counselor here?" . . . "Well, we really don't have a resident counselor. You see . . . Well, here she comes now." . . .

A young woman who looks like the other residents walks in. She's the college proctor, an upperclass woman who steps into the role of housemother-confessor-and-best friend.

In the cottages there is experienced an intimacy and family-like atmosphere which is not possible in large dorms. And girls who have lived in one of OU's four small housing units consider their time there valuable to their college careers.

WELCH COTTAGE

MATTHEWS COTTAGE

LEARNING AND PLAYING

One of the highest forms of society is to learn and play, to relax and absorb the lessons of life, at the same time. This is because life is both seriousness and laughter. And this is more so in the social life of a campus.

Organizations, with groups of faces bleached in candle or fluorescent light, always have keenly etched horizons with well-defined aims. There are the ones that must hurdle barriers as well as shatter them. There are others where men sing, laugh, dream, construct, create and solve: groups with a common denominator, each fraction of the whole grasping a string of the same balanced rope. And always discussing big problems, the aesthetics with one foot in Bohemia.

Dancing or discussing, light or serious, similar minds communicate common ideas and solve common problems. The next dance, history, the coming generations, education, the other side of the world, fashion, food—the list is endless. And they will go on, though students will come and go, till the last of the voices echoes through the void.

CAMPUS AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

The CAC has a tremendous task to fulfill each year under the able guidance of Dean Margaret M. Deppen, it serves to supervise social groups, recognize new ones and approve budgets. It is also responsible for selecting staffs for the Athena and the OU Post and granting permission for special activities on campus. It is this organization that plans summer recreational programs and approves faculty advisors. Around their service the wheel of campus life revolves, guided by the strength of authoritative spokes.

A completely new Student Council ushered in the 1954-55 year at OU, with a fall reorganization which included certain innovations.

Student Council office hours, during which time students are asked to bring in questions and suggestions, were arranged to be held every afternoon. "Sound Off," a weekly radio show, is sponsored by Council for a discussion of campus problems.

Annual events under the supervision of the group are Political Week, Campus Chest Week, Mothers' Weekend and special convos.

STUDENT COUNCIL

MEN'S UNION PLANNING BOARD

The two big jobs of coordinating all men's activities on the campus and governing the male population at Ohio University falls on Men's Union Planning Board.

Two specific duties of the organization are the formation of the Men's Disciplinary Board and the newly organized student courts.

MUPB also backs many all-campus events in the 1954-55 year, events which included the Freshman Mixer, the Registration Hop, the Homecoming parade and queen election, Migration Day, the Leadership Banquet, and the Leaders' Conference.

The Foreign Students Loan Fund, providing emergency financial aid to the University's students from abroad, is directed by the planning board.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Flouting the traditional women's place in the home, Women's League members play an active role in student government. Dorm closing hours, proper dress and rules of conduct are decided on by them.

In addition, the League presents its annual recognition service in the spring. The outstanding leaders of every campus organization are honored at a special get-together.

For the first time this year, a king was selected to reign over Coed Prom, when it is the girl's turn to take over the date, including expenses.

BLUE KEY

Blue Key is a national service honorary and its services are seen in more than one phase of campus life. They usher at convocations, continually replace signs welcoming students to Ohio University ("They have been found to be missing occasionally," one member said), and decorate the campus during Christmas, adding a beautiful touch to the Green during the festivities.

They sponsor a Comic Field Day during Greek Week and the Inter-Fraternity Pledge Council dance. Blue Key also publishes the booklet about fraternities that freshmen receive before coming to school.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

First row left to right: Donald E. Bobo, Sam D. Greiner, Jerry Kinnane, Charles Carpenter, Professor Ralph F. Beckert, Joseph H. Dando, Associate Professor William H. Fenzel, Ellsworth Holden, George Mitchel, Second Row: Dale Selzer, Benjamin Bader, Richard Robe, Third Row: James Dilley, Joseph Kall, Hugh Gillilon, Fourth row: Donald Huebner, John Wood, James Morey, Fifth row: John Schwab, Thomas Lee, John Watson, Sixth row: Lou Spiegel, Dick McQuillin.

These are the honor fraternities that recognize outstanding achievements among seniors. Members of ODK, in ceremonial black robes, walk down the aisles at a function in Memorial Auditorium, tapping senior men. This year ODK sponsored an additional Homecoming Dance.

Mortar Board consists of outstanding women who help students from abroad with their studies, hold a book sale Parisian style and act as hostesses to parents of prospective students.

MORTAR BOARD

CHIMES

Chimes, National Honor Society for Jr. Women, acts as hostess to students coming to OU for the Ohio History examination, welcomes transfer students, secures rooms for visitors and entertains outstanding sophomores with a tea.

J-CLUB

Eleven is the mystic number of J-Club, for on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month it taps 11 outstanding junior men for membership. Chief activity is a spring banquet before J-Prom. And the non-officers are elected members of an "honorary co-sub board of trustees."

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Alpha Lambda Delta, the freshmen women's honorary, congratulated all freshmen women who had above a 3.0 in hopes of encouraging them to strive for a 3.5 and thus be eligible for membership in the organization. Initiation of new members, collecting furniture for foreign students and a tea for scholarship students are the fraternity's main activities.

PHI ETA SIGMA

Freshman men in the know have realized that honoraries aren't just for upper classmen. Bids from Phi Eta Sigma are given to freshmen men with a 3.5 or above. Only Phi Beta Kappa requires a higher point average. Men of Phi Eta Sigma help with the annual Dean's List reception and promote scholarship in the freshman class.

Left to right, front row: J. T. Kropf, Dick Gibson, Art Vermillion, Jay Gordonson, Marve Berger, Richard Gast, Jesse Lee, John Callahan, Dave Marr, Jim Bramer. Second Row: Elsworth Holden, Harvey Loeb, Tom Balding, Harry Katzan, Charles Pinney (president), Clark Higgins. Back row: Sandy Gaffin, Jim Leonard, Dr. F. D. Kershner (adviser), Ben Gray, Mitch Samargya, Jim Dillely, Roman Schultz, John Haerberle, Frank Daniels, Bill Taylor, Dave Baker.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Promoting further knowledge of the opportunities in the field of home economics and promoting friendliness among the girls is the purpose of the Home Economics Club.

PHI UPSILON OMICRON

Phi Upsilon Omicron, national professional organization of home economics, is made up of home economics majors who rank in the upper two-fifths of the sophomore class in scholarship.

Holding as its main purpose the advance and promotion of home economics, the organization sends colored slides of the OU department to high schools in Ohio.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Future society editors, feature editors, and public relations experts are represented in Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism fraternity for women.

Speakers in many fields of writing appear at professional meetings throughout the year to give ideas of the problems the girls will meet in their careers.

National project for the fraternity this year is the improvement of literature and comic books.

Among the undertakings of the group are the tea for freshman women interested in journalism, and a conducted tour of the Ohio University School of Journalism for visiting high school seniors in the spring.

Seated left to right: Mary Lou Evans, Julie Sturgiss, Mrs. L. N. Hortin and Vera W. Gillespie (Advisers), Bess Ann Earenfight (President), Beverly Chain. Standing: Evelyn Trapp, Jeanne S. Hunter, Dotty Brozovich, Betty Durivage, Helen Sutton, June Noland, Marilyn Ristau, Joanne Rusche, June Roseberry.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi at Ohio University does things in a big way.

The local chapter had the largest undergraduate delegation at the professional journalism's national convention in Columbus last fall.

The annual Newspaper Ball, sponsored by the fraternity, was the first major event of the year.

Students can thank Sigma Delta Chi for the desk blotters printed with campus calendars which are distributed in registration lines, as well as for the Freshman handbooks which were given to 2200 first year students last fall.

Also a project of the fraternity was the Student Publications Clinic held early in second semester.

Prominent journalists speak at the meetings of the group, which was established at OU in 1930.

OU CENTER PLANNING BOARD

White letters on a black background spell out the names of the organizations meeting this week in the Center . . . Complaints have arisen concerning the use of the game room . . . An art exhibit is hung in the hallway of second floor . . . Music ushers forth from the ballroom as a semi-formal dance is in progress . . .

All these activities, plus many others—including sports, recreation, and social activities, are registered with the OU Center Program Board.

All members of the board, with the exception of the director, are students who know what is wanted in the Center by other students, and see that it is accomplished.

TAU BETA PI

Tau Beta Phi, national honorary society for engineers, annually gives to its outstanding member a cash prize and plaque.

Pledges are invited twice a year into the organization.

CHEMISTRY SOCIETY

Stimulating interest in their field through technical movies and speakers from industry is the purpose of the members of the Ohio University Chemical Society.

Conducting a tour of the chemistry department is a project for Mothers' Weekend.

OHIO SOCIETY OF PROFESSIONAL ENGINEERS

When engineering students gather, you can make certain that the product of their activities will be planned, precise, and well-calculated, and these terms appropriately describe the undertakings of the OU Chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers.

Not wishing to limit their activities to social functions alone, such as the annual Engineers' Ball, the society learns through taking field trips to industrial centers and listening to reknown engineers at their meetings.

An annual open house for high school students in the spring is among the projects of the group, and delegates are sent to the yearly convention in Cincinnati.

Seated left to right: Edward Sterling, Jerry Hicks, Ned Keiber, Don Lundstrom, Dan Turner, Ron Price, Jim Campbell, Jim French. Standing: William Schlauch, Bob Richmond, George Arthur, John Gilliland, John Sackl, David Dever, John Dunn, Sam McCarty, Donald Bobo, Ernest Anderson, Richard Harnar, Benjamin Bader (President), Wayne Krause, Paul E. Bandy, Hugh A. Watkins, Gaylen Kline, Donald K. Grierson, Tom Oatman, Paul Harlamert, Jr., Bob Beltz, Art Foltz, Hap Shariblin, Jim Jamieson.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic honorary, has an active chapter at OU, for its members have captured state titles in some of the year's most important debate tournaments.

This includes both the women's and men's (invitational) Ohio State tournaments.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

Hands create—two pieces of metal are sewn together with needles of fire—wood becomes a table leg, clay becomes a vase.

Members of the Industrial Arts Club are familiar with this type of creativity, and join together with this mutual familiarity in mind.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

A special trip to Toronto, Canada was a highlight of the year for the OU chapter of the ASME.

Meetings of the group give members a chance to hear reknown engineers and to see technical movies which broaden their education.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

Started two years ago the American Society of Civil Engineers began to provide opportunity for further development in the field and for beginning professional associations.

The North Central Conference of student chapters is an annual feature of the ASCE schedule.

Seated left to right: George Batcho, John Raiser, Dick Robe, Earl Scyoc, E. H. Gaylord (Faculty Advisor), Bob Cunning (President), Irvin P. Badger (Honorary Member), Tony Morrone, Jim French, Wayne Grierson, John Loxley, Thomas N. Perrelli. Standing: Hap Shamblyn, Roger Hadley, Dave Heinrich, Roman Scholtz, Ralph Milano, John Sack, William R. Stoops, Robert Frederick, Dave Lambert, Mike Greene, Raymond Meyers, Dan Turner, Bob Emmons, Dick Fox, Ted Newsome, W. S. Kelly, Gerald Brammer.

WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION

More members than ever before is the important factor which has enabled the Women's Recreation to carry out its many activities with the spirit of sportsmanship present in all undertakings. Besides the usual overnights, playdays, and dances, this year's schedule included a Talent Show which was an annual event on the program of this active campus group.

VARSITY O

Does it sound strange that basketball players should be wearing boxing gloves? Not at all when you realize that this is just one of the halftime entertainments, among other activities, provided by Varsity O, OU's lettermen organization.

FINNETTES

Water ballet and synchronized swimming are just a part of the activities of the Finnettes on a Wednesday evening. These "junior Dolphins" practice long hours to join the Dolphins in the annual show.

DOLPHIN CLUB

The main purpose of the Dolphin Club is to promote an interest in synchronized swimming, diving, and water ballet.

Activities in the club include a party with the swimming team, initiation of new members and practices for their annual water show.

This water show is the biggest event of the year for the Dolphins and a lot of constructive thinking and plain hard work go into this production. This is usually held at the beginning of second semester.

ETA SIGMA PHI

The O.U. chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, national classical languages honorary fraternity, plays an important part in the activities of Athens County high schools, by giving awards to outstanding classical language students in the high schools from which present members came.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Round-table discussions were conducted this year at the weekly testimonial meetings of the Christian Science Organization. Prominent lecturers came to speak on the beliefs and principles of Science, helping the students to solve every-day problems and learn more about their group.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Canterbury Club is a church organization for Episcopal and Greek Orthodox students. An important part of campus life, Canterbury Club seeks to strengthen the Christian commitment of students within the Church and to present problems in a mature manner to those seeking understanding.

CAMPUS RELIGIOUS COUNCIL

Mid-Week Chapel, religious radio programs, and Faith in Action Week, were just some of the many activities sponsored by Campus Religious Council. The council is made up of the various religious groups on campus, and seeks to foster fellowship among the different organizations.

First row (left to right) Art Vermillion, Hugh Gillilan, president; Doris Roth, Malcolm Klaiman, Jacob Mirriss. Second row: Virginia Stoner, Terry Perkins, Gordie Keller, Dave Bowman, Barbara Schumm. Third row; Rev. George Oerke, Eileen Wickline, William Philabaum, Phil Henderson, Paul Stockman, Bob Schmeding, Marian Smallegan, Bob Gaebler.

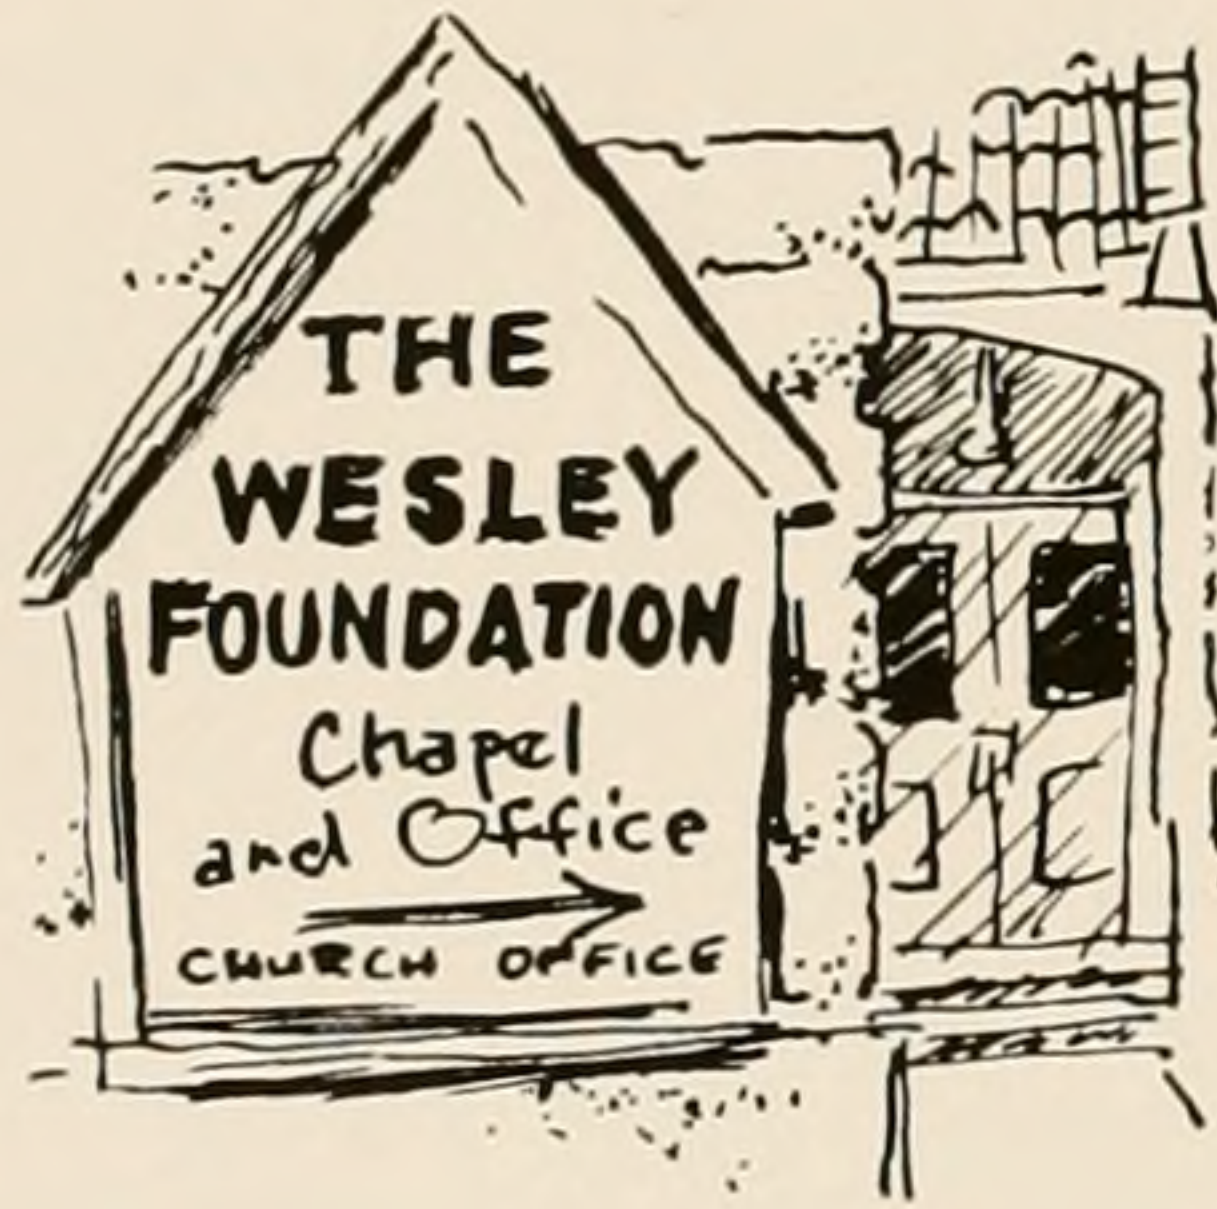

A scene from the Wesley Choir and Players production of Mrs. Eusibia Hunkins' "Wondrous Love," a mountain choral drama of the nativity.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Song sessions, weekly vespers and fellowship suppers were just a small part of the Wesley agenda this year. Members wrote for "Torch," and sang in the Wesley Choir. This year, the Choir made its eighth annual spring tour through Ohio.

The program is also highlighted by the spring, fall and mid-winter retreats. These weekends away from the campus allowed serious thought as well as laughter and fun, and a closer bond was achieved through a warm comradeship of fellow-beings.

The Foundation helps churches, the children's home and other institutions by repairing furniture, painting and in many other ways.

RELIGION, FELLOWSHIP, RECREATION

KAPPA PHI

"Every Methodist woman in the university world today, a leader in the Church of tomorrow", is the purpose of Kappa Phi which is the club for Methodist preference college women. Kappa Phi is a National organization which has forty chapters throughout the country; Phi chapter was founded at Ohio University in 1928.

Girls are pledged twice a year, and a Rose Tea is given in their honor. These girls send gifts to children in Korea and aid a missionary in Pakistan.

SIGMA THETA EPSILON

In 1925, a group of men appreciated the need for a closer Christian fellowship among men of Methodist preference, and organized the national religious fraternity which is now known by the name, Sigma Theta Epsilon. This group believes it can do much to stimulate the development of high moral standard among college men.

The motto of the fraternity, "We are workers together with God through the church", gives direction to their activities.

WESTMINSTER FOUNDATION

Centered around the newly remodeled Westminster House on College Street, the Foundation's activities were many and varied this year. One of the most important was the dedication of the house, which members helped to clean up, paint and furnish in their spare time.

The annual Upper Room Supper was the most significant event, while more informal gatherings and the weekly Sunday evening suppers were included in the schedule.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

Under its new directorship and its new president, Hillel became increasingly active this year. Religious services, forums, faculty discussions, parties, and informal gatherings have been a part of its weekly agenda.

The newly instituted High-Holy Day services were one of its most important events. Other activities include publication of a small newspaper.

PHI CHI DELTA

This year was an especially memorable one for the girls of Phi Chi Delta, Presbyterian women's sorority, for they moved into their new meeting room at the Westminster House. Special parties and meetings were among their activities.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Lutheran Student Association stressed both the religious as well as the social aspect of life in their functions. The members enjoyed their fellowship which better prepared them for their days after college life.

Seated, (left to right): Shirley Potter, William Maloney, Ellie Rausch, Fred Yoder, Mary Gehring. Second row, Wilda Heldman, Connie McClure, Delores Dey, William Stoos, Marilee Greer, Clyde Zarkos, Janet Duke, Ross Paulson, President. Third row, Don Gregory, Bob Schmeding, Advisor; Dick Gardner, Jack Nemeck, Bob Wendt.

NEWMAN CLUB

Nearly everyone on campus is familiar with one of the Newman Club functions: their big annual spaghetti dinner. Besides this one activity, these Catholic men and women held religious meetings, communion dinners, a Christmas Formal, and the Newman Club-Phi Kappa Retreat held in early spring.

The purpose of this organization is to provide intellectual, spiritual, moral and social development for its members.

Kneeling (left to right): Dick Fischer, Jack Kouempelman, Lou Bodnar, Thomas Kyanko, Bill Loftus, Art Millin. Seated; Carole Fray, Margaret Graves, Carol McCormick, Ann Ziegler, Gloria Vangor, Flo Eppelle, Helen Koehler, Kathleen Hegyes, Jeanie Luongo. Standing; Ken Cummings, Joe Kocab, Jerry Novak, Bernard Zarnick, George Batcho, Ray Abraham, Dick Fox, Herb Wagner, Phil Mead.

YMCA

Seated (left to right); Nicholas Neidich, Martin B. Perry, Arthur Vermillion, (President), William Gill, Barry Nauts, M. T. Vermillion, Burton W. DeVeau, P. Clarence Parker. Standing; Ken Evans, Chuck Evans, Oran Faris, Nelson Woodruff, Melvin Wells, Arthur Ross, Arthur Pallon, John Clark, Bill Robinette, Ben Fassett, John Devol.

One of the services of the YMCA is the book exchange: the selling of books for students. The overall purpose of the Y is sought through a program of worship, study and action leading to a fuller realization of the Christian faith.

BAPTIST DISCIPLE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

The Fellowship this year maintained not only an active religious schedule, but a well-rounded social and recreational program as well. With Friday evenings devoted to socials, Sunday nights were usually devoted to religious meetings.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Campus activities are not the only ones in which members of the YWCA are interested, for their help projects reach many people less fortunate than themselves and show a small part of the warm spirit of the group. Children especially benefit from the YW's Christmas and spring clothing drives and the party for boys and girls of the Children's Home.

However, the organization assumes its place on campus with its annual First Nighter Party for incoming freshman women, Prep Follies in the spring, and interesting panel discussions throughout the year.

KAPPA KAPPA PSI

Kappa Kappa Psi, national music honorary, was formed to promote unity which would create a greater university band.

Members are chosen on the basis of their musical abilities.

PHI MU ALPHA

Presenting concerts in neighboring communities, co-sponsoring the American Music concert, and contributing to the musical instruments and lessons fund for Korean children, Phi Mu Alpha, musical service fraternity, increased music appreciation on both local and international levels.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

All Ohio State Day, when national and province officers and representatives from ten Ohio Chapters of Sigma Alpha Iota met in Athens, and an American Musicale, presented in conjunction with Phi Mu Alpha, were the highlights of Sigma Alpha Iota this year. SAI is the women's music honorary.

The OU Chorus had a big session this year. In addition to the Christmas Convo and Spring Concert—conducted by Dr. Dohnanyi—there was the President's Convo, the OEA State Meeting and the Special Sesquicentennial Convocation. The program was one which fulfilled in every sense the aim of the Chorus; the singing of good choral music.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

There is a power in men's voices when the singing is in unison. This is specially so in the case of the Men's Glee Club, whose voices the campus is familiar with. You hear them when you pass by the Music Hall or when there is a concert in Memorial Auditorium. Their voices reached beyond the campus when they made their tour in addition to their regular concerts.

Under the directorship of Dr. Philip Peterson, another year-mark has been added to the Club's career.

Miss Evangeline Merritt, director of the Women's Glee Club, has an apparently simple recipe she uses constantly. She takes a woman's sweet voice, adds another and yet another; adding until she has the right blend. She puts them together with a dash of "feeling" and of "spirit." And she gives the campus the Women's Glee Club.

These girls have won their way into the hearts of everyone who has heard them. But behind their singing is a wonderful activity in which students are brought together and learn to work with one another.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

OU SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The power of music is indeed great and these talented and hardworking members of the OU Symphony Orchestra endeavor to prove it in their semi annual concerts. Highlighting the year for the group was the special program for Mothers' Weekend.

Dr. Ernst von Dohnanyi, noted composer, conductor, and pianist, returned to the campus to serve as guest conductor for the occasion.

The orchestra is under the baton of Deforest Ingerham and Karl Ahrendt.

OHIO UNIVERSITY BAND

The auditorium gradually became quiet as the applause died down and the man struck up the band. They played two marches composed by the man himself. He was Capt. Thomas F. Darcy, retired director of the U. S. Army Band.

This is one of the many phases in the life of the Ohio University Band. You first see the Band at the football game where they liven up the half-time, playing and making formations. They add zest to the pep rallies and play at basketball and other games. They perform at concerts both on the campus and on tour. And, as always, it is the leading figure who stands out and guides and coaches and conducts: Charles Minelli. The final tribute is his!

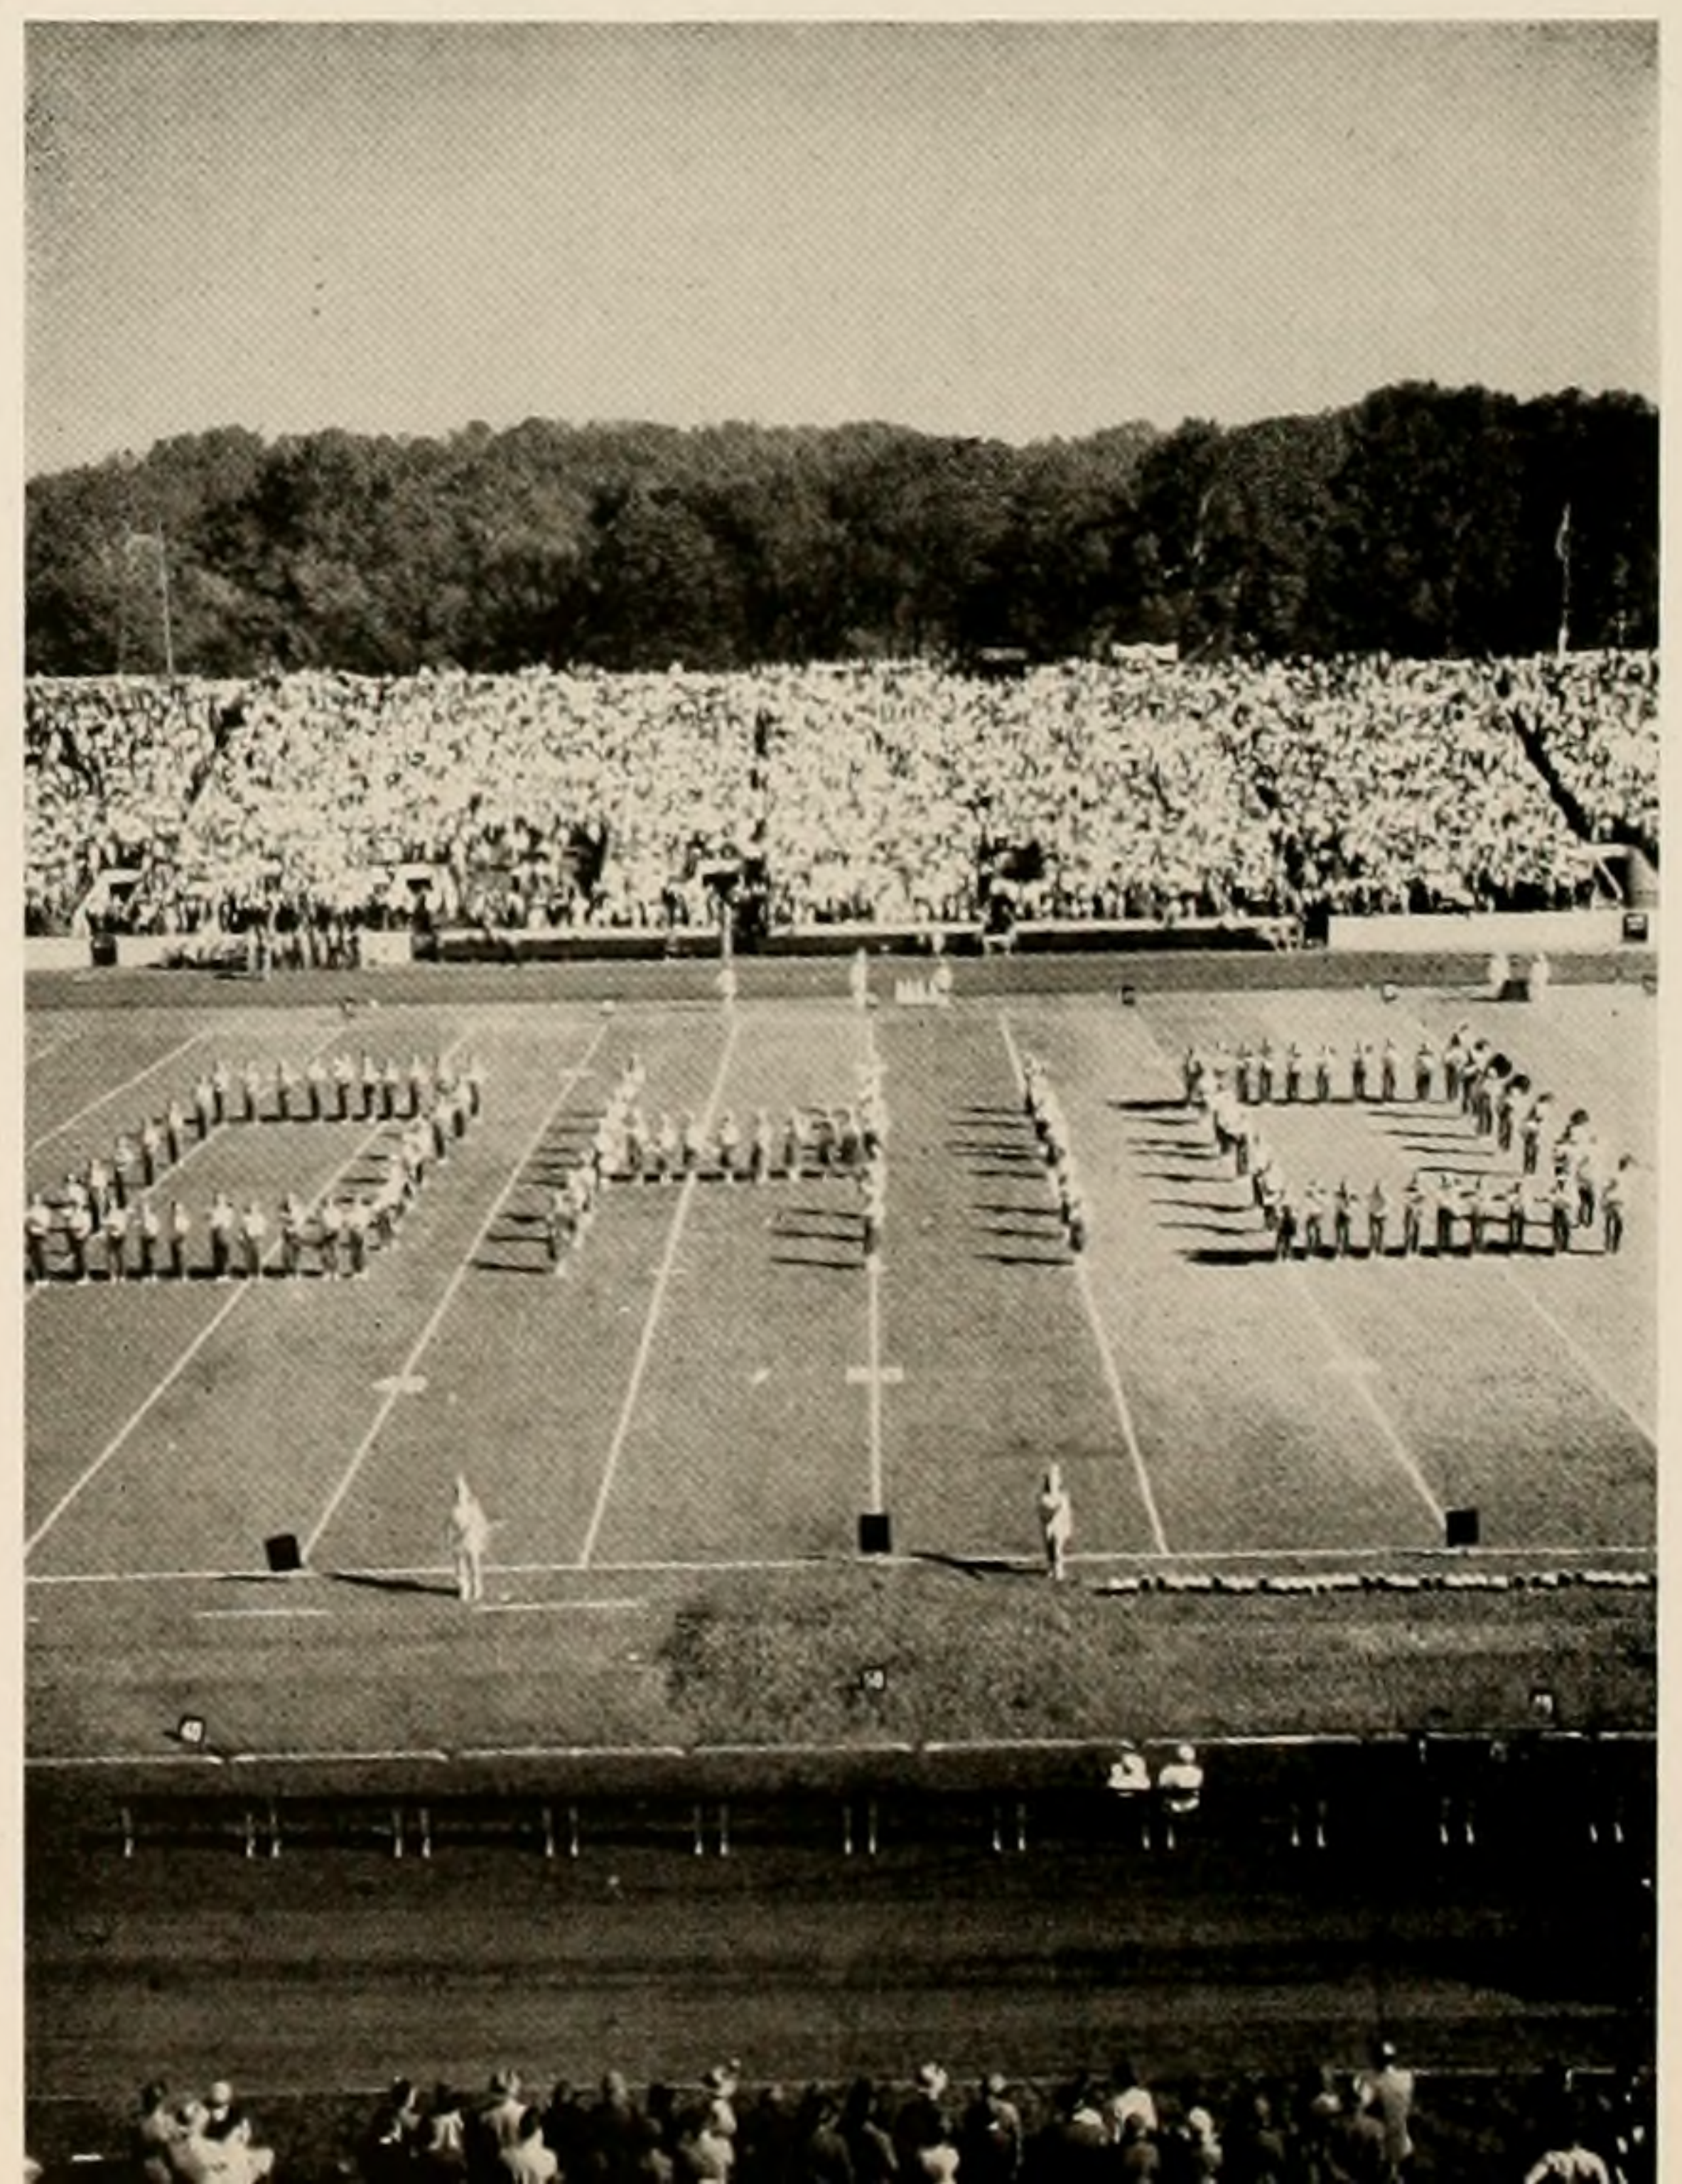

Charles Minelli (Advisor), Janet Miller (President), Edna Warman, Dorothy Minelli, Harriett Sapp, Nancy Pearce, Janis Davis, Helen Koehler, Dort Ruland, Barb Harding, Belinda Harding, Marilyn Kroft, Carole Frey, Billie Howe, Ruth Sands, Margie Chambers, Sarah Schramm.

Once a year, all the high school bands in the vicinity march down the streets of Athens to the stadium. They vary in more ways than one: the different colors, costumes and formations. And the organization responsible for the High School Band Day is Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary band sorority.

TAU BETA SIGMA

"Here comes the band!" Although we have heard these words again and again, there is still that lifting of the heart when we hear the music in the distance.

And as the band approaches and the music gets louder we are lifted into a world away from everyday life, the world of music. The band passes and the crowd seems to tremble with the sounds of the drums and the blaring of the trumpets. And today, there is the added attraction when the members of the band smoothly glide into formations as they play. It is a great feeling to see and hear them.

BETA ALPHA PSI

Experience and opportunity are valuable and Beta Alpha Psi, national accounting honorary, recognizes this fact. It provides its members with experience in speaking before groups and in writing and opportunity to meet, hear and talk with leaders in its fields. The most valuable opportunity is provided in field trips to various companies' accounting departments.

Management and labor, the problems are numerous and the Society for the Advancement of Management endeavors to stress the keynote of efficiency through discussion, research and other means. The student is also introduced to practical management through plant tours and conferences.

Society for the Advancement of Management

First row left to right: Joseph Benich, James McGirr, Gerald S. Watts, Robert Link, Ralph Gray, Kurt Stiebing, Judy Nelson, Second row: T. R. Barnhart, D. L. Klass, Kenneth Sullivan, Hayward Merrizz, Richard Dever, Richard O'Donnell, T. H. Heckelman, Don Price, Ned Sharp. Third row: Hilda James, E. T. Hellebrandt (Adviser), John M. Randall, Zeryl Ashcroft, Charles Burley, Jr., Nevin R. Williams, Frederick Hunkler, Wallace Rubick, C. B. Tanguy, Lee Paulson, F. M. Maerker. Fourth row: Bea Gordon, Darl Reynolds, M. W. Hill.

Progress is essential in today's world. And among the people who recognize it are those whose occupation is farming. These are the members of Alpha Omega Upsilon: they will either play an essential role in tomorrow's world by producing food or are in some way interested in agriculture.

Their activities vary, though, and one of them is a floral business. They brighten up Homecoming by selling mums to Mom.

In addition, they are kept busy in the various phases of farm life at the University farm.

ALPHA OMEGA UPSILON

DELTA SIGMA PI

The history of the world is reflected in the history of Delta Sigma Pi, professional commerce fraternity. It began before the depression but had to assume an inactive status during the dire period. It was reinstated after the war. But this isn't the way that it promotes a closer affiliation between the commercial world and the students of commerce. Field trips are made to factories and other mercantile institutions, thus promoting understanding of their field of endeavor.

Once upon a time—when history began—a woman made a move to better her position. Ever since then women have done the same. This organization is one of them. "A service club organized to further the interests of women in the business world," is what they tell us when we asked for their purpose. But these secretaries of the future do it thoroughly. This year they visited the Farm Bureau offices in Columbus and had a Secretary-for-a-Day program.

SECRETARIAL CLUB

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

Members of the Arnold Air Society will tell you—and the story needs repeating—that the Squadron is named after John P. Robbins. You see, Robbins is the first known Ohio University officer to be killed in World War II.

They maintain liaison with the Civil Air Patrol and other defense-planning organizations. The Squadron is also Headquarters for the second area of the national society.

Among their activities is the co-sponsorship of the Military Ball.

Seated: Paul G. McLaughlin (Area Commander, Colonel), James E. Hamer (Area Executive, Lieutenant Colonel). Standing: William E. Stone (Area Comptroller, Major), Jon Tipton (Area P. I. O., Major), James Maurer (Area Adjutant, Major).

COMMAND SQUADRON

Today men fly faster than sound. If you blink when a jet passes by, you're apt to miss seeing it. This in a way symbolizes progress in aviation. It is the most vital part of defense. Air Command Squadron realizes this and among the many activities in its program are trips to the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. It is one way in which it enables its members to keep up with new developments in aviation. Another way in which it does so is to invite prominent men in the field—the Civil Aeronautics Administration's District Representative and the Flight-Surgeon from Lockbourne AFB among others.

Lt. Richard Baker (P. I. O.), Lt. William Ulle (Pledge Officer), Lt. Dudley Kircher (Supply Officer), Capt. Gerald Warren (Commanding Officer), Lt. Rick Schwalm (Operations Officer), Lt. George Brehmer (Personnel Officer), Lt. Thredore Eckert (Adjutant).

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade, Company A-8—sounds just like the military. And, as in all strategic departments, these men realize that cooperation is essential. The old legend of there being a feud between the Army and the Air Force fades into insignificance with these men. Both Army and Air ROTC students belong to this organization.

Another phase of cooperation is found in the fact that Scabbard and Blade joins with other military organizations in presenting the Military Ball.

PERSHING RIFLES

The Pershing Rifles have been known on the campus for their "fancy stepping," but little do people know that hours of drill practice in the very early hours of the morning, when all the town is asleep, accounts for this. Imagine getting up before the dawn and drilling in the morning mists. Mary Gordon acted as co-ed sponsor for this crack drill team which also provides a color for the football games and takes an active part in the Military Ball.

ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY

Factories, homes, apartments, hotels—the list is endless which will really enumerate all the constructions that will come about because of the efforts of these architects. One of their forms of encouragement is to exhibit the work of the best student from each class. Field trips and speakers are included in their program.

These are Scribes in more ways than one: they are not the people of yesteryear when scribes sat at desks and copied mechanically; they are the scribes who will record events that make day-to-day history, whether it be headlines, the society page or a significant news-picture. And one way they learn is to invite speakers to meetings.

SCRIBES

First row left to right: Shirley Dobbs, Nancy Oliver, Diana Weeter, Joyce Galloway, Barbara Voros, Claudette Mohler. Second row: Diane Corcelli, Joan Harrison, Marilyn Ballas, Jill Sovilla, Sue Keller, Rosemarie Zoldak, Ilene Baskind, Donna Elsasser, Marianne Vendely. Third row: Dave Pratt, Sherwood Goldstein, Paul Efaw, Ray Crumbley, Karl Marchard, Allen Ebbers, Dick Graybill (President), Chuck Catalano, Glenn Himebaugh, Marv Waxman, Ralph Gordon, Jr., John A. Lent, Fred Yoder.

CHI RHO BETA

Members of Chi Rho Beta are frequently seen, but always heard. It is their voices that carry through the ether waves the happenings of the day or the entertainment that is ever welcome. They have been chosen because of their outstanding work in the radio field and their efforts play a vital part in the operation of the twin voices of Ohio University: WOUI and WOUI-AM.

If you ever see a person idly watching another and that person tells you that he is working, don't be puzzled. It is probably a Psi Chi really at work. This organization consists of psychology majors who have been outstanding in their field and their purpose is, quite appropriately, the furtherance of the study of psychology. After a lapse, it has now been reorganized.

PSI CHI

FOOTLIGHTERS

The curtain rises and the play begins. What the audience sees is the finished product. Those additional details and effort that make the play what it is escapes them. The play had actually begun a long time before the audience sees it. And it is the Footlighters who contribute these vital touches, behind stage and on stage: the lights, the sets, the make-up, the costumes. They are the service organization of the theatre and consist of people who have the warmth that show people are noted for.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE PLAYERS

For a few hours at a time, the world of reality is lost and the immediate world belongs to the people on the stage. They make you laugh and cry, dream and think, while they absorb you into a life they take part in creating. These are the members of the National Collegiate Players, the people who contributed toward making the Ohio University theatre one of the finest among the colleges in the country.

The Players are composed mostly of juniors and seniors who have fulfilled the prerequisite of spending their time on and off the stage and also of having a thorough knowledge of practically every phase of stage activities.

CAMERA CLUB

Whether the photographer says "Watch the birdie!" and snaps the shutter or remains unobtrusive while he gets some candid shots, he probably belongs to the Camera Club. The members are either interested in taking pictures or making photography a career.

Their program included displays, shows and contests. Students are familiar with many phases of this through their exhibitions and "Picture of the Week" displayed in the OU Center.

KAPPA ALPHA MU

A story in "Sports Illustrated" on the Powder Bowl . . . a movie which was shown on television . . . a picture story in a national publication . . . these are not mere dreams, but dreams come true for some of the members of Kappa Alpha Mu, national photojournalism honorary.

These are the people who have been tops in photography. Some of them revel over the aesthetic appeal of a picture and others quietly take pictures which win for them admiration. But whatever their approach, their pictures have much more than quality in them. In fact, they are compiling a portfolio of outstanding photographs which will act as a recommendation and perhaps a bright future.

ORCHESIS

Swirling through the space, dancing their way into the hearts of thousands, members of Orchesis have made a name for themselves. The applause that these girls receive during the shows are echoed in the praises they receive while the audience walks home. They felt the thrills of show business and the long rehearsals on the details of choreography were well paid for when, in addition to their fall and spring concerts and southern Ohio high schools tour, they played a major part in the Sesquicentennial Omnibus Show.

DELTA PHI DELTA

In a great many instances, services to the campus are little known and not appreciated. One of these is the making of posters by members of Delta Phi Delta, national art honorary. These are done gratis for any organization who can profit by them.

In addition to group discussions and speeches by faculty, Delta Phi Delta holds an annual exhibit of creative work done by its members.

Das (President), Clarence Parker, B. J. Studebaker, Mary Rita Taschetta, Hilda James, Mrs. B. A. Renkenberger, Aurora Delgado. Third row: Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. John McDowler, C. E. Kantner, Rosalyn Bastacky, Elena Abo, Y. J. Rhee, Jackie Bolen, Colette Couesnon, Nelly Rose Tellier, Michael Rowland, Elizabeth Brandt, Charles Brandt, Olga Mills, Kunio Sasaki, Carol Jo Colasurd, Edmund Hecht, Suzanne Chapman, Albert Chapman, Mahmut R. Iris.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

You do not have to spend money to learn about other parts of the world, you can do so by sitting in a chair and relaxing. These students from across the seas do the rest: they show movies, slides, talk about their native country, dance, sing and play the musical instruments they brought from home. Then, one evening, the American students gave a program, thus acquainting the international students with the many phases of life in the United States.

First row left to right: George Tonaki, Ralph Kendricks, Alfonso Abrenica, Gatha Hargis, Jose Preciado, Greta Young, Farid Malouf, Ruth Gilbert, John May, Mal Ralles, Jackie Bolen. Oliveira, Janet Wassum, Evangelos Kofou, Ingrida Fedoravicius, Frances Hepburn. Third row: Hubertus Weinitschke, Lewis Cook, Humberto Jimenez, Victor Zwelling, Omar Belkora, Joseph Wijtyk, Adam A. Shirey, Bruce Abramson, Peggy Raub, In Mook Lee, Mani Bloch, Barb Harding, Belinda Harding, Randi Skoien, Joseph Paternost, Carl L. Harris.

GERMAN CLUB

Although members of the German Club speak English, even during their meetings, their main objective is a fluent use of the language. One way in which this is done is through the help of students from German-speaking areas in Europe. Another is the playing of records, movies, etc. A look at their faces will tell you it's fun.

There are a great many words as to the purpose of Kappa Delta Pi, but in a capsule it is an education honorary which encourages high standards in its field. One way in which they do this is by the awarding of the McCracken Scholarship to an outstanding and deserving student each year. Their informal meetings are in the form of coffee hours.

KAPPA DELTA PI

MEN'S INDEPENDENT ASSOCIATION

The problem of getting rides and riders during vacation time is a big one and it is the MIA Student Travel Service that helps facilitate contact with one another. They are also the sponsors of the MIA movies, the proceeds of which go toward various OU funds. Meetings are often held with co-organization WIA and they both get together in sponsoring the Cinderella Ball.

WOMEN'S INDEPENDENT ASSOCIATION

The shoes do not have to necessarily fit Cindy at the WIA Cindrella Ball; she just has to be lucky. And if she is, there are a lot of gifts waiting for her from stores in Athens. But, unlike Cindrella, she does not have to return from the ball by midnight. She has late permission.

Although the most important, the Cindrella Ball is only one special activity in the schedule of WIA. There are a number of others—a picnic, the MIA Sweetheart Dance, parties, etc.—that provide the independent woman with recreation.

Alpha Phi Omega is a service fraternity in every sense of the word. These men have assisted in both the Ohio University History Tests and the State Scholarship Tests. They lead the Blood Donors drive, usher at concerts like the Fred Waring Concert.

This is a life-size version of the "Deed-a-Day" boy scout services because these men are former boy scouts dedicated to serving God, country and fellow man and, on the campus, student body, faculty and the community.

Robert Cohen, President

CHILDHOOD EDUCATION CLUB

Psychologists will tell you that what happens to a person during his childhood has its consequences in later life. As a result, a teacher assumes a very responsible position in the community. Members of the Childhood Education Club realize this as one of their objectives is to promote better educational and social opportunities for children everywhere.

Their preparation today takes the form of exchanging ideas and experiences and making social contacts. They meet and discuss and listen so that they may enjoy professional fellowship.

However, no organization can exist without funds and CEC listed as one of its annual activities a money making project. This is as wise a start as any in all phases of life, including the educational.

Future Teachers of America

Future teachers or teachers of tomorrow—say it in any form, they are students of today who might be teaching your children in the coming years. Apart from student teaching, these teachers-to-be gain practical experience by grading papers for the south-eastern Ohio district scholarship papers. They also help sponsor the Ohio History Day.

It is usually people that make history, but here history has made these people . . . into Phi Alpha Thetas. This is a national history honorary which recognizes outstanding history majors. In turn, they recognize history as a dynamic force and discuss the past as a perspective and insight into what is happening today.

CLASS OFFICERS

In June and on the eve of graduation, the senior class officers arrange a program for seniors and their guests. These officers were elected together with others soon after the school year began. Speeches were made, the publicity campaigns were vigorous and even the press raved. Then the officers were elected . . . and the tumult died down.

The class officers this year sponsored the President's Ball, a combination dance, fancy dress party and music fest.

Junior Class: Sitting, Fran Rogers, Suzie Seigfred, Claryce Hunter, Hedy Henss, Shirley Blazina, Mary Ann Clark. Standing, Bill Griffin, Larry Harper, Chuck Skipper (President), Bill Tesmer.

Freshman Class: Sitting, Mary Alice Wolfe, Barbie Nellis, Betsy Ross. Standing, Ralph Marlatt, Virginia Rine, Jed Taylor (President).

THE DIVERSIFIED GREEKS

Athens, Greece and Athens, Ohio—there is a similarity, only the times have changed. There are the streets with millings and hurrying. There is the shouting and mumblings at intersections of commerce and thought and art. And there are the Greeks. Only, here the Greeks are different.

The Greeks here belong to the fraternal orders with what seems to be the exotic and mystic. The mysteries that surround the fraternities are provided by the flaming torches and the initiation rites. Everything else is the usual. They live in homes. Everyone is everyone else's brother . . . or sister.

Their aim is high. Scholarship, brotherhood, recreation, future bonds. They seek to achieve their aims in different ways, individually and collectively.

But they have their fun, too, when they forgot the outside world and create one of their own during their many colorful parties. They dress in fancy clothes and spend a playful evening, portraying the characters they represent.

In a word, their main objective is happiness while they are here and a seeking for the life they are to lead when they go out into their respective worlds.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The torch is lit, the chariots roll and there is gaiety in the air. It is Greek Week, sponsored by the Interfraternity Council. And at the end of the week is the IFC-Pan Hel dance.

There is the other side of IFC that the campus sees very little of, but hears a lot about; the handling of fraternity affairs. Rushing, conduct, etc. IFC acts as the coordinating group.

PAN HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan Hellenic Council functions as a balance to maintain a high plane in fraternity life and interfraternity relationships. Their job is to cooperate with college officials in their effort to maintain high social and scholarship standards.

Philanthropy as well as social life are a part of their work. This year they sponsored jointly with I.F.C., a concert featuring Woody Herman for the Sesquicentennial scholarship fund. The adoption and care of a Korean child was only a small part of their work

Another AD Pi has been crowned Queen!

These girls have progressed. Within the span of three years, they formed a new organization, Alpha Theta, succeeded in making it a full fledged sorority and are now affiliated with a national fraternal order, Kappa Delta. In doing so, they proved the falseness of superstition; the original number of members was 13.

One factor in their favor was that the purpose of both the local chapter and the national organization coincided. They are dedicated to friendship, scholarship and social interests.

Philanthropy is one of their purposes and the local girls find it a pleasure to help girl orphans from the Children's Home. Among their activities was included a Founder's Day Banquet, a Winter Formal and a Mother's Day Banquet.

"Go, Fuzzies, go!!"

And did they ever!

For the first time in the history of the annual Powder Bowl game, the Alpha Xi's beat the Pi Phi's . . . and beat the dread foe, cancer, at the same time, for the proceeds of the yearly female football game go to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

The only touchdown of the widely-publicized event was made by Barb Watson.

Another important event of the Alpha Xi's was the annual winter formal which was held at the Athens Armory.

CHI OMEGA

The Chi O Art Festival serves a double purpose. Not only does it stimulate interest in art, but the proceeds go toward a scholarship for an Athens County student interested in art.

The Chi O's also sponsor a faculty tea which in itself is unique. While they are among the outstanding students on the campus—and the winning of the sorority scholarship plaque is proof of this—the girls have a well-planned social program which includes, in addition to the winter and spring formals, a barn party which is held in the Chi O garage.

PHI MU

Did you see a little lamb heading for Court Street early in the fall? Well, it was like this: the Phi Mus decided to use one for their rushing party and while the girls were putting talcum powder on it, it got away. Fortunately, they caught it before any damage was done. Thus began another year for the Phi Mus, a year which included a Christmas party with alumnae, a baseball game with the Phi Kappa Epsilon fraternity, formals and a Mother's Pin Ceremony at which pins were presented to the mothers.

Do, re, mi—the Pi Phis have turned musical! A quartette, "Four Arrows," made its debut this year and was a featured act at various campus events.

As athletes, the Pi Phis are no dubs either. They play in the annual Powder Bowl football game for the benefit of the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

Fall and spring formals, parties, exchange dinners, and teas make up the social life of the chapter.

Pi Phis can also claim the distinction of being the oldest national sorority on campus.

SIGMA KAPPA

The cherished dream of the OU Sigma Kappas came true this year in the form of a new house, entirely redecorated and complete with a basement for parties.

Among their projects for the year were a children's party at Christmas, held jointly with the Betas, and another for the old people of Athens in connection with their national gerontology program

Highlighting the last months of school was the annual formal, "Breath of Spring."

Though dancing at their Stardust Formal was a highlight of the Zeta social calendar this year, it was only one of many varied activities. A pajama party for the whole chapter was a popular event on the group's schedule.

Cooperating with the Easter Seal Society, the Zetas published a Cerebral Palsy Equipment Manual, first of its kind, which proved to benefit crippled children in forty-one countries.

When Acacia went caroling during Christmas, they decided to carry an organ with them and did so. When they had their Nautical Party, they had the entire house rigged up like a ship, complete with gang-plank, fishing nets, a radio room and the members dressed up like sailors.

On the other hand, they sponsor the Athens County Junior Olympics, providing trophies to the winners. They also helped a needy family during Christmas.

It was their float, the Sesqui Queen, that sailed down Homecoming Parade and took the winning prize. Their activities included among others a White Christmas (Winter) Formal, Roman Togar, Apache and Hobo Parties.

A small peephole slides open. A voice from inside snarls,
"Whaddya want?"

Comes the reply, "Joe sent me."

The door swings open, revealing a dimly lit room.

Several couples are seated around the small table. A lively tune bursts from the jukebox.

The speakeasy era lives again in the form of an Alpha Kappa
Lambda party.

Besides the speakeasy party, the AKL's had several record dances and stag parties. Their Halloween and Night Club parties are annual affairs.

"You're all wet" may be more than just an expression for the members who become pinned or engaged as he emerges from a midnight dunking in a local pond after announcing the news. But the soaking is just another Chi Delta Tau tradition.

1954-55 was the second year of existence for the youngest social fraternity on campus. Its growth in participation in campus activities can be seen in its gala Christmas Party, complete with red and white striped pajamas as favors, its dance after each home basketball game, its spring formal held in conjunction with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and its second annual Founders Day Dinner.

The members have found that for day-to-day enjoyment, they can't beat the many friendly and humorous arguments after meals.

The circus has come to town! At least, it's come to the Delt house every October for the annual Circus Party when dates are picked up in gay circus wagons and all attendants represent the Big Top in costumes and mood. Then in February the living room becomes a desert isle as the yearly Shipwreck Party progresses.

All is not social with the Delts, however, for five campus presidents and two vice-presidents are members of the fraternity this year.

Besides this annual event, which features a jazz combo as entertainment from afternoon till midnight, the Phi Delt's Cape Cod and Apache parties are yearly affairs. Another feature of this year's social calendar was the Pin-Up Party when Jan Davis of ZTA was chosen the "girl with the most beautiful legs on campus."

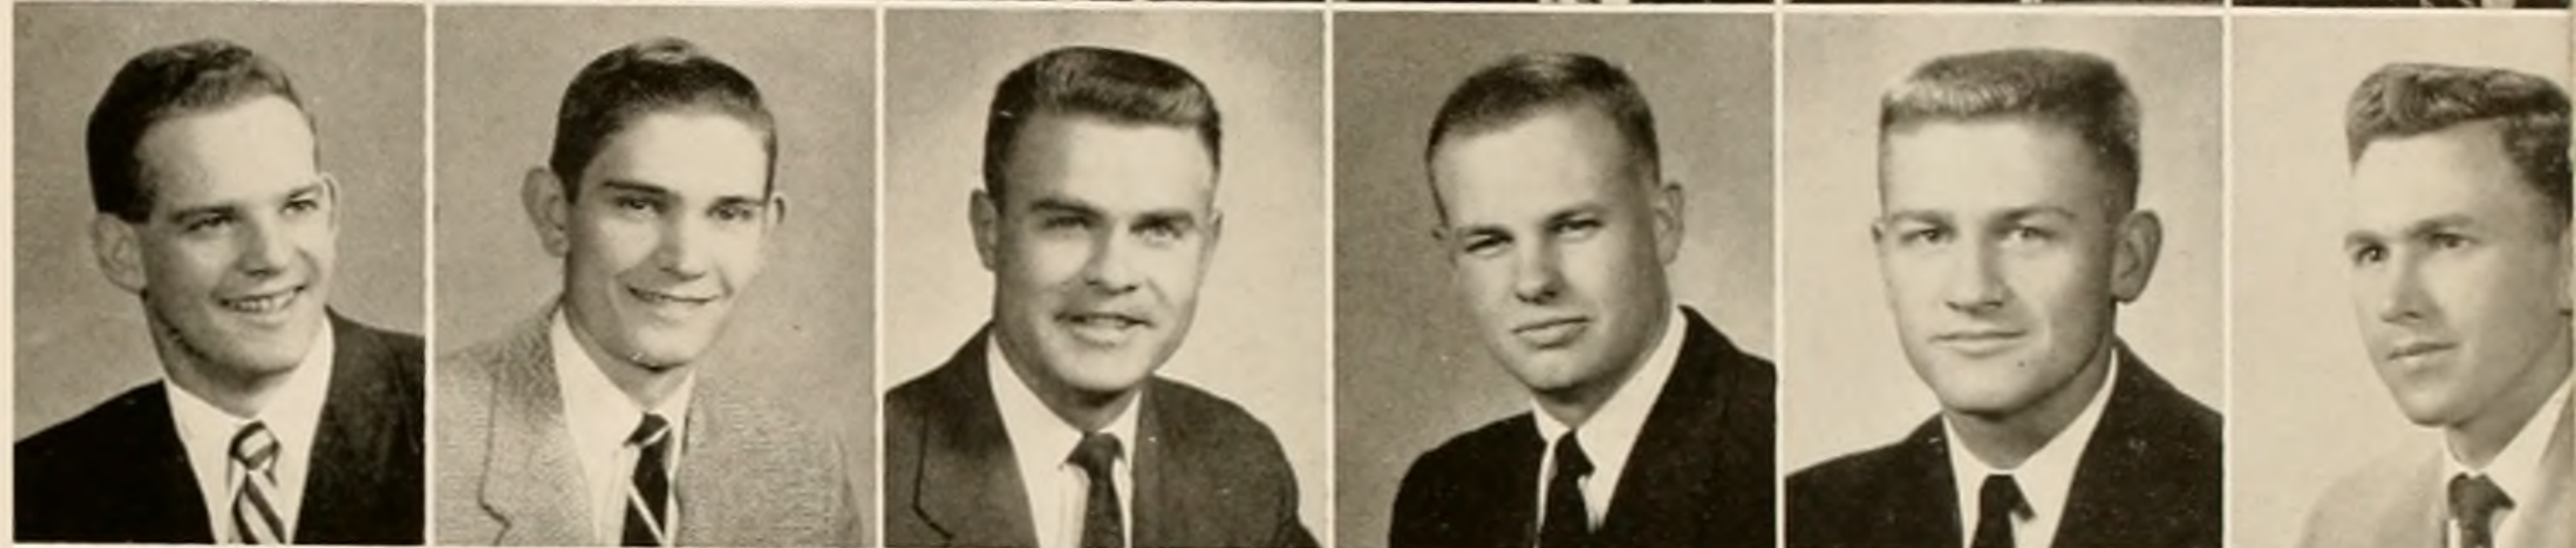

Phi Delt Follies and the She Delta Theta pledging and initiation climaxed a fun-filled year for the group.

Favors for Phi Ep dates are always something special, according to the girls who have the chance to receive them. Take the red and white striped nightshirts and caps which were given to the guests at the annual Jack Frost Frolics, for instance!

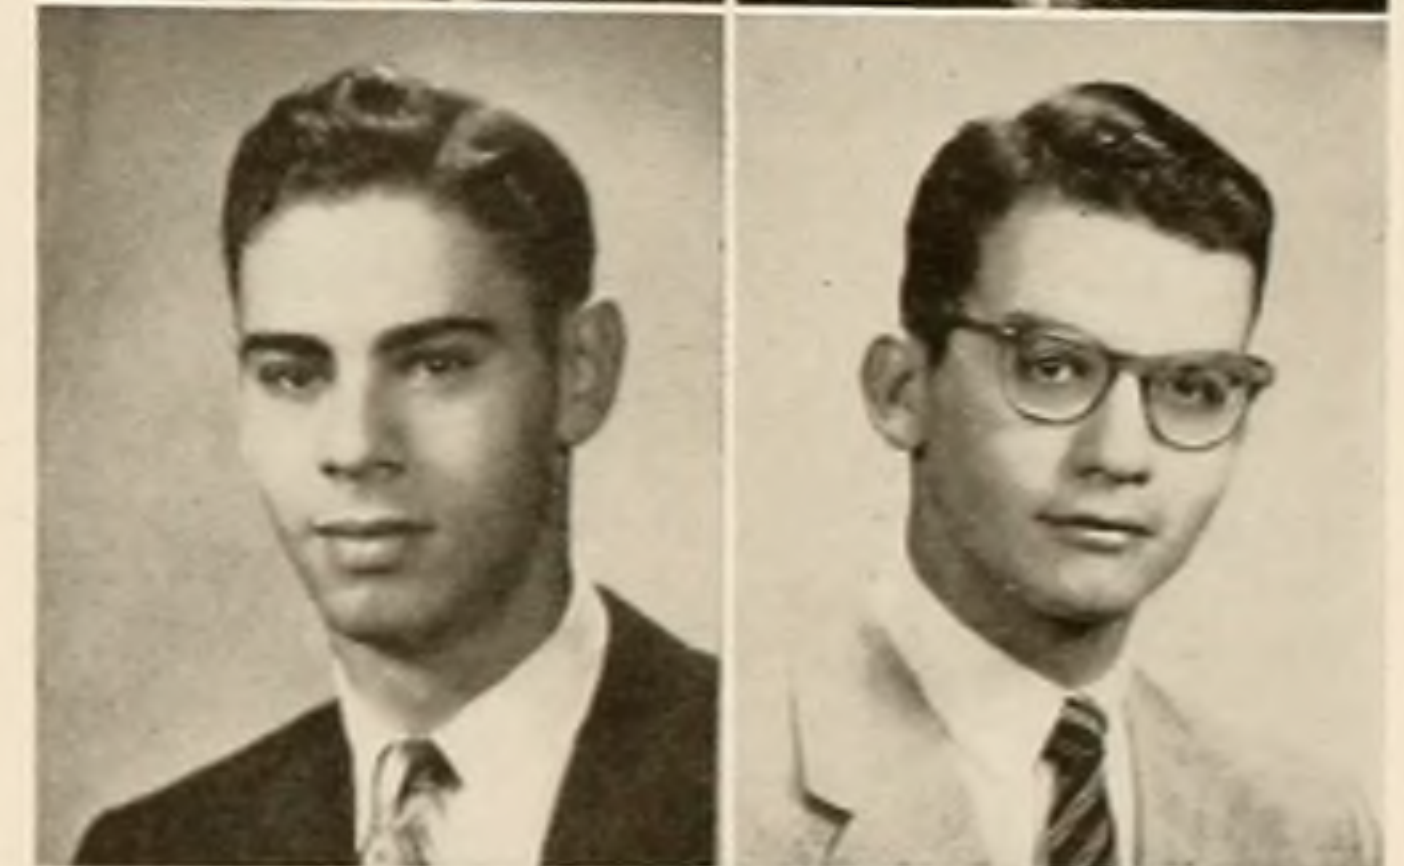

Other parties of the year featured themes of "Luxury Liner," "Mardi Gras," and "Gay Nineties."

The annual spring formal at the Berry Hotel rounded out the social calendar for the Phi Eps this year.

Notorious for their gambling activities and noted for their acts of charity, the Phi Kaps represent a curious mixture of good and evil! To represent the former, the annual Monte Carlo Party, where patrons won prizes as valuable as automobiles, was held in the house, decorated like a real casino. Fortunately, the gambling was done with fake money!

But the acts of charity were real. For example, in December a neighborhood Christmas party for 75 children was held and a bonafide Santa Claus distributed gifts to all.

Winter and Spring formals and many parties added spice to the year's schedule.

Chartered only one year ago, the "Skulls" represent the youngest national chapter on campus, but their activities promise to become annual institutions.

Phi Kappa Sigma has left an impression on OU life with its Black and Gold Formal, its softball game with the Phi Mus, and its active-pledge football game, the "Little Brown Jug."

Comedians had their field day at the house in the Personality Party. Drawing names, the men presented gifts which suited the personality of the recipient. The biggest event of the year was the tri-chapter get-together with Ohio State and Kenyon chapters.

One evening during the winter, the Athens Eagles Hall was raided by an exuberant bunch of hillbillies, clad in denims, plaid shirts and straw hats. It was Phi Kappa Tau's annual Hillbilly Hobble, a party which has become a tradition for that fraternity.

Also high on the list of yearly events was the annual Founder's Day Banquet on March 17. This year the chapter celebrated its forty-fifth year on campus.

The Dream Girl Formal in June helps to lighten the tension surrounding preparations for finals.

Three hundred pounds of confetti as well as countless favors and decorations made the annual Sig Carnival a real "Jungle Jump" this year, with Chuz Alfred's combo providing the proper atmosphere. Besides this undertaking, other social events on the Sig schedule were Triad Formal, "On the Waterfront" party, and Sweetheart Formal, when a sweetheart for the chapter was chosen from pinned girls.

It was not all play but no work for the Sigs. Not only did they capture intramural football and basketball championships, but they earned $165 for CARE through their annual Work Day in December.

It's Mardi Gras time in Athens!

Taking as their theme the annual New Orleans gala affair, the Theta Chis throw a party every February, with a whole weekend devoted to the celebration, complete with everything from a jazz session to a riotous party at the Armory.

Most important of the fraternity's activities is the sponsorship of the annual Powder Bowl, football game between Alpha Xi and Pi Phi sororities, whose proceeds go to the cancer fund.

Highlights on the social calendar were the winter and spring formals, the Prison Party, and the Hawaiian Party.

Theta Chi's local chapter, Alpha Tau, observed its thirtieth anniversary on May 9.

For almost a year, the work goes on. Pictures are taken, processed and the final prints sent in to the engravers. The artists work on designing a cover, and drawing art-spots. Each individual department seems to be working on its own, independent of the other. Some of the work seems to be of no consequence.

Then, gradually, the proofs begin coming in from the printers. The yearbook is taking shape and all the work that went into it assumes a tangible form. Eventually—and it seems a long time after the work was begun—the finished product is delivered to the offices. The 1955 Athena. This is it, and it's yours.

It is when the lights stay on all night and the aspirin, coffee and cigarette consumption runs high that the copy is being written. Sometimes the copy is that which describes the many phases of the yearbook and sometimes it is of advertising. Both ended up on the same desk, but eventually everything turned out fine.

An f.2 long focus, a wide angle. Actinic and non-actinic light. Soup and hypo. Low key and high key (the latter more likely being the nerves). All this sounds like some strange formula. It has been used often by the photographers. But there is more to it than just this. Besides other such formulas, there is feeling and creativity. And ultimately, you have the photographs that make up this yearbook.

The shooting of the pictures itself requires great skill. An equal amount of ability is required in the darkroom, where the production of the photographs is finalized.

It takes a great team to achieve a pictorial record of a phase in people's lives. And this that great team.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The editors of the 1955 Athena extend their grateful appreciation to their advisors, A. T. Turnbull, Clarence White, and Charles Smith, to their staffs, to the Ohio University Post, and to the Ohio University administration, faculty, staff and students, for their generous assistance in the production of this yearbook.

And, in addition to the persons pictured on the Athena staffs, the editors are grateful to Joyce Heller, Penny Harness and Libbie Cline, for copy work, and to Jean Hartman, Marlene Sabec, Phyllis Sielatycki, Martha Richards, Kay Mercer, Peggy Beresford and Martha Wamsley, for secretarial work.
